Preface by Author

What is ONENESS? And why in these rapidly last moving end times—the days, weeks and months remaining of our year 2012 on Earth—that knowing, understanding and living daily with the knowledge of our complete ONENESS with one another so vitally important to each and all of us on Earth?

In Chapter 32 of this volume, I address the clearly related, mighty important subject of our individual and collective mass human body and spirit Ascension of those who choose to Ascend—without experiencing physical body death.

The subject of the ONENESS of all that is is not complex, but rather simple and easy to understand. I intend to use plain talk to present what I personally KNOW about ONENESS in this volume so even a young child can understand it. So be it.

Back in the late 1930s, my older brother Richard had taught me that every object or physical form—seeming so solid—including our own human bodies was made from light.

Later, at age 18, when my body literally died, the concept and full knowing of ONENESS of All That Is was forever indelibly imprinted on my mind and my brain in my newly fully rejuvenated, revitalized, robust, very healthy, very much alive physical body.

Known as the “MYSTERIES,” the arcane body of ancient spiritual knowledge, gathered and preserved over endless time, was patiently and lovingly taught by Adepts and Masters of Wisdom of LIFE Science to select initiates dedicated to learning and studying the grand spiritual knowledge of ONENESS.

Up through the ages, the MYSTERIES were secretly taught by word of mouth to a student or a very select small group of “chelas” of the Ascended Masters who fully understood LIFE Science and practiced living the sacred truth of ONENESS.

Over the ages, here and there, students of mundane physical science earnestly seeking the “Secret to Life” in our current 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st centuries, began to gain momentum toward their collective desire and goal with the beginning of our Industrial Age.

Soon a wider range of thinking–from the perspective of the WHOLE to the part–introduced a broader range of LIFE Science to investigative scientists in the mundane 3-D world of FORM Science, bringing all of collective Earth Humanity one more huge step closer to knowing, understanding and living ONENESS.

More and more spiritually awakened very bright 20th and 21st Century inventors, scientists and philosophers like Nicolas Tesla, Wilhelm Reich, Walter Russell, and today’s bright lights, Patrick Flanagan, Keshe, etc. gradually and intuitively moved closer and closer to the concept of a “Unified Field” within and behind what has been learned or known and recorded as the Prime Source of all CREATION.

Professor Einstein finally conceived of and introduced the idea of a “Unified Field” to the world of mundane, physical or ‘temporal form’ science on Earth.
Soon many more bright new young scientists were addressing the concept of a “Zero Point” source field of creation, or of ‘quantum mechanics’ and many far deeper, broader, higher insights into space-time versus time-space and the various interrelated levels of dimensions of various vibrational “realities” within, above, or parallel to our solid seeming physical 3-D daily, vividly aware human life consciousness ‘reality’ experiences.

However, all through this vast passage of time, the collective mass of human consciousness of the now so many billions of sacred humanly embodied souls on Earth has had no understanding—or even a vague interest—in the idea or concept of sacred ONENESS unless this or that individual had AWAKENED.

Obviously, since you are engaged in reading this text you are at a juncture where you seek understanding. Maybe like me after my death experience at age 18 you too hunger and thirst for a greater understanding of ONENESS.

Ask and you are given! Be blessed for in so doing and being you do bless all others not only on Earth but throughout all CREATION.

Please share this knowledge freely and widely.

Bless us all.

WE are ONE. I am—in ONENESS—your forever loving brother and humanly embodied friend, Russ Michael.
Preface by Chief Editor

Russ Michael is my Master Mentor, so I asked to write this preface to attest to the knowledge imparted in all of his books. (This is my claim to him, not his to me [GRIN].)

To edit means I must truly understand the author's message. In the case of Russ Michael, this has meant many occasions of major shifts in my own vibration. I had to shift to open more channels to Spirit to gain a clear understanding of the deeper meanings of his words. Like all profound truths, the concept is simple, the application of the concept is easy, yet the results of the concept are profound.

His vast knowledge and deep understanding of the metaphysical is married to his equally deep urge to share his knowledge, to help awaken all of humanity. His path is clear. If you let him, he will show you how to find your own path.

Do you want to know how to apply the Universal Laws? Read There Is NOTHING You Cannot BE, DO or HAVE.

Are you up for a great action-adventure story? Read his Autobiography of an Initiate.

Russ Michael's vibrant health is an inspiration as well. He readily shares how to meditate (his first published book), how to maintain an alkaline body and has also written two books (GOD and Miracle Health, Parts 1 and 2) to share with us all excellent health products, as well as how to use them and how to obtain them.

Here, Russ Michael has compiled an incredible number of channelings and other information from the incredible light workers he has shared through the years in his daily emailed newsletter.

This book will inspire, uplift and show you how to ready yourself for the Ascension, and to help your loved ones ascend with you.

Thank you, Russ Michael. It is my privilege and honor to be your chief editor.

Chapter 1

The ONENESS of All That Is

In Chapter 2, I will explain what I knew and carried back into my consciousness when I died at age 18. Our One Prime Creator of All that is, that most of us on Earth address as GOD, spoke to me face-to-face from the bright, snow-white Light of ONENESS, saying with much love, “We are One. I am you and you are me! You are me and I am you.”

However, first to your great benefit, I am introducing you to another sacred, very loving Divine Aspect, now in middle-age human female form. A truly steadfast pure soul Messenger of God on Earth in our 21st Century named Gloria Wendroff.

Her Heavenletters™, transmitted as “GOD speaks” directly to and through her open telepathic heart-mind, body-soul being will enlighten you far more than I am humanly capable of doing at this date.

Please read and enjoy with your heart and mind as the purity, truth and brilliant communication, explaining complex concepts in a simple style that obviously only our One GOD of Creation knows how to communicate. Heavenletters™ is posted to readers worldwide in more than a dozen major languages through her own daily Heavenletters™ email, and are read and appreciate daily via my FREE daily email “Message from Michael Worldwide News Letter” that is posted to more than 3,000 long-time awakened subscriber Lightworker souls.
Gloria’s Heavenletters™ also appear in countless other Lightworker newsletters and websites in many languages of the world, as well as in many of my books and in books of other authors worldwide.

Please think this through. Ponder and appreciate what Gloria has done and is doing daily every day!

Dear ever-loving, ever-giving, Gloria has never missed a single day, rain or shine, ill or in well-being, anywhere in the world, for more than 10 years as of this writing to sit quietly, open her heart and mind, and receive a GOD-letter. A word pure, sentence pure, direct telepathic communication from GOD, aptly named a HEAVENLETTER. Gloria also conducts workshops around Earth and teaches others how to Godwrite, as well.

Obviously, if you think it through, God has spoken to his human family on Earth not only before and after recorded biblical days every day, right up to these end times in our year 2012. God has spoken and speaks not only to countless messengers and prophets of old biblical times; not just to Enoch, Samuel, Moses, Daniel, Jesus of time past, but now every day of “The Eternal Now.”

Gloria, whom I love and know personally, freely passes on this gracious GIFT every day to anyone on Earth who wishes to be blessed by reading these daily communications from our One God of Creation.
Heavenletters™, bringing Earth closer to Heaven. HEAVEN is here to reach every soul on earth to reawaken:
* our connection to God *
* our belief in ourselves *
* our awareness of our shared worthiness to God *
* Peace on Earth * God is always bringing us closer to Him.

A Cast of Thousands

God said:

Whether you recognize or absorb this truth, I AM you, and you are I. Our Oneness is not a choice you make. From the beginning, you and I are One. The most you can seek is for the awareness of this Eternal Truth. Awareness and Oneness are two different things, even though, in Oneness, there is no difference. Nothing but Oneness is. You cannot claim Oneness. You are Oneness. Oneness is a pronoun without antecedent. Oneness can only be One. Therefore, Oneness has no example. Oneness is its One Self. The sun shines on itself. The Glory of God is walking in the world.

Whatever the scene is before you, whether it is city lights or a pastoral scene, you paint it. You create it. You project yourself. You project yourself everywhere. There is only Oneness, and yet you project Oneness in a myriad of ways, and, yet, you are Oneness and nothing else but Oneness. Light is light. You are the Light of the World at the same time as you are a Flame in Heaven.
It has been said that there is nothing new under the Sun. This is true, yet, at the same time, the Sun, Its Old Self, is always new. New. A-new. No shadow falls. Newness arises. You come fresh each day from a Fountain of Love. There is nothing fancy about this. This is simplicity itself. Simplicity is Oneness. Oneness has no frills. And, yet, Oneness seems to represent itself in a myriad of ways. Oneness is Oneness, and yet it seems diverse. Behind the scenes, Oneness is not a symbol of Oneness. It is Oneness, pure and simple. Oneness does not hand out samples. It hands out love.

In Oneness, We, you and I, share One Heart. How fine that is. It is Love. It is Love Without Trying.

In Truth, there are only beautiful moments in life. In your life. How can it be otherwise when you and I are One? Diversion is fantasy. Life in the world is a fantasy. Roles are played. Characters are cast, and, yet, no matter what, Oneness Is.

Hooray for Oneness, and hooray for its representations. What is is. What is not is not. Oneness Alone Is.

And, yet, in life in the world, you come to peace with multiplicity. You watch the movie in 3-D. And, yet, there is One Reel running. Whatever the pictures on the screen, whatever movie is playing, whatever title it carries, there is the One Screen upon which your eyes play tricks. You look for news, beloveds. You look for a digest. You play for high stakes when, all the while, nothing is at stake. Or, We could say that folly is at stake. Life is not at stake, for life is Infinite and you are life and you are infinite.

You play hide-go-seek when there is nothing hidden. There is, however, for a moment, eyes averted, eyes that fool themselves that they are other than Oneness, that they see out when there is only within.

There is no other. Oneness is not in parts. The Self is the Self, and there is One Self. Therefore, there is you and I – there is I. You and I are One. Oneness exists. Plurality is play on life. Life goes on stage, and a production is made. Oneness is a playwright and writes scripts and acts in them. Seeming others watch them play-acting. The stories are told and retold, and yet there is not story, unless you call Oneness a story. Oneness is singular. Oneness cannot be grasped in two hands. Oneness can only be Oneness. Long live Oneness. There is nothing else. In Oneness, there is no splitting of the heart. There is One Heart, and it is Mine, and there is no you for Oneness to be. Oneness is greater than a cast of thousands or trillions. Oneness, Oneness, Oneness.

Wake Up, Sleeping Beauty

God said:
You are on the verge of a blast of golden light on Earth. The whole configuration of life on Earth is about to take on new light. You will shake with delight. You will be overcome with wondrousness.

You will roll over laughing in joy. Joy is almost upon you. It is yours, and it is for you. This joy will straighten your spine. It will unearth tremendous energy from you. A new day is right before you.

A new you is right before you. Not really a new you. More like a latent you rising to the surface. The depths of you are rising up like a huge Tsunami wave. The sun of your heart is going to burst forth into the sunshine of your soul.

Your heart is going to leap across the horizon. Heaven will be more clear to you. The Kingdom of Heaven will be upon you. You will leave off whatever has kept you back from this bright sunshine because the sunshine has been of you and for you all this time.

What you have been waiting for is imminent. It will take over. Blemishes to joy of life will disappear. You are coming to an oasis of love and life far beyond your tremulous dreams.

What occurs will not be momentous. Your own momentum is rising, that’s what it is. As you rise, the whole Universe rises, and, beloveds, you will be risen.

Bright light is upon you. Delight is upon you. All your desires are coming home to roost.

There is an internal light going on, and that light will surface. Your light will be clear to you. The light of others will also shine on you. All will be light. All will be lighted.

It has been, in Earth terms, a long time coming into your view. And, yet, it has always been.

You are going to see farther, and you are going to see nearer. You are going to see. Joy is going to loom and cover the face of the Earth. Grass will become greener. The night sky will be clear and reveal the stars with a clarity that will fill your heart. Be sure to be looking up at the stars. Stars are above, and you are going to be above however you have heretofore seen yourself.

Limits you have set will disappear.

It is like you are going to go into a changing room, and when you come out, you are changed. Everything is changed. Everything depends on you, and you will be depended on, and you will shine with the light you were always meant to shine in.

When you step out of this changing room, you will see everything, every bit of everything, in a new light. The light that will come out comes from within you. You will have promoted yourself from small things, not into Great Things, but into Greatness!

Greatness will have a new meaning for you. Simplicity will have a new meaning for you. You will be a new meaning to yourself and to the world. As you wake up to your illustriousness, so will the world wake up to its illustriousness.

Wake up, Sleeping Beauty, your time has come.
Beloved surfers, just as when you surf in the Ocean, you know how to catch the wave and ride on it, you are going to be a natural at surfing the waves of life and riding on them more and more and faster and faster.

Cinderella, a pumpkin is going to change into a coach for you.

Prince Charming, you are ready to announce yourself and recognize yourself (ONENESS) in everyone. Your day has come. Your night has come.

All will be as I say. All will be as I see. And you will see.

Chapter 2

No TWO Living Beings in All of CREATION

In genuine reality, there never has been “someone” else or any one person or group, place, thing, or event apart from the ONENESS, regardless of the now current 3-D linear time perspective we perceive.

There never was, is, or ever will be any real separation within ONENESS.
No TWO living beings in all of CREATION are ever truly separated by time, space or the light speed of thought, not even by the illusion of death.

There is no death. You or I are by nature, heirs to Immortality, to Eternal Life, for death cannot and do not exist in ONENESS.

The perception of an ‘other’—of two-ness—is simply that, a 3-D imagination, an illusion of mind.

Following is an excerpt from a recent Heavenletter™:

HEAVENLETTER  #4357
In Eternity, there is no hurry. You are already here. There is no rush. You are Home. You never left. That can only be imagined. You entered a fairy tale, and yet you never left the Heaven that is your True Home. To be at peace is to be at home. Although the ending to life is foretold, there is no ending. There is Life Eternal. You are far more than the situations you find yourself in. You are far more than any fear you have. Earth life is temporary. The body is temporary, yet you are not temporary. Birth and death, no matter how nice or not nice, are illusions, illusions in a blink of an eye. Illusions last only for a short time. Truth doesn’t change. That’s a fact. The Great Unknown is always greater than the supposed known.

You are a human being right now. You are not forever as a human being in this skin you wear, yet the being of you continues and never stops, never pauses, never ends. The Being of you never was not, and it is always. You are Eternal. There is a Forever. Forever is not a contract. It is a given.

You have been given Eternal Life. It cannot stray. It can not be taken away. It cannot be lost.

It can be said that you are a miracle. And, yet, you are an Everyday Miracle. It can be said that there is only miracle. That approaches the Truth. Truth is what you want. You want to know Truth. So long as there is a subject and an object, your recognition of Truth is blurry. When there is no object, when there is subject alone, that is when you know Oneness and know only Oneness. …

Chapter 3

The Law of ONE

There is only One Prime Creator GOD–the ONENESS of All That Is that eternally presides over and keeps perfect order over all that exists, over all life forms, over all that is seen and unseen in all CREATION.

CREATION was, is and forever will be an eternal and infinite ongoing expansion or extension of ONENESS.

GOD is All That Is.

That GOD, what we on Earth currently understand as the ONENESS of All That Is, may well be best understood in a lovely story I read with great delight several years ago.

Indigos, Crystals, the “New Indigos” are some of the terms given to amazing new children being born all over the world these past several generations.

These children have a genius I.Q., demonstrate telekinesis, mind over matter, telepathy, miracle healings and more. You can search the internet and find reams of data about them.

Here is the delightful, insightful story:

A new pastor of a little church in a small rural area was lost and encountered a 9-year-old Indigo boy on the street.

He introduced himself as the new pastor of the church. He told the boy he was lost and asked for directions to the church. He invited the boy to come to his sermon an hour later, stating that if he would come and listen to his sermon he would learn how he could go to Heaven.

The little Indigo boy grinned and replied as politely as possible, “How are you going to direct me to Heaven when you can’t even find your OWN way to the church in this little town?”

The new Pastor, who had never learned of or encountered the new generation of Indigo children, was startled.

However, he recovered his composure. He thought for a moment, reached into his wallet and pulled out a dollar bill. Waving the dollar bill in front of the boy’s face, he stated, “Son, I really would like to introduce you to GOD, and if you will attend my sermon this morning to learn all about GOD, I will, but if you can tell me right now what GOD is, I will give you this new dollar bill right now!”

Quick as a flash, the little Indigo boy smiled and reached deep into his pocket. He pulled out a five dollar bill his mom had given him to buy groceries and waved it at the new town pastor.

“Sir, if you can tell me what GOD is NOT, I will give you this five dollar bill right NOW.”

The point emphasized by this story is ONENESS is alive and ruling All That Is by the first Law in Creation, the Law of One.

In the following chapters you will learn of several other powerful Laws of Creation such as the universal “Law of Attraction” (like always attract like).

Be assured in your ability to understand any spiritual subject or Law of Creation addressed in any chapter of this book.

Be likewise assured that every known Law of Nature is simple to understand. In due time and thoughtful inspection it will make perfect sense to you if you reserve judgment.

Keep your mind open, and trust that any part of what you read that does not seem to yet make absolute sense soon will clearly understood, especially as you understand the need and value of learning to think from the WHOLE to the PART.
In due time, as you ponder former major mysteries of life and ‘All That Is’ you will be thrilled and amazed at how all that is perceived and known in our individual and collective ONENESS fits together so simply and so perfectly.

“You must apply yourself to whatever your understanding is of being at One with all life, without exception”. –SaLuSa – Oct. 8, 2012–

Chapter 4
You Are an Extension or Expansion of GOD of All That Is

The physical human body process of being born means something entirely different in SPIRITUAL REALITY understanding.

In expressing the religious knowledge, fact, reality or sacred TRUTH that every single human being is, without exception, a “Child of God,” this term is more clearly understood when we expand our minds to realize that the word “borne” is a better vibrational match. Truly the word “borne” embraces this Divine Event far better than how the word “born” as it is understood.

It is easier for us to think through or wrap our minds around the greater spiritual truth that all humanly “borne” Earth Angels, Gods or Goddesses, are extensions and expansions of ONENESS of All That Is.
Thus we are eternally, lovingly, safely are “carried” (borne) through Infinity and Eternity by ONENESS of All That Is, as co-creators and bearers of LOVE and LIGHT in the Eternal NOW of endless CREATION.

When we understand this, we realize it is impossible for any one of us to be apart, divided, or separated from ONENESS, since nothing else can or does exist in TRUE REALITY.

Therefore, an “other” Self cannot and does not exist.

I am you and you are me and we are ONE.

Chapter 5

All That Is is an Extension or Expansion of ONENESS

When we can mentally grasp that we all are extensions and expansions of ONENESS, the next step in personal spiritual understanding and growth is to realize this grand truth: What we think, say, feel do or communicate in any way is shared by, impacts and affects all other life expressions in the ONENESS of All That Is throughout all CREATION.

Not only are we human, or any other sentient beings (usually far more spiritually and technically advanced Universal or Galactic sisters and brothers) extensions and expansions of ONENESS of All That Is, but ...
Step slightly forward and upward in conscious thought and Being to grasp the reality that all that exists within us, above us, beneath us and around us are other sacred, holy (WHOLE I) expressions of ONENESS.

What is not ONENESS of All That Is or (GOD) as the average religious or spiritual Human being on Earth understands GOD or whatever name represents the One Highest Deity all CREATION?

Let’s now lovingly merge minds, mentally hold hands and take a really giant personal spiritual step forward and upward in spiritual understanding, knowing and growth.

Here is a vitally relevant question to ponder.

Is our human family host known as Mother Earth, our blue-green gorgeous Garden of Eden water planet by a pale yellow sun on the far edge of the Milky Way Galaxy a live, sentient, conscious and spiritually aware sacred planetary being?

Our galactic neighbors, members of the Galactic Federation of Light and other highly intellectual and spiritually aware humanoid and non-humanoid beings from countless other planets within our universe know our much loved, highly respected Mother Earth’s “Gaia.”

Please take one more mighty mental step forward and upward with me now, ponder and think this through.

All the above conclusively means our earthly younger sisters and brothers in our Animal Kingdom, on land, in the sky or in the oceans—many we humans eat for self survival–also knowingly and equally share this ONENESS of All That Is with each and all of us.

Now lovingly extend and expand that thought a few more jumps and you arrive at a KNOWING that what we call life members of our gorgeous and life-sustaining Vegetable Kingdom, our magnificent trees, forests, berry bushes, vegetables, grasses, etc., share the ONENESS

Apply that same knowing thought to the Mineral Kingdom.

Our grand mountain ranges, rocks, oceans, lakes, rivers, all “matter” or “plasma” down to the smallest form of sentient DNA reproducing bacteria life, some resurrected after being dredged up from deeply frozen oceans or within rocks millions of years old* share the ONENESS with All That Is. (*See David Wilcock’s book, The Source Field Investigation for more information about this bacteria.)

The bright young indigo boy in Chapter 3, who told his new small town church pastor that if the pastor could tell him “what is GOD is not GOD,” he would give him five dollars, certainly knew much more than the confident, studied, religious pastor. That boy certainly gave the pastor something to think about, didn’t he?
Chapter 6

Understanding Our Long-Prophesied ‘End Times’

The first thing to grasp or understand in relation to prophecy relevant to the ONENESS of time or “The Eternal Now” as termed in spiritual study and language of the body of the ancient “MYSTERIES” is that there are infinite unique timelines and major dimensions of reality within CREATION.

All timelines, individual and collective, will converge into ONE timeline just prior to and on December 21, 2012.

All of us there will have an Ascension experience we can individually or collectively identify as a factual 3-D EVENT.

There will be an individual and collective conscious human being “moment” of physical “reality” transitioning from our 3-D world into 4-D reality. This is because in our past we moved from successive different timelines, via our individual or collective freewill choice to be on this current end-times timeline.

A good analogy easy for the mind to grasp is that it is like being on a train traveling down the railroad track, at each “station” or change-over point along the way, we get off the train and on to successive new trains.
As to the time factor, GOD is always within us and always in communication to all of us “borne” by ONENESS through all Eternity.

ONENESS of All That Is–GOD–has communicated to masses of sentient creature beings on inhabited planets through all Eternity through “intuitives,” the sages, prophets or messengers of GOD through all time in our Eternal Now.

Not only do the prophets of old bring us up to date with breaking news, as falsely claimed as the only reliable TRUTH in an often “doctored” Bible. On any particular timeline, the TRUTH was often twisted to serve the purpose of the controlling priesthood and their openly appointed or secretly controlled leaders of civilizations. This certainly is true of the timeline we refer to as the biblical prophets and “messengers of God” who foresaw a doomsday end of the world, as recorded in the Book of Revelations.

In that LIGHT, on the OLD timelines, the highly advanced spiritual sages, soothsayers and prophets of old were correct in predicting what they termed as foreseeing a catastrophic “end of the world.”

Some used the misnamed “judgment” day (as GOD never judges) during these now very real “end times” of an endless array of rapidly converging timelines.

Have you noticed? Most folks have. Years, months, weeks and days have gathered more speed by the hour, minute and second, cycle by cycle. What felt like a 24-hour day, now feels like 15-hour day and a 30-day month flies by and now October 2012 feels like a 15-day month.
An entire century ago, humanity and our dear planet Mother Earth–Gaia–were headed for a genuine doomsday catastrophic end as predicted in this long-ago foreseen “end times” timeline.

However, thank GOD, in the eleventh hour, we are now on a different timeline, swiftly converging into what is destined to be one 3-D timeline shared by all sentient life on Earth on December 21, 2012, as the mass ascension of humanity on Earth occurs.

More than 70 years ago, Mother Earth was reeling from the massive thoughtless, irresponsible poisoning of the air, water and soul of her entire body of being initiated by the Industrial Revolution. Mother Earth, realizing she would die without assistance from Higher Heavenly Hosts, called out for help.

“Ask, and you will receive.”

Instantly her call was heard throughout our entire Universe and many of the most highly spiritually advanced planetary civilizations immediately responded.

Each of these immediately projected to GAIA all the Love and Light she needed to recover her physical body vitality, with enough to spare to enable GAIA to make the decision to ascend her own body being into the 4th Dimension, followed by an imminent leap into the 5th-Dimension, no matter what humanity did or did not do.

At that time–70 years ago–collective humanity on Earth was still headed for a catastrophic end on the old timeline.
This abruptly changed, due to the work of Lightworkers who, acting in unison as a powerful collective, desired that humanity on Earth would also ascend. Coming together on August 17, 1987, on what is now recorded as Harmonic Convergence Day, all of Earth Humanity and Earth itself switched over to the now Golden Age end-times timeline that we collectively and joyfully will soon share.

In this LIGHT, the old timeline prophecies no longer apply! New ones do and now all of us who have chosen or are choosing Ascension without experiencing body death will step off the old timeline and, in due time, step over to the merged ONENESS end-times timeline.

All of us ascending out of the 3-D into the 4-D will, depending on our vibrational-match state, either instantly or gradually move into our new home within the 5-D where the Masters of Love, Light and Wisdom joyously dwell.

To find more information grand Harmonic Convergence event, search the internet for “Harmonic Convergence Day.” I consciously experienced the event, as told in several of my books and in my autobiography, Autobiography of an Ininitate–on The path to Immortality.

Chapter 7

The End of DUALITY on Earth

From micro to macro reality, all living, aware, sentient life beings in creation are evolving eternally on a continual forward spiral path, all eventually returning to a full state of ONENESS of All That Is.

A 3-D duality-field planet like Mother Earth, and countless other such water planets in our Universe where higher sentient life humanoid forms and civilizations exist, are in an illusionary PERCEIVED “duality field.”

It is thus a perfect backdrop and spiritual advancement “school” for higher spiritual beings to experience and learn spiritual TRUTH faster.

You and I literally dropped down from 5-D to 3-D to “go to school” here on the greatly, irresponsibly polluted but still lovely surface world of GAIA.

All of us humanly embodied on Earth today, chose to be schooled in a duality field where we could and would experience both the best and the worst within and around us, eventually becoming a Master of Wisdom and Ascending to the 5th dimension of REALITY.

I personally know that upon birth, most of us currently incarnated human beings in this illusionary 3-D duality world we know as Earth had to lower our vibration from 5-D or higher vibrational levels.

We each and all had to temporarily step out of natural unity, knowing only ONENESS, into the illusionary dream world of a seeming perpetual “wheel of incarnation” through a seemingly real duality field.

However, this time around the wheel, most of us are incarnated here in these END TIMES to help anchor the Love and Light of God on Earth.

We came to help Gaia, humanity and all sentient life forms within, upon and above Gaia to experience a final Golden Age and mass body Ascension without experiencing body death; thus reversing the doomsday catastrophic end of humanity on Earth, as was foreseen and prophesied for more than a millennium.

The Heavenly Hosts and our star visitor sisters and brothers of the Galactic Federation of Light report that we have done the job. By December 21, 2012, or sooner, Mother Earth with make her Ascension–her birth–as a bright new STAR in the Heavens of Eternal Existence:

A world or conscious perception of a dual world is pure illusion.

Only unity or the ONENESS of All That Is actually is REAL.

Everything around our major five senses on 3-D Earth certainly seems to solidly real, when I personally KNOW it is not. It is total illusion conceived and perceived in our individual and collective human mind!

On looking back toward Earth, so to speak, as my I AM spirit departed my suddenly lifeless 18-year-old “Russ Michael” human body, I knew beyond doubt that I was a vital living spirit, completely WHOLE alive, even though totally bodiless. I was 100 percent REAL and I clearly understood that what had seemed so real, my rock-solid and humanly embodied life on Earth journey of 18 years, was a DREAM.

Life on Earth was and is a dream experience. It is similar to when you, me or anyone on Earth, awakens from sleep remembering a dream.

We know it was a dream we experienced during sleep, and all the various seeming REAL people, places, things we experienced during our sleep state were nothing more than a DREAM.

Thus, I have known all this time since the day of my return back to my re-enlivened, rejuvenated lifeless 18 year old body, that what appears REAL on Earth is pure illusion, a living DREAM.

As told in my autobiography, Autobiograpjy of an Initiate–On the Path to Immortality:

Upon my death, I had an instant, yet full, totally conscious, vividly relived flashback of my every thought, feeling and experience during those first 18 years of my human embodiment.

Note: GOD who gave us each and all FREE WILL does not judge.

Therefore, I alone was the sole, harsh JUDGE of where I had failed and where I succeeded in my life mission in my first 18 years of this lifetime, and failing by dying before accomplishing my grand life mission.
In this interim I was also shown two very brief clips of two very relevant former lifetimes where I had been the first-born in royal families.

First I was shown a very youthful age in what seemed to be ancient Tibet-India setting, it felt like 10,000 or more years ago where I was treated literally as a living God in the flesh. I viewed a timeline clip where I was seated on a richly jeweled royal throne chair that was carried on the shoulders of a throng of servants through teeming masses of worshipers who fell from their feet to the ground before me as my entourage approached them. Many were throwing flower blossom on the path before me and upon me.

Further along in that clip, I was shown I made a foolish decision. Thinking and believing I was already an immortal, I tried to prove it and show I could fly off a very high cliff. I died a sudden death when I plunged down to Earth thousands of feet below.

So I failed to help change the world on Earth for the better in that opportune incarnation too.

Topping that off, I was fast-forwarded or jumped over to a timeline that showed me a brief clip of my another equally relevant life-mission failure, this time as a Pharaoh in ancient Egypt, approximately 1,600 B.C.

I saw from birth to death I was totally controlled by the High Priesthood to keep the status of that day. Again I failed to better the life condition of the human masses, even though I lived to an old age.

In this lifetime, in the 1970s, in Virginia Beach, VA, USA, as told in my autobiography, I instantly recognized one of the Egyptian High Priests (perhaps one of my “controllers”) during my Pharaoh incarnation as he arrived for a spiritual consultation session appointment. I recognized him as a brother I had known and loved for 20 years during my lifetime as a Pharaoh.”

He was stunned. Racing back to his new Rolls Royce, he brought a tape recording for me to hear that was given to him by famed past-life reader, Noel Street, who Edgar Cayce (known as The Sleeping Prophet of Virginia Beach, Va., USA) said was as accurate a past-life reader as himself.

This astounded individual fast-forwarded the tape of his key past lives on Earth to one where Noel Street said the same exact words I had involuntarily said to him as I touched his right shoulder at our first meeting. What was to be an hour appointment turned into a whole day of reunion and more than a decade of several interactions with this “old friend.” My new old friend owned and lived in a modernized junior high school that he turned into a palatial residence in THIS lifetime with his own private airplane and airport at his home in the countryside, less than 100 mile drive from Richmond, Indiana, USA.

Thus, as I pondered my instant 18-year “life flash” and the two clips of other well-placed births, I was chagrined to realize I had failed three times in a row to accomplish my life-mission. Thus, when I was offered a choice directly by GOD to either be born as a baby again to go on to fulfill my mission in a new body, or to return to my then lifeless 18-year-old body, I instantly chose to go back to my already familiar “coat of skin.”
The point I wish to make is that I know from personal experience the feeling of descending from a high vibration field to a lower and lower, slower and slower, denser and denser level until SMACK! I was back in my body. (Better than being “spanked on the butt” as a baby at birth and having to go through a “growing up” stage again.)

A long, long moment later, I opened my eyes in the engine room of the huge U.S.S. Navy oil tanker ship cruising up the Yellow River of China in 1945 prior to the end of World War II. An excited, lively crowd of shouting sailors, some watching intently and some working on my suddenly revived body, delighted to see that I had come back to life.

My inner vibrational field was so high that even in the crude, coarse language and rough atmosphere of life aboard a naval Merchant Marine ship, I could not think, feel or say a feeling an ill word or think a bad thought toward any of my shipmates for at least 30 days after my death experience.

In time, a few months later, my vibrational field became more entrained to match the crude lifestyle, the rough language and behavior a group of males living together for some time expressed, but my psychic abilities were very pronounced or enhanced for several years, actually decades, after the event.
Chapter 8

No Human Being in Temporal 3-D Physicality OWNS a Single Thing

In our collective 3-D illusionary dream reality, ownership is a big thing. Yet, in true REALITY no humanly embodied spirit owns what she or he lays claim to or grasps tightly, not even her or his seeming human body is personally owned.

Mother Earth has given in overflowing abundance to humanity. There is more than enough for all and the idea or concept of “over-population” was and is a devious dark ploy of the “Illuminati” cabal who today control most of the illegally obtained “ownership” of the wealth, prosperity and land of the Earth.

The Native Americans and so-called uncivilized indigenous peoples in various countries who carried the wisdom of their elders up through the timelines through the new generations to now knew that possession or claim to “ownership” of land was going against nature.

Land and the abundant fruits of nature were to be naturally and responsibly shared by all in the local human collective dwelling place.

What you and I do own in the Eternal Now through everlasting eternity is not a 3-D illusional or delusional “thing.” It is our conscious all-powerful immortal Goddess or God spirit life in ONENESS of All That Is.

Life is a great force. Wherever you may be, whatever you may be going through, whether your body flourishes on Earth right now or whether you dropped your body a thousand years ago, life goes on, and you go on in it. There is no cease to this force called life. Oh, yes, with or without body, you live, and you are My beloved. There is no leaving life.

Yes, your soul thrives and can go everywhere. Of course, presently, as you conceive the idea that you will die and no longer appear in your familiar form on Earth, you wonder why Earth Life exists at all.

In another Heavenletter © GOD speaks to the false idea of OWNERSHIP we hold in our illusionary 3-D “dream” world -

HEAVENLETTER #4314
The Harbor of God

God said:

It is an idea that you have that anything is yours to own. When you have a sense of ownership, that’s when a sense of loss can creep in and make itself known. A sense of lack follows ownership. Self-righteousness follows ownership. A sense of ownership becomes a block.

Think about it a moment. Without a sense of ownership, what can you lose? Only when you hold tight to something can it slip out of your grasp. Own nothing, lose nothing.
Only a proprietor of a store can lose the store. Ownership and loss are both ideas. They seem sequential, yet they are harnessed together. Heartache also seems to go along with proprietorship and loss of what you thought you owned.

Beloveds, you do not even own the past, and so the past is for you to let go of. There is nothing that you are to hold onto. You are learning to let go, and let go you must. There is nothing to hold onto anyway.

Beloveds, you are as the water that flows.

Do not get your back up. Do not have a spine like steel. Be the willow that bends. Consider bending to life like bowing to life, honoring life, honoring the course that life takes, even when it changes its mind or dives off a cliff. Where life takes you, that is your course. You do not bobble only on the surface of life, yet, at the same time, you do not put down a heavy anchor. Light is the canoe that you paddle. Light is the bark you sail on. You are not adrift. You are sailing on the ship of life. Be it an ocean-liner or a log you hold onto, you are a sailor in life.

You sail the High Seas. You sail the low seas. You surf. You follow the waves. The waves are your guides. All the waves in life, those wanted, those unwanted, lead you to Me. I am your Destination. By hook or by crook, you find your way to Me.

It is worth your while to sail into My heart. It is worth your while to sail into the Harbor of God. Where you came from is where you sail to. The waves of life take you on a journey that no one else ever has traveled. Therefore, you are a pioneer of life. Beloveds, you set sail long ago, and there is only one place that you wind up at, and that one place is where you never left except on a Voyage of Make-Believe, will you believe Me?

Despite the many mistakes you seem to have made, there are no mistakes. There are, however, misunderstandings. There are no mis-adventures. There is no lay of the land, so to speak. There is only sailing, and that makes you a sailor. That makes you a Captain of Fortune, Good Fortune. Life is your fortune. You are fortunate. You have the good fortune to explore and live a life that is yours and yours alone, and, yet, there comes the time when you get off the boat you sail on, and you fly to Heaven which is, of course, the Highest Sea of all the High Seas.

You may have thought that you were alone on your ocean voyage, yet you were never alone. Alone-ness is not possible. You may wander off from Me, yet I am bound to you and go with you no matter how far you may wander off. Wandering is only in your imagination. We are One Heart, and nothing, nothing, nothing at all can separate you from Me or Me from you. I suppose We can accurately say that We can only be separate in delusion but never in Truth. We are One, what more is there to say.

Chapter 9

Darkness is Always the Lack of LIGHT

It is absolutely true that darkness is the lack of light.

Yet most of us know that even the tiniest light in the darkest room will cast a huge circle of light within it.

Very soon, within weeks (not years or even months), a sudden “ball of light” will be released on Earth that will break through the seeming iron hard grasp that controlled worldwide major media has had to block all truth from coming to light. The truth will shock all of humanity on Earth as it clearly exposes all the dark criminals on Earth, many holding seats of power in government, to FREE all humanity on Earth forever.
This will open the gate to the commencement of our final Golden Age on Earth and a personal introduction to our dear highly spiritual sisters and brothers from other planets and Star Systems from throughout our Universe and local Milky Way Galaxy.

The Dark Ones embodied in human form who have secretly joined forces to control all humanity on Earth for thousands of years chose to walk the self-serving left-hand path of control, greed, death and destruction to all who opposed their will.

We have seen how tyrants who have in some cases ruled nations in the Mid-East for decades prefer mass destruction of their citizens rather than give up all the dark power and control currently held by them. The eyes of the world see this clearly in the country of Syria today.

Nevertheless, let us each and all be compassionate and forgiving to these brothers or sisters of darkness, for without at least a tiny spark of light at the core of their unique “I Am” identity soul being, not one could maintain human life in our 3-D level of existence.

Therefore, upon death of their body, each and all will see, feel and personally relive all the sorrow and grief they have caused to anyone harmed in the walk of their path during their lifetime.

Each dark soul has all eternity to completely make up for all the darkness he or she spread on Earth by spreading an equal amount of light throughout the masses of humanity in as many 3-D human incarnations needed to bring about a perfect balance as required by the Law of Karma.
A death penalty decreed against any criminal is completely inhumane and out of the question. Instead, we are to peacefully restrain and contain each and every dark criminal on Earth without seeking vengeance, no matter what they have done to you, your family, beloved friends or work colleagues. No matter how dire the crimes against humanity, there is no cause to create another dire crime to balance the scale.

The key is to legally place each dark soul proven of a crime in containment. Then provide an effective, humane rehabilitation program until there is absolute proof they are fully rehabilitated and able to walk public streets again without ever harming another human sister or brother again.

You and I are here to cast our light into the darkness on Earth. So be it.

The Light of God never fails.

Chapter 10

LOVE and LIGHT is All That Is

From a ONENESS perspective, everything that exists is LOVE, as expressed or perceived via our INNER heart feeling.

And from an-other ONENESS perspective, it is equally true that LOVE is LIGHT, as emitted or seen via our OUTER eyesight vision.
Having been given the gift of freewill choice, you and I (or any aspect of our ONENESS seen as an-other) can dwell upon and IN either light or dark.

By the Law of Attraction, we fill our humanly embodied life journey on Earth with whatever degree of light we individually and collectively choose to carry and emit.

A pathway of Lightness carried and expressed by your or me leaves a wake of love, joy, peace, harmony, cooperation and a spirit of unity behind it.

A pathway of Darkness carried and expressed by you or me leaves a wake of fear, grief, chaos, turmoil, destruction and a spirit of divisiveness behind it.

We call a great lack of light a LIE.

We call less than the full truth “a little white lie.”

The Great Ones we know in our current human history on Earth such as Buddha, Jesus, and Mohammad (and others) cast a huge aura of light in every footstep they chose to tread on our much loved planet.

Others recorded in our current human history on Earth like Nero, Rasputin, and Hitler (and others), cast a dark shadow in every footstep they chose to tread on our much loved planet.

Which path, the Right Hand path of light or the Left Hand path of darkness, do you choose to tread?

David Wilcock (the reincarnation of Edgar Cayce), the author of the recent brilliant best seller, The Source Field Investigations, expressed the following truth relating to the fact there are only two paths to choose from in a recent article.

COMMITTING TO THE HEALING PROCESS

I had another highly powerful dream recently that reported back on this healing process very favorably. And yet, the message was very intense.

It clearly showed me there are only two ways you can live your life. There are only two choices you can really make.

One choice is to be forgiving, patient, loving, accepting, kind and nurturing toward other people. In Law of One terms, this is the path of “Love,” “service to others,” or the “positive polarity.”

The other choice is to treat other people as weak, pathetic, disgusting, shameful and utterly unworthy; to see yourself as clearly and obviously superior, to have absolutely no care or concern about their feelings unless it benefits you.

In Law of One terms, this is the path of “Control,” “service to self,” or the “negative polarity.”

ABSOLUTELY USELESS

I was shown very clearly in dreams that it is absolutely useless and destructive to choose the path of control for any reason unless you fully and completely intend to become a sociopath mass murderer.
If you do choose this path, everything you do to others will end up being paid back to you anyway with meticulous, grueling precision.

I have personally been dazzled by how much “karma” I still have had to work off just to pay back debts I accrued from other lifetimes, not even this one. Dreams have meticulously guided me through every step of this process.

Ninety-nine percent of the people who read this website would say I have done a tremendous job and have made tremendous personal sacrifices to help the planet.

Even so, I have been quite surprised at the amount of old stuff I still had to work through in order to get truly clear and pay back debts.

Given that I have generated a great deal of positive karma in this life, by universal terms, I was left with a very powerful reflection on what would happen if I had not been so kind.

THE SOCIOPATH TIMELINE

Well after I had these incredible cleansing dreams, I was clearly shown that even the slightest choices I make in the direction of the path of “service to self” only have one logical outcome.

If I wasn’t going to become a sociopath, then there was absolutely no point in making those choices.

This does not mean that “control” is bad, or that helping yourself is bad. The terms like “path of Control” and “service to self” are really referring to the manipulation and control of others for the benefit of the self.

There are many behavioral traits that are classic giveaways that someone is choosing the left-handed path.

This includes narcissism, self-involvement, entitlement, jealousy, rage, selfishness, manipulation, criticism, impatience, nit-picking and antisocial / criminal behavior.

THE WHEEL OF KARMA

Perhaps the most significant Law of One passage is, “In forgiveness lies the stoppage of the wheel of karma.”

Forgiving others IS forgiving yourself.

Once you give that magic gift of forgiveness, let go of the need and desire to try to control other people’s freewill and can see them as beings of infinite worth, you are no longer bound to the “wheel of karma.”

The “wheel of karma” is what everyone continues to run through until they no longer choose the path of Control—even slightly.

Each cycle of the wheel starts out with that feeling that you are on top of the world and everything is coming up roses. You are totally high, totally invigorated, and nothing can stop you.

However, as the wheel turns, things keep getting worse and worse until you reach that “dark night of the soul” or “all is lost” point.

This is NOT the end of the wheel. Ever. Even though we may absolutely believe it will be the end, and resist it with all of our might, sooner or later it catches up to us and we hit bottom.

After hitting this point, and suffering profoundly, we pick ourselves up, dust ourselves off, and start all over again.

I’ve now spent 20 years clean and sober, completely avoiding the crutch of drugs and alcohol that I once used to blot out my darkest emotions. It has not been easy, but I’ve done it.

The wheel keeps turning and turning until we fully master the lessons of forgiveness. Then, and only then, can it actually stay at the top without having to turn any further.

IF you wish to read more about this from David Wilcock, see his website: www.DivineCosmos.com

Chapter 11

Unity versus ONENESS

Unity and ONENESS appear to mean the same thing but from a vaster viewpoint they literally are a world apart.

ONENESS of All That Is continually expresses the ONE TRUTH that in reality there is only ONE, not two, in “All That Is.”
From our viewpoint, being immersed in 3-D illusion, it seems that others exist around us in the 3-D illusion world surrounding our finite human body senses.

Unity means uniting mentally, emotionally, physically or spiritually with whomever we choose via the freewill choice mechanism within the ONENESS of All That Is.

We do not realize or forget a TRUTH that is worth repeating continually: all that we perceive and interact with in 3-D illusionary reality—seemingly outside of us—is actually the reverse. All we perceive or interact with, without exception, is inside of us, NOT outside.

Everything seemingly surrounding us, sky and sun above, fields or stars at night, all of lovely nature, mountains, oceans, lakes, rivers, streams, trees, animals, birds, fish in the seas, people, places, events, all exist only within the ONENESS of what you are and I am.

In our 3-D school of learning the inner unity to seek unity with others adds to our own coherence, the love, light and power in our shared seeming physically identical timeline “reality.”

We see this urge for greater individual coherence, power and strength illustrated in swarms or flocks of fish, birds and bees moving in unity as ONE, and so forth in each and all of the myriad diverse sentient creature kingdoms. All within this unified field, drawn together by the Law of Attraction, and like sharing with like, naturally share a greater sense of love, strength, survival and joyful aliveness in UNITY.
Chapter 12
The Mighty ABSOLUTE Power of Silence

A person or moving object has unrestrained POWER if there is no resistance or energy forces neutralizing and reducing the store of power within the individual or moving object.

With a moving object, the medium itself, air, water or on land an incline of a pathway would gradually or quickly reduce the strength or amount of any power on hand.

In our human spectrum, any distraction that captures our attention mentally, emotionally or physically could reduce the coherence, scatter our energy and thus reduce the power we hold or held.

The sages and wise elders of old or Eastern highly advance spiritual gurus knew and taught their chelas of old that “silence is power.”

In our 21st century, based on this same knowledge, we have a commonly known saying or axiom, “Silence is Golden.”

Spiritual masters of old taught their disciples or students the value of going in a silent place and then via mind into the greatest depth of silence possible.

The deeper and more still the silence, the greater and more coherent the power.
You could consider your mind has a great depth like an ocean where frolicking surface waves are leaping and crashing against the nearest beach shores.

In this analogy the deeper you go into the silence of the mind, or depths of the ocean, the more detached from the rushing, dancing surface waves or the quieter and more coherent your every thought will be in your silent, deep mind.

Chapter 13
The Endless Depth and Might of Stillness

Let us enjoy taking this via the same ocean analogy in our previous probe into the power of silence, as it aptly applies to the power of stillness.

Decades ago, a great Spirit mentor named Seth spoke via telepath Jane Roberts. Jane authored many enlightening SETH books, introduced the striking oft-repeated phrase, “The Point of Power.” She clarified that the point of power is not in the movement of the moving words in a sentence, for example, but in “the non-moving space” between each word.

This is, of course, another way of saying temporal, 3-D “flash-in-the-pan” power is little or nothing compared to the might of power in the stillness of ONENESS of All That Is.
As you probably have grasped, “Power of Silence” relates to sound-less-ness and “Power of Stillness” relates to motion-less.

In any event, meditation, simply sitting and quieting your mind in a SILENT space or peaceful surrounding in nature, or in the quiet seclusion of your home is how we can increase our vibratory frequency and thus personal power as a mighty co-creator in ONENESS of All That Is.

Chapter 14

The Eternal NOW of TIME

Savants or wisemen and wisewomen of the past who explored spiritual truths and were moved to share them knew and often spoke to the “Eternal NOW” of time.

Many of these masterful mentors knew and explained to their often eager, steadfast followers that only in 3-D do we live and are often controlled by TIME. That here on Earth time is an illusion.

All temporal forms, events, persons, places things, that you, I and our human collective dream into existence on Earth are pure illusion.

These wise souls knew the Eternal Now was real and taught their followers to live in the moment rather than be a blind slave to non-existent time.
All that your and my 3-D limited humanly embodied mind limited mind perceives as solid and real in our 3-D realm of life is total illusion.

All we touch, taste, smell, see and feel here on Earth is merely a grand, ongoing, seeming endless fantasy dream story that is individually and collectively shared by all humanity on Earth.

Time as we normally conceive of it, presented in years, months, days, minutes, moments, even light-years, is a fanciful way of trying to make what we perceive real, by the Dark Brotherhood of tyrannical controllers of humanity on Earth. It is not.

Yes, you are real, I am real.

Every human or other sentient sister or brother from other planets in other star systems is quite alive and real.

All sentient life is real.

Your unique, one of a kind, immortal I AM identity life awareness and mine exists forever in the “Eternal Now,” which is also very REAL within the ONENESS of All That Is.

Once Mother Earth, GAIA, ascends, all of us who are ascending from our 3-D to the much higher vibrational 5-D level with dear loving GAIA will forever live only in the Eternal Now.

Join one another in creative unity in helping other 3-D civilizations in other galaxies throughout our universe awaken spiritually, as the Galactic Federation of Light members have helped Earth humanity and our much loved soon-to-be Star Nation GAIA to do.
In other words, many of us in the Eternal Now at 5th-D levels will be members of the Galactic Federation of Light.

As such, we will help to further awaken civilizations on countless other inhabited planets in our universe to their “Point of Power” moment. Meaning when their Planetary Being and the sentient spiritually advanced creature civilization it hosts in the Eternal Now will also ascend from a 3-D space it may hold to a more divine 5-D state of spiritual being.

Chapter 15

The Infinite Vastness of SPACE

In a very real sense, similar to our perception of TIME, at our 3-D level of awareness, space also does NOT exist.

When we peer into the bright sunny skies overhead, seemingly stretching out to infinity from horizon to horizon, into the welcome golden sun above; or when we view a glorious, clear star-studded night with countless, endless numbers of twinkling stars glittering like sparkling diamonds as far as our eyes can see and our human mind can imagine, it seems like sheer folly to see that SPACE is non-existent.

However, as conceived in our human mind, in a 3-D light, space simply does not exist, only ONENESS.
Yet, as you my have foreseen, we are speaking to the fact that ALL of the illusion we perceive “OUT there” in seeming space, is quite literally a holographic mind-fantasy we each and all collectively in temporal human mind-body-spirit are NOW holding IN our unique individual and collective I AM identity Being.

This gorgeous, infinite fantasy WORLD VIEW co-creation stems from co-creation from you, me and collectively from all our other sisters and brothers now humanly embodied on GAIA’s planetary body, during these last few thrilling, fast-moving weeks and days of our end times.

It is why your awareness of what ONENESS means to you is vital.

Let us pause for a moment and examine TIME and SPACE from another insightful ONENESS of All That Is “breakthrough” perspective.

Chapter 16
3-D Material “Space-Time” Opposed to 4-D Non-Material “Time-Space”

From the viewpoint of quantum physics science the difference between “space-time” and *time space” is like night and day.

In this analogy, the dark ILLUSION of night being ‘space-time’ perspective while ‘time-space’ being the bright light of REALITY day.
David Wilcock quotes Albert Einstein (from 1919) in his book, The Source Field Investigations: “(any) part of space without electro-magnetic fields seems to be empty … (But) according to the general field of relativity, even space that is empty in this sense has physical properties. This … can be easily understood by speaking about an ether, whose state varies continuously from point to point.”

(Note from Russ Michael: Thus from point-to-point in ‘time-space,’ David Wilcock’s “Source Field” is ONENESS of All That Is)

In 1920, Einstein said it even more strongly:

“According to the general theory of relativity, space without ether (ONENESS) is unthinkable, for in each space, not only would there be no propagation of light, but also no … space-time intervals in the physical sense.”

“Physical sense” is of course related to the 3-D sense of physicality illusion. An illusion I recognized immediately upon being in non-physical “I AM SPIRIT” looking back toward EARTH LIFE a moment earlier and realizing in amazement that my Earth life journey had not been in a physically “solid” realm at all and had been nothing but a vivid DREAM.

Elsewhere in his 535-page masterpiece book and at his website, David Wilcock speaks to the new breed of “form scientists” working in the quantum mechanics field. He discloses breakthroughs relating to TIME TRAVEL, that space-time relates to 3-D physicality science, while time-space relates to quantum Source Field science.
When that “great ball of light” EVENT occurs in major worldwide media outlets, the masses will discover, as I have known for decades, that our secret dark controllers on Earth knew of and utilized quantum time-space science to literally build time-travel machines as far back as the late 1940s.

During my annual 1970s solidly booked lecture circuit travel days, when I was a keynote speaker at a major spiritual conference, I met and enjoyed a private lunch with Al Bielek, one of three very real survivors of a Montauk Center Military “time traveler” experiment aboard a U.S. Navy Ship.

In the Montauk Military Center Project, with a flip of the switch, so to speak, Al Bielek, Preston Nichols and all aboard the huge naval ship were sent several years into the then existing timeline future.

Something went wrong, and many lives were lost.

Al Beilek, Preston Nichols, whom I also later met, and several other sailors did survive.

The ship suddenly vanished from 3-D sight and then returned just as suddenly, however it reappeared with great loss of life to most on board.

Some sailors were even bodily embedded into the walls of the ship during the 3-D space-time to time-space 5-D Source Field “conversion” and sudden return trip from 5-D Source Field to 3-D space-time.

Search the interent for the supposed “fictional” movie titled The Philadelphia Story or Philadelphia Montauk Project, with a time-travel story line centered around this time travel experiment, based on the actual Montauk Project experiment.

I just searched to double check and saw someone posted the following below relative clip at this website:

http://www.v-j-enterprises.com/montauk.html

The Montauk Project and the Philadelphia Experiment

“In 1990, while living in Las Vegas, I attended a lecture given about the Philadelphia Experiment at a local library. This presenter was Al Bielek and in about two and a half hours the story he told us about his experiences is one I will never forget. Even though some of his claims were utterly fantastic, I find that when there is something I read or hear and I can’t shake it from my very being, to me, this is my own self telling me I have heard something important.

“One of the topics that was covered by Mr. Bielek’s talk was the Montauk Project where he mentioned how he met Preston Nichols and that they recognized each other as long lost brothers. I would highly recommend that if this topic interests you, please pick up the book done by Mr. Bielek and Brad Steiger called the PHILADELPHIA EXPERIMENT AND OTHER UFO CONSPIRACIES (Innerlight Publications, 1991).

“I am including on this page some information that was posted to my mailing list which is excerpts from Preston Nichols book on the subject. I believe that this Project is another example of the breakthroughs made in modern technology as a result of contacts with extraterrestrials and that all the events describe in this book is absolutely true. After the information I received from snet is shared, I am also including some other interesting information I have which is from notes I took of Mr. Bielak’s lecture in 1990.” End of note.

Further Note: In the 1970s, as the one who introduced the concept and work “soulmate” to the masses for the first time ever, with my best seller book, “Finding Your Soulmate” published in 12 languages, I was an frequent talk show guest and was interviewed on more than 500 radio and TV shows in the 1970s and 1980s.

In one major USA city, in the 1970s, Brad Steiger and I were featured TV talk show guests in a one-hour long interview together.

Brad and his lovely wife, Sherry, have been dear Lightworker friends since the 1970s and no one on Earth that I know of has written more light-filled spiritual and self-help books than Brad Steiger (perhaps 200 or more published books).

I strongly urge you obtain and read the above mentioned book cowritten by Brad Steiger and Al Bielek in 1991.

In brief, “space-time” relates to 3-D illusionary duality interaction and perception, while “time-space” relates to any real Source Field 4-D-and any other higher accessible dimensional levels of interaction and perception.

Let’s take this a step further now.
Chapter 17

Illusionary Physical “Reality” Opposed to Non-Physical True Reality

Divided-ness, or dream fantasy duality perceived only in our temporal 3-D level of interaction and perception, as has been stated often for emphasis, is sheer illusion.

When we are emotionally involved it is more accurately termed sheer delusion.

Vice versa, or in opposition to our 3-D illusionary or delusional interaction and perception where dark and light, forward or backward, upward or downward, right or left, birth and death, true or false, health or illness, joy or sorrow, happiness or suffering, good or evil, etc. seem so very utterly real.

Yet, no one actually is born, no one actually suffers or dies, as all in 3-D in NOT REAL, and this makes it a perfect school in spiritual self mastery.

The 3-D Wheel of Incarnation is where you, I and all in our collective ONENESS of All That Is, have descended from 5-D fully conscious daughters and sons of God “Spiritual Beings in ONENESS” to learn how to overcome temptations toward self indulgence, greed or tyrannical power and control of others.

After many, many turns on the Wheel of Incarnation on Earth, or other equal vibration sentient creature life inhabited planets in our Universe, we awaken to our true inner Divine “I AM” identity to the point where we are even able to forgive each and everyone who has harmed or even “killed” a greatly loved mate or dear friend, a mass murderer, or tyrants that have committed crimes against humanity where millions of human souls suffered terrible deaths.

Forgiveness of another comes easy when you truly know “there is no death.” (Also the title of a booklet I wrote in the 1970s.)

I suggest you go to our Golden Key Library website, and obtain and read it there, or download it FREE, print it out, read and share it family and friends.

I repeat for emphasis, my There is no Death booklet is FREE to read and FREE to download by anyone anywhere in the world, as are all of my more than 30 spiritual and self-help ebooks. See Golden Key Library at: http://www.GoldenKeyLibrary.info

At this point in our journey together, you certainly have received the message from several angles or perspectives that our seeming real 3-D has no real life substance existence, that physicality and a personal or collective duality interaction and perspective of “beginnings and ends” is utter dream illusion.

So what then is your or my genuine infinite, eternal, immortal spiritual life reality?

In five words: “ONENESS of All That Is.”

A 3-D mortal human body life is finite.

Your, my and ALL individual life is forever. We are all immortal.
Individual immortality IS infinite LOVE and LIGHT and IS an eternal spiritual expansion or extension of the ONE HOLY SPIRIT (One Whole-I-spirit) of ONENESS of All That Is.

Chapter 18
Thinking ONENESS

While taking a break from writing this book to enjoy a lunch with my soulmate wife, Maria, at our favorite restaurant, I mentioned to Maria, how very blessed I had become to be “thinking ONENESS” day and night for weeks on end.

My consciously self-perceived inspiration and determined intention to complete and share a new book on what I know or understood about ONENESS was and is a natural human impulse to this priceless focus and information FREELY with anyone worldwide.

I was certain a focus a knowledge and focus of ONENESS would be a loving, guiding light to point anyone more swiftly and greater ease and sureness, toward any END TIMES new-found spiritual desire or personal intention to experience human body Ascension without experiencing physical body death, as ALL previously Ascended Masters have done.

I realized that writing about and thinking ONENESS so coherently for weeks without end was also a great gift—not only to the ONENESS book readers, but is adding daily greatly to my own absolute KNOWINGNESS, that I will get off the karmic Wheel of Reincarnation.

I knew soon after my death experience at age 18 that I would consciously ascend from my 3-D physical body IN THIS LIFETIME. I asserted this TRUTH at my lectures, at spiritual workshops, on various TV and radio talk shows and wrote of it in many of my books.

The great delight was to learn in that last few decades of my life, that never before done in all of CREATION had this been tried, that a great spiritual 3-D experiment had been initiated over a million years ago.

The aim of the experiment was to raise the love and light frequency of planet Earth and human masses to a vibratory trigger point when Gaia and all sentient life forms, including our Human Family Kingdom, would reach a high enough spiritual vibratory trigger point. When Gaia ascends, all sentient life forms she is hosting at end times who had reached the needed frequency vibration level would INDEED ascend with GAIA without experiencing a physical body death. That includes our pets, the Animal Kingdom, Vegetation Kingdom and Mineral Kingdom.

The Divine Heavenly Host “Master Planners” who orchestrated this daring experiment, a never before done EVENT in all Creation, arranged for it to occur at a precise point known astrologically as the “Precession of the Equinoxes.”

They knew that at that exact moment, a straight line “vector of force” energy would surge through the Galactic Great Central Sun of our Milky Way Galaxy, through our planetary solar system sun, and to planet Earth. This energy could and probably would assure mass planetary life ascension.

As was known and predicted ages ago in Mayan Prophecy, by many prophets of old, by countless Messengers of GOD, and even in some historical documents, this extraordinary mass event would truly gather momentum and manifest in physicality December 21, 2012.

THUS the powerful electromagnetic energy flow released in a straight line of force from the Law of the Greater to the Lesser, from ONENESS of All That Is through our Galactic Great Central Sun, through our solar system SUN and to and through our Mother Earth.

It was known and foreseen to trigger a shift of GAIA and all sentient life hosted within, upon and above her. It would be more than enough of an energy boost to shift all who chose to and who reached a vibrational match for Ascension to shift from 3-D physicality illusion to 4-D astral plane illusion (the Heaven or Nirvana state human souls suddenly “shift to” at what we know as human body death).

THEN from this higher new 4-D level plateau, the SHIFT to the eternal new home, 5-D spiritual reality, will occur relatively soon thereafter.

A certain trigger point is reached when enough of us in human form have fully ascended. Then GAIA is also fully enabled to also make that ascension SHIFT.

For without GAIA making her own REAL physical body ascension, you and I would NOT have a PHYSICAL Planetary Body to manifest our human physical bodies upon.

What a trip!

No other planet in all of CREATION has ever achieved this astounding feat.

THUS all eyes from countless Galactic Brothers and sisters from Star Nation planetary systems all over our Universe are here NOW watching, invisible to our eyes, from their countless Mother Ships.

Some Mother Ships are miles deep and 10 or more miles long, easily hosting and nurturing the entire populations of our biggest cities on Earth.

For decades now, there have been millions of various sized other space-age craft and the familiar round saucer shaped UFOs that most of us have read about, and many of us have personally seen or seen caught on film.

Is something big going on or coming up soon? Do you see it or feel it? I certainly do! Whoever is at least half awake can, or would deny that these are exciting, fast-moving “end times!”

ASCENSION is in the air! IF you wish to ascend, think ONENESS.

Feel it, see it, breathe it, intend it, act it, live ONENESS consciously. Be at ONE with everyone and everything you interact with and perceive daily, Bless us all.

WE are ONE.
Chapter 19

Seeing ONENESS

Anyone on Earth wishing to be enlightened or holding the desire and intention to ascend during this opportune end times portal prophesied to occur on December, 2012, would be wise to begin a conscious, moment-to-moment heart, mind, body and spirit practice. Practice thinking ONENESS, feeling ONENESS, knowing ONENESS, and being ONENESS.

“Practice makes perfect” is what makes any beginner at anything become adept or a master of whatever they choose to perform,

I knew as a child that I would be a professional basketball player when I grew up. That was my passionate dream and while other children played mostly or solely for fun alone, I played and practiced daily, alone or with a group, enjoying both the fun of loving what I was doing and practicing to be better and better at it.

In brief, even after paralysis in both legs from polio at age 17 and five U.S. Navy doctors saying I would probably be bedridden and never walk again, I had absolute trust in my own ability to heal. Using dynamic tension exercises, as taught by Charles Atlas, advertised as the “strongest man on Earth” in the 1940s, I healed. Two months later I was on my feet, hobbling with a cane.

I was discharged from the Naval hospital a month later and put on overseas duty on a huge Merchant Marine oil tanker that had a basketball court. I had to learn how to shoot and move all over again, but two years later, I was a 19 year old high school basketball star in my home state of Michigan, and I received a free basketball scholarship to nearby Kalamazoo Michigan State College.

Soon after basketball season started, I was approached and offered a contract to play professional basketball with the then famed House of David basketball team that consisted of former NBA team players like Bill Spivey who was 7-foot, 4-inches tall.

At 6 feet, 2 inches, I was the shortest basketball player on the team. Prior to a serious car accident in 1955, where I miraculously survived what could have been sure death, I had worked my way to being captain of the House of David team.

During my much loved career in professional basketball, our bearded House of David basketball team was booked solid up to a year in advance playing and traveling all year long in Mexico, Hawaii and Canada, etc.

Up to four different professional exhibition teams traveled together in different busses, including the world famous Harlem Globetrotters featuring Goose Tatum until he retired and was replaced by Meadowlark Lemon.

At that time, in the late 1940s, Marcus Haynes was a superb exhibition basketball dribbler for the Harlem Globetrotters.

We were booked months in advance and played basketball against the Harlem Globetrotters, or one of the other two (or three) teams traveling with them, or against a top local city “All Star” basketball team.

We played almost nightly, sometimes twice a day, in the afternoon, as well, up and down and around our USA, not only during regular basketball season, but all through the year.

During my professional basketball career, our team played more than a 100 exhibition basketball games against the Harlem Globetrotters. What a fun time that was!

As I speak to in Chapter 38, in ONEESS of All That Is, there is nothing you cannot be, do or have.

I urge you to be aware of what thoughts you host in your mind and practice, practice, practice, to think ONENESS as you interact and perceive anyone or anything in life.

What you GIVE you RECEIVE is an aspect of the Law of Karma, also termed the Cosmic Law of Balance.

Practice daily consciously seeing ONENESS in all and feeling how good (GOD) that feels.

“Feeling Good is Feeling GOD” is naturally tied in to feeling ONENESS.
Chapter 20

Feeling ONENESS

Before I personally address the topic of “feeling ONENESS” I am posting a clip, which on viewing, I posted immediately on Facebook and in the “click here” segment of my FREE daily email “Message from Michael–Worldwide News Letter.”

I know this brief video will enrich the heart and mind of any reader, viewer or listener. It captures the heart-feeling essence of why we individually and collectively came to this 3-D school-room Earth that we know and love so greatly.

This video will move and open your heart, and likely will bring tears to your eyes!

It brought thanks and joyous tears to mine!

One listener wrote: “I am a 6 foot, 5 inch construction worker weighing 220 pounds. After watching and hearing this video I broke into tears....”

Please SHARE widely. Click here: http://www.flickspire.com/m/LifeSecrets/MakeADifference?Id=400730

Mass humanity on Earth needs to see, hear how love opens the doors to unforeseen miracles.

Feeling ONENESS with everyone and everything you interact with daily will hasten the unfolding of more and ore delightful miracles in your life.
Loving, respecting and honoring the Heavenletter© transmissions from GOD directly, I will be sharing several more with you in this volume.

This one feels so appropriate as it is titled: “Where ONENESS Is.”

Where Oneness Is

God said:

A suitcase that you pack for travel does not have to be jam-packed. Nor does the suitcase of your life have to be jam-packed. Nothing has to be crammed in. Allow your life to be easy-going. Allow your life to have extra space. Beloveds, you don’t have to fit everything in. This is not meant to be your accomplishment - to see how much of this and how much of that you can crowd into a suitcase or into your life.

Your life, without exertion on your part, will be filled to the brim. Life is expansive. Life is just like that. Even if you are confined to bed, your life, as it is, can be filled to the brim, do you understand Me?

A spectacular book you read cannot have everything in it. There are gaps you fill in. In your life, imagination fills in the presumed gaps of your life.
If you are six feet tall, you are not five feet tall. You can’t be a world-traveler and stay home - or can you? The heart and mind travel far.

You are not so tied to Earth and Earth experience as you may think.

It is not a new thought that you are also active in dimensions you have not yet fathomed.

Your conscious activities are not the sum total of your life anymore than your appearance is.

It is not a new thought that you inhabit Heaven. You may think that you are fixed, or that you are in a fix, and yet, even so, you are not bound to Earth. You are bound for Heaven. Heaven is the direction you move toward. This is real Heaven, a state of being where all is possible.

Contrary to popular opinion, you are capable of traversing the Universe and all held beliefs. Any belief that keeps you tied to the past is a held belief. Let your beliefs fly free. Believe more in yourself than all that you have previously held onto.

Beloveds, you have been masters of self-deception. You have too often closed the blinds on yourself. You went so far and no further because you expected that you were capable only so far and not further. And so you captured yourself in a net of confusion and barriers.

Life is not meant to be an accumulation. It is not meant to be a shelf filled with statuettes that proclaim your worth.

I have proclaimed your worth, and I never said that your life was about quantity. How much you have lived is not the benchmark of your life. How much you have grown is more like it. How much you have grown to love is more like it. Of course, there is no prescribed test to your life. You are your life. Your consciousness is your life. Your consciousness moves your life further and higher. There are really not milestones. There are high points, however, high points that go higher and higher and you soar with them.

There is the concept of the present adhered to the past. There is nothing but the present, beloveds, and the name of the present is Infinity. There are no boxes in Infinity. Nothing is stored in Infinity. Infinity is ever-present. It is not even marked in time. It is not marked in space. Infinity is not made of segments. If Infinity is marked in anything, it is marked in absence of time and space, and that is called the Present. Here is where We meet. Right here, right now, where clocks do not tick and there are no lines in space. Here is where We are, or We can say from another angle, here is where two of Us are not and Oneness is.

Before you and I re-engaged our humanly embodied birth on the Wheel of Reincarnation on Earth, our Master Mentors, or Guardian Angels, reminded us we would never be lost in 3-D illusion if we simply followed and did what felt good (what felt GOD) in any moment during our Earthly incarnation.

We were assured by following and acting continuously upon what felt GOOD (GOD) in our heart, following spirit without hesitation, we could and would be constantly on track, ever evolving to a higher spiritual vibratory frequency levels and fulfilling our life plan or soul mission.

OUR GOLDEN KEY LIBRARY

Knowing this, I scribed a book, Feeling Good is Feeling God, which, like all my other books, can be downloaded FREE by you or anyone else anywhere worldwide at our Golden Key Library.

I use the term “our” Golden Key Library rather than “my” Golden Key Library because all my FREE ebooks at our library were created by a volunteer team.

The more than 30 books I have written to date and that are available at our Golden Key Library are a loving creative effort by a close soul group of spiritual sisters and brothers. Our group consists of an outstanding terrific Chief Editor, Pamela Leach, USA, a worldwide host of dear proofreader volunteer subscribers to my daily “Message from Michael–Worldwide News Letter,” an outstandingly creative book cover artist, Meesha, Germany, and a genuine whiz Webmaster, Mark Hills, USA. Lastly, a longtime very dear young spiritual brother in Lithuania, Gabrielius Liatkis, Webmaster and humanitarian “angel” who oversees the daily operation and pays the annual fee for the cost of my newsletter mailing host service to more than 3,000 Lightworker subscribers worldwide.

WE are ONE in ONENESS of All That Is.

Chapter 21

Knowing ONENESS

As Ed Robertson, my dear, wise, lifelong friend and spiritual brother in Virginia Beach, Virginia, USA, has reminded me more then once over the years, “Thinking and knowing are two different things.”

How true.

Taking this thought to another vibratory level, “Knowing and doing–or BEING–are also worlds apart.”

In the same way, personally “feeling” love versus personally “expressing” love is also a world apart.

Feeling love is certainly a very good (GOD) human experience. Yet it is a passive, inactive static state centered in I AM Self, as opposed to personally expressing love by a nod of greeting, a smile, or giving your genuine undivided attention when interacting in conversation.

How blessed I am to KNOW “of” the ONENESS of All That Is.
How blessed you are to KNOW of the ONENESS of All That Is, prior to being attracted to and reading this book, or through reading through it.

It has been long known that “knowledge is power.”

Yet in the same light, love is felt rather than expressed.

The greatest of knowledge known and not used or acted upon has NO power and no value.

It is why through my life journey on Earth that when encountering a greater new idea or a spiritual truth, I have sought to try it out.

Years ago, actually decades ago, when I read of the scientific documented experiments reported by Prof. Rhine on random ODDS of “mind over matter” being theory or fact, conducted at Duke University in North Carolina, USA, in the 1970s, I tested results of the experiment for myself.

I did the same upon reading of the telepathic feats done by Edgar Cayce, repeating and proving to myself that mental control of another via telepathic suggestion worked.

In 1975, I produced and hosted my own Dr. Russ Michael, Warner TV “MYSTERIES” weekly show in Washington, D.C.

Besides introducing the MYSTERIES to the masses, I hosted and interviewed a few very close spiritual friends, truly out-of-this-world active Lightworkers. Guests included Jack Schwarz or KOMAR, who could and did demonstrate miraculous mind-over-matter bodily feats.

Komar took a hammer and shattered dozens of large and small glass bottles that I supplied into a large tub.

He then took off his shoes and socks, got into a calm state, and walked barefoot on all the shattered jagged broken glass pieces and shards in the tub without a cut on his feet.

He then set up a “ladder” of razor sharp swords and walked up and down them, several times, without a cut.

I became a close friend of KOMAR, who broke and held Guinness Book of Records, in the 1970s for his ability to lay his naked back on a bed of nails and have a strong man wield a sledge hammer shattering a large stone block on his chest, or do a calm, slow fire-walk on red-hot coals measure more than 1,300 degrees Fahrenheit temperature.

I noted how before doing any of these feats, Komar would psyche himself up to be absolutely calm and centered in his body, mind and soul being.

Here is a copy of the letter I emailed to Laya Ortiz (a dear friend in the USA) on October 15, 2012:

_________________________________________________________________________

Laya beloved,

Big thanks!!!

Your Oct. 3 mailing of the 120 Laminine caps from the USA arrived just in time. Even though Maria and I are now cutting back from 4 to 2 capsules each per day. Suddenly, our reserve got smaller each day and this morning the count was down to 2 capsules, but I was almost absolutely SURE your Oct. 3 postal mailing would arrive in time, as we have never missed a day with Laminine capsules for more than a year now!

As you know, in our Mystery School training, Ramtha drilled into us the knowingness that when we are “absolute” in our mind about anything, it must MANIFEST in 3-D ‘reality.’

It is how, I found both my name card and Maria’s name card on the wall, blindfolded with a 1,000 other Tamtha students milling around, and when in the 1970’s I “Psyched myself up” before I tried to perform several different experimental “instant manifestations” including throwing a pair (2) of normal table dice 12 times in a row. (Like I saw, standing by his side, KOMAR would DO, before making his famed FIRE WALKS in the 1970’s.

I knew “absolutely” that a total of SEVEN would show up, on each toss of the two dice, no matter how either one of the dice leaped, skipped, slid or rolled over.

There are six white dots on the face of any of the six sides of a single normal table dice.

This means the dice–face-up–must be either a 2 and 5 dot combo, or a 3 and 4 dot combo, or a 1 and 6 dot combo.

Which means–as I throw– IF I see one dice stops . . . and a 5 shows up . . . then the other dice, when it is completely stationary, must first skid, twirl, leap or teeter over to show a 2, in order to be SEVEN.

I had read and knew, Prof., Dr. Rhine at Duke University, N.C., testing psychokinesis (mind over matter) reported after years of testing all the known, willing psychics he could find. To see what they could do about proving mind-over-matter control, the highest consecutive roll of throwing the dice and coming up a SEVEN was 5 times by one of the psychics being tested. This conclusively proved his study that mind-over-matter was scientifically tested and recorded under tight controls.

He said the mathematical odds of anyone consecutively throwing a SEVEN five times in a row was a staggering more than a MILLION to ONE.

I had already trained myself to keep mental count on two conscious mind tracks at the same time. As I proceeded to toss the dice and counted the 12th time in a row, I suddenly realized the mathematical odds were probably billions or trillions to one and I abruptly went into shock. I stopped the experiment, as my faith that I BODILY dwelled in a “solid state” 3-D reality on Earth was suddenly attacked.

My first afterthought was clearly a “survival” one.

“If my little mind could prove mind-over-matter, what would protect me from being attacked by a powerful evil person or even a group of them, magnifying their evil power and ‘blasting’ me out of existence, if they choose?”
It took a while to calm and center myself, and several days before I could move back with ease and confidence to accepting that I was living in a solid state 3-D reality again. That the floor at my feet would not suddenly disappear or the chair I sat down into would not vanish and me with it.

About one week later, I finally managed to leave my disturbing experience of shock behind and I slipped back into a full trust of the solidity of my environment. I erased once more the dream world illusion I knew it was when I looked back—so to speak—to my first 18 years at the moment of death where as I left my body, knowing I was REAL, but the 18 year old journey on Earth was merely a DREAM. As Shakespeare knew and said in one of his plays, “life is but a dream.”

In Virginia Beach, eyes closed and in another “absolute state,” I once “instantly manifested” a stranger I had met and was impacted by one time only, several days earlier. I kept repeating the exact four words (“Is that you, Michael?) I wanted this “instantly manifested” person to walk up to me and say.

There beach was empty and there was no one on the boardwalk as far as I could see in both directions. I closed my eyes, centered myself with absolute assurance this person would “appear.” Less than 10 seconds later, I heard the words and opened my eyes to greet the person warmly. That was another incident where being absolute proved to be ALL that our Master Mentor Ramtha said it would be.
I am thankful we are in “end times” and the sweet dream of ascension is now right on our timeline horizon with less than two months to December 21, 2012, as now seen.

Love and blessings.

WE are ONE in the ONENESS of All That Is (–End of letter)

As you may have concluded by now, all of the above seeming miraculous feats are easily possible when you and I center ourselves in ONENESS.

Komar KNEW his ONENESS when he demonstrated any of his extraordinary feats.

I knew my own ONENESS as well when I proved to myself mind-over-matter was factual, that telepathic communication is factual, even that instant manifestation is factual or absolutely TRUE in or during a deliberate consciously focused, coherent mental, emotional and physical state of individual or collective ONENESS.

And . . . so it IS.
Chapter 22

Being ONENESS

We literally can “practice what we preach,” as the saying goes, when we know ONENESS and demonstrate it to ourselves and others as desired or needed as just spoken to in Chapter 21.

What awakened New-Age Lightworkers have referred to as “Christ Consciousness” is being in this absolute state of ONENESS. In my autobiography and many other books, I reveal in more detail an experience where I had to suddenly and immediately MOVE into this “Christ Consciousness” center, as I termed or knew this state of ONENESS constituted.

At a huge spiritualist church in Seattle, Washington, USA, where I had been invited to give a Friday night Introductory Lecture and a brief weekend workshop course on the MYSTERIES, I learned the suave, friendly pastor of the church was doing black magic rituals and employing fear extortion tactics/rituals to extract money from gullible wealthy members of the church.

One lady to whom I gave a private ray-reading consultation revealed that she had given a $200,000 donation gift to the pastor, who had said for a second time (having successfully bilked his “flock” before) that a huge flock of birds, in the thousands, would die unless he performed a secret sacred ritual that required a great amount of money from his congregation before a certain near calendar date.
I had already discovered the Sunday evening before, when I accepted his invitation to sit in at the well-attended dimly lit spirit séance. The séance room where he was conducting his rituals and summons of spirits, the images of ghosts and spirits behind the thin see-through curtain where he sat and spoke did not appear to be real.

So when she asked me if he was really doing “white” magic, as he claimed, I told her right out that he was not, that what he was doing bordered on or actually was black magic.

I advised her not to give her money away so foolishly again.

She shared my cautionary warning with a close friend and I heard from another of my male ray-reading clients a few hours later that my revelation to her that their pastor was “working black magic” had spread through the congregation like wildfire.

The pastor in turn cautioned me to “watch my back,” threatening me that less than a year earlier, a member of the congregation had tried to warn the church members that he was a bilking them and was heavily into “black magic.” The next morning, that member was found in a terrible car accident with his head totally decapitated from his body.

I thanked him for his warning and said I had no fear of the him, even if he was a black magician and had actually performed a black magic ritual that killed their “whistle blower.”

I have long known that adept black magicians are certainly capable of such terrible things. Still, as earlier planned, after finishing a long day of ray-reading appointments, I collected my few travel items from my guest room, got into my travel van, and drove on to my next scheduled lecture and workshop a few hundred miles away. I gave absolutely no regard or thought to and soon forgot the dire cautionary warning the pastor had given to me.

It was less than a month or so later, if I recall, when I happily arrived back from a long slow trip across the entire USA from West Coast to East Coast to my home headquarters in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

After getting settled in, as it was late in the day, I decided to do a brief “power nap” which would as usual regenerate my body completely in 15 minutes or so. As I lay back, closed my eyes and “let go” to gently fall asleep, an abrupt screeching, raucously loud and unbearable ringing began growing in my head, startling me to full consciousness.

The horrible, inescapable, louder and louder chaotic ringing sound amplified even more greatly and finally reached a critical mass point. The sound was so unbearable, it literally ejected me totally out of my 3-D human body into the 4-D lower astral plane above my bed.

The unbearable ringing sound stopped instantly and I could feel a sentient, creepy dark energy trying to squeeze the life out of me.

I realized immediately it was a powerful black magician attack, aimed to sever the ethereal silver cord that connected my I AM spirit to my physical body. If successfully snapped or broken, it would be the death of my human body and the sudden end to my “mission” on Earth.

I surprisingly knew exactly what to do!

I thought, “I need to center myself in my Christ Consciousness,” and as I did, quick as a FLASH, a incredibly bright white, white light literally expanded from the center of my ONENESS.

My sudden huge field of light surrounded my entire being in all directions around me for what appeared to be at least 100 yards from where I hovered.

My mighty sudden blast of purest snow-white light had instantly catapulted the monstrous dark energy being a long distance away from me–like a rocket.

I watched and marveled as “it” roared, thrashed, and lashed this way and that in unrestrained rage, trying to find a weak spot in my energy field that it could penetrate to get back to me and suddenly end my life embodied in human form.

I had a high clear visual perspective from my Mighty I AM Presence above me and within me. Being centered in ONENESS, I was fearless as I saw this dark, ugly, snarling, raging huge monster darting here and there, looking to find an entryway back to my rudely disembodied being. It did not seem to want to give up in it’s determined aim to “do me in.”

At last, it began losing energy and force and its roaring, snarling and raging became weaker and weaker. I watched and waited until I knew that it was no longer anywhere near me and then realized. I had a new dilemma.

I had never experienced a conscious out of the body ejection before, and try as I might, I could not figure out what to do to get back into my motionless, seemingly lifeless body below.

Then an idea hit me. I could see I was laying on my side on the beautiful sky-blue bed cover of my king-size bed and lay on my side, with my head facing a bedroom closet door. “If I used my will power to open my eyes and look at the brown knob of the clothes closet only a few feet away, that might attract me back into my body.” The next moment, exactly as conceived, my eyelids opened slowly and I was CONSCIOUSLY staring at the mahogany-brown door knob, with a total vivid recall of the black magic attack on my life.

I gave thanks for still being humanly embodied and able to go on with my still ongoing life mission that had been unsuccessful in two of my former incarnations on the “Wheel of Incarnation.”

When we consciously, mentally KNOW about any “thing,” trusting what our heart already knows through intuitive feeling your or I can DO something about it.

When we know that what we focus our attention on long enough and strongly enough we will “become” that to which we give our precious life energy.

When we look for, ask for, and receive the truth about anything, any matter, any thought, feeling, action, object, or subject, we can then make an “informed” decision or wise choice as to what course to follow.
KNOW that the Universal Energy Field surrounding all of us does not make a judgment as to whether what captures your attention and major focus is 3-D illusion or pure mental delusion or pure imagination, the Law of Attraction goes to work to bring what you give your major focus on must in due time bring THAT REALITY to you.

KNOWING this, fortified by the added knowing that ONENESS is All that Is, we can focus constant daily, moment-to-moment attention on thinking, seeing, knowing, feeling and being ONENESS as the Great Ones like Jesus, Elijah, Buddha, Mohamed, Krishna, etc., did daily.

Our conscious daily enlivened thoughts have power and substance, but only when we intentionally, lovingly, coherently and wholly CENTER our conscious Being in what we desire. Know it. BE it. Believe it.

SaLuSa of the Galactic Federation of Light states: “Thought is powerful, but it needs to be backed by belief if you are to have any chance of achieving your aims.”

IF you desire to be ONENESS, nothing on Earth or in all Creation can stop you. By the universal Law of Attraction, all those Great Ones at higher vibrational levels in creation will happily reach down to help lift you to knowingly think, feel and be that joyful, loving ONENESS you already are at the CENTER of your Immortal I AM Being.

So be it.
Chapter 23

Descriptive Mind IMAGE of the ONENESS of All That Is

Before you, I or we build an individual or collective descriptive IMAGE of the ONENES of All That is, let us individually and collectively lay down some cornerstones or foundations for our ONE mind to work with.

Only the ONE heart–our ONE heart–knows and naturally abides in ONENESS. The individual or collective human 3-D OPEN heart can intuitively “feel out” knowingness about anything or anyone.

The 3-D mind, immersed in seeming straight linear TIME always wants to avoid thinking in abstract terms and will insist that you, I or WE think in terms of “logic,” if we allow it.

Remember, mind is NOT your master, my master or our master unless we individually or collectively allow it our personality I AM Self to be in free-wheeling control of your, my, or our thought.

Using either of the great mind tools of analogy or correspondence, similar to the truth that there is no TWO, but only ONE feeling, knowing heart in ONENESS of All That Is. Likewise in TRUTH or in actuality, as entrained 3-D human mind perspective would prefer, absolutely only ONE mind in the ONENESS of All That Is.

Think it through now.
It is through sharing ONE MIND in All That Is, the seeming abstract but very real TELEPATHIC thought IS possible and absolutely at the core or center of all languages spoken on Earth and all orderly communication within the ONENESS of All That Is throughout all CREATION.

NOW going back to basics: ALL that you, I or we perceive and interact with, without exception, is NOT outside of us. To the 180-degree contrary, what you, I or we sentiently see, feel, touch, taste, smell; what we actually perceive via our 3-D human body is literally WITHIN us.

When you perceive ME and interact with me (and all of 3-D seeming “physicality”), you perceive and interact with ME. I AM NOT outside of you. I am WITHIN the ONENESS of All That Is.

NOW, please reverse that thought and mental IMAGE. Via ONE mind, what you and I (and everyone) perceive and interact within our 3-D human family collective on Earth is absolutely and ONLY WITHIN me and you.

Apply this same exact correspondence and thought to the dear household pet you have or had.

When your dog, cat, bird, ant, dolphin, wise old owl or any other sentient life form a dolphin looks at you, me or All That Is, as perceived by it ALL seen and seemingly interacted with is NOT outside, but positively and absolutely INSIDE that pet or ant or wise old owl.

IF you truly PONDER all of the above or “think it through,” (as one of my early life, greatly loved, truly honored, world-known and highly respected lifelong 3-D master mentors, Manley P. Hall, was fond of saying), the following text will be easier to mentally comprehend.

Make it a conscious positive habit to think from the WHOLE to the PART whenever surveying or trying to understand any aspect of field of life in 3-D is wise.

Yet, in trying to grasp a more concrete 3-D mental image of ONENESS of All That Is, you, me, WE must reverse our thought to a “mirror IMAGE” perspective.

As you do this, remember SIZE in 3-D reality is pure illusion for greater in size may be far lesser in power, and vice versa.

Instead of trying to surround human mind AROUND a humanly mental image of All That Is, begin understanding ONENESS by seeing or imaging your own Mighty I AM self identity as a tiny dot of bright white, white light WITHIN the HEART of your humanly embodied being and see that within the ONENESS of All That Is in whatever you perceive and whomever you interact with.

I AM, you are, WE truly are–literally collectively ARE, regardless of seeming size, from a 3-D dream world perspective–each and all, a unique, ONE of a kind, bright SUN in the vast, endless, infinite, eternal, Heavens of immortal existence WITHIN the ONENESS of All That Is.

See all as ONE in you, for there are no TWO in ALL of CREATION.

To the Heart Belongs the Kingdom

GOD SAID:

Your compassion is greater now. Your compassion for every living thing is greater. As your joy increases, you have a greater grasp of others’ perceptions and what they go through. You have gone through what they grow through now.

Now you have given up the sadful vision. You have thankfully traded it in for happiness, and now your heart flutters, and now you see through the pain of others, and your heart comes closer to theirs. Now compassion becomes blessing.

You always wanted other people to think like you and be like you, but this is different. In this compassion, your heart beats a salute to those you feel compassionate for. Now it is for you to see the seeming others in tandem with the joy you live. The joy you live, you can only give it away. You can only send it everywhere.

Do not think of the opening of your heart as wounding. Opening your heart is tender, but it is not wounding. A heart that contributes to the healing of other hearts cannot be wounded. Tender, yes. Wounded, no. A sensitive heart such as yours beats in My heart. You are to be a salve to all other hearts in the world. You are to tender the hearts of all living things.

You do not bow down to other hearts. You lift them up. They do not have to note your compassion. It’s just that you have to have it. You bless as you move along. You bless all hearts because they are yours and because there is nothing else to do. You cannot do any less.

Now, let Us together bless all the hearts that are like wounded birds, and help them to get their wings and fly away from any suffering and to reach Heaven where We sit now.
Not one sparrow is to be hurt. All living Beings, big or small, are to engender joy. All are learning that perceived suffering is not needed. It serves no purpose but to increase hurt. All are done with the hurting mode now. Now a blessing mode is acquired. It is not really acquired. It just is being used. Joy has come to the forefront. As hurt recedes, joy jumps in. Toss in the joy, beloveds. Pick up your joy of heart and pass it from heart to heart the way a basketball is passed across the court.

Your heart was never for yourself alone. It was always to expand itself and so expand the world. Your heart is meant to be the Heart of Hearts. Your heart was meant to reach everywhere. Your heart has always reached everywhere. And now you send a higher note. Now your heart is the bird singing across the Universe. Now you are blessing the world with your heart. Now your heart rules the world. Now your heart is the metronome of the entire Universe. You are the one who sets the tone for others to follow.

Your heart was always more than you credited it with. Your heart was always reflecting the song in Mine. Now you know, and your knowing makes all the difference in the world. It makes all the difference to the world.

Whose world did you think this was anyway? Did you think it was someone else’s? Did you think that this very world you live in wasn’t yours? Did you think it didn’t belong to you, or you to it? What were you thinking, beloved? What were you thinking?
But, no matter, it is not a matter of thinking. It is a matter of heart. To the heart belongs the Kingdom. To your heart belongs the Kingdom. In your heart, I rest.

Chapter 25

The Divine Absolute Governing LAWS of CREATION

IS there perfect Divine Order, Balance, Justice and Ever-Governing Divine LAW, within and throughout ALL of CREATION within the ONENESS of All That Is?

One word says it all.

ABSOLUTELY!

ONENESS of All That Is truly abides within ALL and is the ONLY Central Prime Source of ALL that lives and occurs WITHIN and seemingly around your and my 3-D humanoid sentient awareness of “I AM” BEING.

It is why I often have stated in my many lectures, workshops and books, and on radio and TV, the absolute TRUTH within ONENESS there “there are no accidents” in ALL of CREATION.
We will probe into the essence and “spirit of” a few of these major currently humanly identified long-known governing Laws of Creation. Within that Divine Body of known spiritual rules and laws gathered by sages and seers of old” is the central core what is now known as the ancient secret sacred Mysteries. These will be covered in Chapters 26, 27 and 28.

Chapter 26

LAW: The Law of Attraction

We already spoke to the Law of ONE, in Chapter 3, now let us move our attention to another major law in creation, the powerful magnetic “Law of Attraction.”

What Is the Law of Attraction?

Think of the Law of Attraction as an all-wise, powerful, personal Universal genie. This highly sensitive Law is serving us personally—at each moment—and is at our instant personal command.

The Law of Attraction never makes a mistake. This is why there are no accidents. When we understand and use this ever present, always immutable Law of Creation, we cannot fail to draw what we desire to us.

The Law of Attraction draws what you focus your attention on to you.

The Law of Attraction does not judge your motives. It simply and accurately delivers a full measure of what you focus your attention upon.
The Law of Attraction never stops.
The Law of Attraction never fails.

Why the Law of Attraction Works

The Law of Attraction is that aspect within all Creation that constantly seeks a state of balance. Without it there would not be the perfect state of order observable in all Creation.

Instead of orderly progression of Galactic, Solar, Planetary, Human or Cosmic events, if the Law of Attraction was not always present and at work throughout all Creation, there would be a colossal state of chaos all around us.

No Universe or life forms could continue to exist in such a chaotic state of imbalance.

This is why the Law of Attraction—working from the overview of all Creation—can be at work wherever needed at the exact right moment. Without this Law, the expansion and extension of this Universe would not be possible. Creation and co-creation depends on the Law of Attraction to keep adding new dreams, for without dreams we perish.

We now come to a possible vital quantum jump in your understanding.

The Universe we live in can only be added to.

The Law of Attraction makes certain of this. Keep it simple and you will understand why it is so.
That you always get what you give, or you become what you give your attention to, is why the Law of Attraction works.

If you have a negative thought, simply drop it and move on to a better feeling thought. You have a time lag so your vibration is not going to drop down IF you make a switch to a higher vibratory feeling as soon as you recognize an unwanted thought and discard it. Thoughts come and go. Since the average person is estimated to have as many as 50,000 different thoughts in each 24-hour day, that is really no big deal.

What counts is what you hold or focus your thoughts upon. What you invite into your head and your heart is what you get in your personal world. Love breeds loving events in our lives. Fear breeds fearful things in our lives.

One more vital point: you cannot ignorantly be against or anti something and thus get rid of it. When you focus on what you are against you give it more life and more power in your world. Your intent may be good, but your knowledge of how The Law of Attraction works is lacking.

When you instead focus wisely on what you desire, you give it life and more power and presence in your world. All wise mentors teach you to focus on the solution and not on the problem. They understand the Law, as now perhaps you do. You always receive more of what you keep your attention upon. Focus on poverty and lack of money to pay bills or to buy bare life survival needs and the Law of Attraction can only bring you more lack until you wake up and switch your focus to thoughts of abundance instead.
HOW THE LAW OF ATTRACTION WORKS

Perhaps one of the finest ways to describe how the Law of Attraction works is presented by God Creator Source directly in one of the daily “Heavenletters” that God Creator’s steadfast scribe Gloria Wendroff has received every day for far more than 4300 days.

With Gloria’s kind permission, I include the following (and several more) Heavenletters(tm) in this book.

I also faithfully include one of these terrific Heavenletters(tm) in my “Michael Worldwide Newsletter” that goes out to thousands of subscribers worldwide daily. The God Bank

God said: It is like there is a God Bank. Everyone has an account in good standing. Actually, We could say that you have an x number of accounts, all good in the God Bank. We could say you have seven accounts. We could also say you have an infinite number. We could call these accounts levels of consciousness. We could call them many things. +
Regardless, all you have to do is to walk in, and you will be greeted, and you will have easy access to your accounts. You will not have to register. You don’t need a password. You will not even have to sign in. You will be greeted, and you will have a great smile on your face. No forms to fill out. No security to go through. Easy access. Open door policy. No revolving doors. No need to take a deep breath before you enter.

You may be timid about coming to the Great God Bank. You may think you are not stylishly dressed enough. You may think the marbled halls are for others but not for you. And, yet, you have been invited, beloveds. In fact, you are sent invitations daily, even oftener than that. You just aren’t sure what you did with the invitation, or you forgot you had it, forgot to bring it and felt you’d better go back and get it, even though that’s not necessary.

Maybe you received your invitations and hadn’t opened them yet. They’re piled up on your desk or kitchen counter. And, oh, yes, you were busy with other things that pushed their way in. Or perhaps you do recollect all the invitations, but you filed them. You want to do it right, perfectly, and you are waiting for a better time before you walk in. Perhaps you are waiting for a lightning bolt from the sky to come down and get you.

The God Bank is a come as you are affair. There is no distinction made at this bank. It is for all. It is a common bank for all. There is no check list of requirements. That’s what you have to understand. There is nothing you have to wait for to gain entrance. I have been waiting for you. Calmly, of course. I do not tap My foot nor look at My watch. I simply call to you to come join Me, to come and make yourself at home in the palace of My love.

There is nothing to it, beloveds. Come now. The God Bank is open around the clock. Of course, there is always the ATM, but I am speaking of courteous service at the God Bank proper. There are no lines to wait in, You are always first. Certainly, there is no last. Beloveds, you are an owner of this bank. You have an unlimited credit card in your pocket, You are never charged interest. There are no fines, no penalties. There is free exchange here. Love is love, and it is for all. And there is no limit.

There is no top, no cut off. Fresh love here. Fresh every day, and it never gets stale. It is all love for the asking. Come in. Reach your hands into the coffers and take all you want. Give to the poor, and there will be no poor. When all are rich, neither rich nor poor will be known. Only love will be known. Love is not a commodity at the God Bank. It is simply the medium of exchange. It is not printed nor minted. It is not rubber-stamped.

It is all original, and it comes from the Source of Almighty Love.

The beautiful metaphors expressed through Gloria Wendroff certainly clearly explain how the Law of Attraction works. The Law of Attraction is like an ultra, all-knowing personal banker who knows exactly what you have deposited into your own unique bank account of life.

The Law of Attraction stands ready AT ANY INSTANT to give you exactly what you ASK to be drawn from your limitless reservoir being held securely in your life bank.

Now let’s seek to understand more clearly WHEN you receive what you withdraw from the infinite resources you have stored “in escrow” in your personal life bank.

WHEN THE LAW OF ATTRACTION WORKS

The Law of Attraction knows exactly what and when you are making any of your deposits or withdrawals from the infinite Universal Pool or All That Is. You give an instant signal to the Law of Attraction to “go to work” for you the moment you place your personal attention upon any subject or object in Creation.
What you give your attention to becomes by Law your co-creative contribution to the extension and expansion of the Universe. Your active co-creation starts the moment you give your precious personal attention to anything or to anyone. When you think about anything, your thought is like writing a check to deposit into your personal life bank.

You are personally and literally buying what you give your attention to.

Fortunately, thanks to the time lag buffer, you have free choice to change your thought and thus withdraw your attention from what you realize you do not want before it manifests.

The daily choices you make moment-to-moment determine when the Law of Attraction goes to work to add to or deduct from your account.

It accepts and processes whatever checks, whatever you wish to deposit or whatever you wish to withdraw in that exact amount in that precise moment when your attention is decisively added to or withdrawn from any subject or object.

Chapter 27

LAW: Like Attracts Like

Why does sand filter and gather with sand, or bees with bees and birds with birds?
The powerful Law of “Like Attracts Like” works side-by-side with the likewise greatly magnetic Law of Attraction.

YOU RECEIVE WHAT YOU GIVE

You always receive MORE OF what you keep your attention upon.

Focus on poverty and lack of money to pay bills or to buy bare life survival needs can only bring you more lack.

Like attracts like— if you focus on lack, you receive lack. The more you focus, the more you lack until you WAKE UP and switch your focus to thoughts of abundance instead.

Chapter 28

LAW: As Above, So Below

A Heavenly Host, via telepath Jane Roberts, revealed decades ago that any single cell in your body or nine contained and retained all the information in it to reproduce the entire Universe.

In essence, what SETH disclosed is that in the ONENESS of ALL, exactly what GOD said directly face-to-face to me, so to speak, at my death experience as related earlier in this volume. “As above, so below” is a “mirror” principle within all Creation.

In that same light, somewhere within one or more of my books, I addressed the fact that the world you or I see around us, the state of our 3-D surroundings, the kind of friends we attract and interact with, the orderliness of our world in our daily life, is literally a “mirror state” of our soul.

Dr. Walter Russell, known worldwide as “The ‘Leonardo da Vinci’ of the 20th Century” understood and wrote scientific treatise upon treatise on various scientific and philosophic subjects including the Table of Elements, and was discoverer of new elements in the Periodic Table. He also created the Home Study Course in Cosmic Consciousness with Lao, as reported below. It is still available to anyone aiming to achieve Cosmic Consciousness.

I was fascinated decades ago by a masterful treatise Walter Russell wrote explaining the As Above, So Below “mirror” mechanism innate in all creation.

Walter explained that a FREE energy system could easily be constructed using multiple mirror reflection replications, beginning with a tiny candle flame mirrored through successive larger magnifying lenses. These could and would build up temperatures hot enough to boil water, which would release enough continual FREE steam pressure to run all the electricity needed to power homes and industries in any big city or small village anywhere worldwide.

Most of us know through childhood experiments that the heat and light from the sun shining through a small magnifying glass will soon be hot enough to start a piece of paper on fire, so using this mirror effect to create a FREE energy system makes sense to me.
Walter Russell was a master sculptor, master painter, and a master artist, as well as a master in many other fields. He often drew nice pencil sketches, showing how even though it appears 3-D motion is straight line “circular,” it is actually a SPIRAL motion, and that in 3-D time-space any motion FORWARD, has a perfectly synchronized equal and opposite BACKWARD motion, mirroring the same exact time-line moment.

Do an internet search on “Dr. Walter Russell.” I am certain you will find volumes of information about him and his great contribution to humanity on Earth via science, philosophy, art, etc. He produced many award-winning paintings and sculptures now on display in the Walter Russell museum. A huge stone figure of Christ high on the mountain beside the huge converted palace was sculptured by him.

This is what one website I found had to say about him:

Walter Russell

Genius Inherent In Everyone!

This is what Walter Russell (1871-1963) proved convincingly during his lifetime. After leaving school at the age of 9, in order to earn money, he very successfully explored (amongst others) music, literature, architecture, painting, sculpture, natural sciences, new ways towards a healthy economy, philosophy and mysticism as well as figure skating, horse breeding and dressage.

Together with his congenial wife Lao, he founded a private university for distance learning, the University of Science and Philosophy, in Swannanoa, Virginia.

It still exists today and their Home Study Course in Cosmic Consciousness helped many people to unfold their consciousness.

A detailed biography of Lao Russell, his second wife and intellectual (true soulmate) companion who was born in 1904, was published in 2005. It also contains a lot of information on Walter Russell.

Moreover a beautiful description of his life by his friend and companion Glenn Clark was published in 1976 entitled “The Man Who Tapped the Secrets of the Universe.” It contributed to making Walter Russell known in wider circles, but did not deal with exact dates and sources.

You can find a summary of Walter Russell’s life in the section “Biographical Data.”

Lao and Walter Russell both knew they were destined lifelong SOULMATES on first sight. I never met Walter personally in this lifetime, and he made his bodily exit in 1953 at age 91.

However, his dear loving, so very lovely soulmate wife Lao Russell attended a sermon I gave at my Church of Humanity in Washington, D.C., USA one Sunday morning in 1974, a full decade after Walter Russell made his exit. We quickly soon became close spiritual friends.

Lao Russell was 30 years younger than Walter, similar to my dear soulmate Maria being 33 years younger than me and whom I knew instantly was the soulmate I had foreseen was destined to be in my life a few weeks before our first encounter.

Lao Russell, still a slim, elegant regal, beautiful lady at almost 70 years old in 1974, was also a published author.

She wrote several great spiritual study books, one titled Love, which I quickly read.

I was drawn to the snow-white cover with the single title word Love artistically inscribed in bright metallic gold—a book I love greatly and still fondly possess.

Since I already knew who Walter Russell was and greatly admired all that her dear Walter had done so masterfully for humanity on Earth during his outstanding life journey, Lao invited me to visit her home. I stayed in a guest room for a weekend in her magnificent white stone palace home atop a mountain in Swannanoa, Virginia.

She said it was only about a three hour drive from Washington, D.C., to her palatial home, if I wished to see some of Walter Russell’s masterful work in their museum located in the palace.

The immensely huge palace had been seen by both of them in Italy and was for sale. They bought it on the spot. It was taken apart, marked carefully stone by stone, brought by ship from Italy and then hauled up the mountain by truck. Construction was overseen by award-winning master architect Walter Russell and it was quickly and masterfully rebuilt on that beautiful Swannanoa, VA, mountain top.

After Walter died, the palace was converted to a public museum that held and exhibited many of Dr. Russell’s magnificent works of art.

About ten years ago, Lao has made her own bodily exit, but my soulmate Maria and I visited the Dr. Walter Russell museum in a visit to the USA. Being an Austrian, Maria was keen to do as much sight-seeing of the USA as possible.

If you are traveling or live near the Walter Russell museum in Swannanoa, Virginia, USA, put this on your “must see” list.

Chapter 29

LAW: The GREATER Contains and Rules the LESSER

To the point, as common sense would intuit or know, whatever is the “greater” can and does contain the “lesser” in any interaction, but conversely, the lesser cannot contain the greater.

A gallon container can hold a quart of water but a quart container cannot hold a gallon of water.
A 20-ton tractor, with 10 times the weight and power, could push a two-ton tractor pushing against it all over a field. But a two-ton tractor with one/tenth the weight and power is never going to be able push a 20-ton tractor that is pushing against it.

Extend that thought to a more metaphysical analogy.

The greater can control and rule the lesser, but the lesser cannot control and rule the greater.

A 5-D Ascended Master of Wisdom can understand and rule both herself and all life and activity in her own life form and space as well as all life forms and space in dimensional levels beneath her.

However, an unawakened humanly embodied soul on Earth, having a problem understanding and responsibly ruling his or her own sentient life-form and space in the 3- or 4-D can never “contain” or “rule” a 5-D Ascended Master in any way.

Chapter 30

AS A RULE: Means Normally SO

But is NOT a LAW

Again, temporal manmade “law” and eternal Universal Law are a world apart.

In studying spiritual truth, an aspirant will soon know that a Law is a Law, like LOVE is LOVE and LIGHT is LIGHT, and no man or power in creation less than ONENESS of All That Is can alter or nullify any Universal Law.

A LAW can only be altered by ONENESS of All That Is. Recently the “free will” given to each and all humanly embodied souls on Earth was exempted when ONENESS “ruled” that from here on, the FREE WILL use of individual or collective nuclear force to intentionally harm another person or nation would no longer be in effect.

If you wish to understand more clearly why, please obtain and read the Matthew books or excerpts from the Heavenly Hosts or Galactic Federation of Light, who explain why FREE WILL to misuse deadly nuclear power was ruled out by ONENESS of All That Is.

You and I often read of or use ourselves the term, “as a rule” this is what happens, or that “as a rule” this is the way things go. It clearly means that it is not a certain, absolute TRUTH or an eternal LAW of Creation, but more that it is the “usual” way. For example, the proven odds of throwing a pair of dice and coming up with a seven in five times in a row are a million to one. “As a rule,” you would not ever throw a seven five times in a row.

A master mentor will often use the term, “as a rule.”

If you keep your focus on something good soon to happen, “as a rule” it will soon occur.

As a rule means it could happen based on the fact that in the past, it happened over and over again.
As a rule, most sheep in a herd may have white fur, but that is not stating a LAW.

As a rule, only one family member in a big family may turn out to be a black sheep, or “different” than other family members,

I remember my mother saying, pleading to me one day with great concern: “Russell dear, why can’t you walk like everyone here in town walks? People are saying you walk like you are better than everyone else. Can’t you walk like everyone else walks?”

I was a little distraught, wondering how I could change how I naturally walked. I unthinkingly carried my body straight, not tilted slightly as most farmers or rural folks who seemed to plod along or lean forward as they walked. That seemed unnatural to me!

BALANCE IS THE KEY

On the other side of the coin, at about that very same time, as I passed by the only movie theater in our little town of Bridgman, Michigan, the ticket seller called me over to her booth. She said to me, “You know I’ve been working her for two years, and see everyone waling by, and I just had to tell you, you have the most graceful and easy-going walk I have ever seen in my lifetime.” This more than balanced out my dear mother’s perspective of “how strangely I walked” as neighbors or others objected to my “bearing” when I walked.

Living by rule is a social construct activity and may, or may not, be soul-fulfilling.
Compare this to “living by responsible LAW” as a student or Master of Life understands and intentionally adheres to as a way of life and what I know and call the “good life” (GOD life), as all the Great Ones understood and lived by daily.

As a rule, I do what I love and I love what I do and SO have the I AM that I AM lived for many awakened years. Like you, I too am so thankful to be in “end times.”

I too look forward to our imminent Golden Age and mass human ascension from 3-D to 5-D, knowing and rejoicing in the Eternal Now in ONENESS of All That Is. Each and all of us humanly embodied on Earth NOW who choose will joyfully leave “living by rule”–leaving all darkness behind. We will celebrate and BE, consciously living freely together by LAW in the Light, Love, Peace and eternal JOY and BLISS of fully conscious, immortal ONENESS of All That Is.

The End Times: Final Golden Age on Earth

As stated earlier in this volume, a huge, profoundly life-changing event as foretold by Heavenly Hosts is about to happen. It will be so huge an event that it will burst through the worldwide major media blackout held for so many decades by the dark Illuminati criminals. These criminals have worked night and day to suppress TRUTH in an all out effort to make every humanly embodied soul alive on Earth a total, almost mindless slave with no rights or freedoms.

As I posted in my October 15, 2012, daily email newsletter, SaLuSa, known worldwide among Lightworkers as a major spokesperson for the Galactic Federation of Light, has forecast:

.... any laws and legislation taking away your rights will be reviewed. The cunning of the dark Ones has gradually taken them away without you realizing what has been happening.

As you must know by now, you have all but been on the verge of TOTAL ENSLAVEMENT, but that is no longer possible.

It will not be long before you are FREED from the controls that have taken away your freedom.

World peace must come and it will be declared before very long.

Wars are like a pestilence and have achieved nothing but misery and debt amongst the nations involved. Think of the number of families torn apart by senseless war action and the loss of loved ones. War is a brutal game and has become more devastating as technological advances are made in weaponry. Like everything else that has no place in the future, it cannot maintain its existence and must fall into disuse. You know, and we know that if the same energy had been put into achieving world peace, you would have had it many, many years ago. You could have been living in complete unity and enjoying a good standard of life, without poverty or need.

Of course the peace that we talk about is to be yours anyway, and will come much quicker than you might anticipate. We have been working with your authorities for a long time to bring it into being, and if possible we aim to bring it in before the year is out. It is something that we will be allowed to enforce, and have the capabilities to do so.

Nothing can be hidden from us, and we will also know if we are being lied to when agreements are drawn up. We would consider that unlikely as by then the “right” people will be leading each nation. There is no time to play around with the future of you all, therefore we will only deal with those who are positive minded and have your best interests at heart.

I am SaLuSa from Sirius, and thank those who work diligently and honestly to bring back your freedom.

Insights Into Our Soon-to-Be Golden Age on Earth

You know now, if you have not consciously known before, that whatever you give your attention or prolonged focus upon may soon become your human physical body and soul being reality. I hope you will join me in envisioning daily upon what kind of a happy, body and soul-fulfilling life you foresee and strongly desire for yourself and for your many dear loved ones in our now soon-to-be manifest Golden Age on Earth.

Gleaned from a mass of what I know in my heart and soul to be true prophecies and spiritual future insights made by reliable Messengers of God, here is what I envision in your and my near future. This glory will be shared, of course, with our loved ones, our dear friends, and all of humanity who are choosing to personally experience our transforming “end times” Golden Age and mass body form ASCENSION that takes more vivid shape and form before us daily.

WHAT I FORESEE

I see a series of disclosure reports telling of the legal arrests of a majority of world government leaders, and senate and congress members in our USA.

President Obama will be an outstanding exception since he is and always has been working to unseat Illuminati dark cabal government heads in all major nations on Earth. He will surely be a leading spokesman to publicly introduce the Galactic Federation of Light worldwide.

I see an almost continual stream of international public disclosures, of doing away with the current dollar and Euro and introducing an entirely, already printed international currency, backed by gold, in a totally reformed, completely honest banking system worldwide.
I see debt forgiveness deployed immediately for everyone worldwide, as well as for any nation indebted to another on Earth.

I see peace, harmony and joy growing upon the faces and hearts, souls and minds of each and all of us on Earth. I see troops coming home as peace treaties now being signed by nations all over our globe come into effect, legally ending all wars on Earth.

I see, as disclosed by SaLuSa, all weapons upon our earth surface, in military underground facilities, etc., instantly and completely neutralized forever.

I see all troops worldwide dismissed from the armed forces, for none exist anymore, and coming jubilantly home to their beloved nations and family of loved ones and friends.

I see all manmade laws that do not serve us each and all fairly repealed immediately, and all the rights and freedoms set into our USA Constitution by the founders restored to not only USA citizens, but equally so to all citizens in all nations on Earth.

I see all national borders removed and all travel restrictions removed, including any need to show passports or identity when moving freely at will through any existing nation on Earth or in the Inner Earth Agartha world.

I see every single living human soul on Earth who is in need, lost, thirsty, cold, hungry, ill, homeless, whatever, having all their individual needs met within days of the physical arrival of the Galactics.
I see all those millions of children work slaves and sex slaves all set free and nurtured and cared for fully. I see all the individuals displaced by war, the refugees, the homeless from violent, raging manmade storms, earthquakes, volcano eruptions, tsunamis and earthquakes sheltered, nurtured and given medical aid.

I see every person on Earth falsely imprisoned released and given restitution for wrong confinement. I see myself volunteering alongside millions of others on Earth to work side-by-side with the Galactics using high tech ET clean-up devices or providing the menial hands-on labor required to make sure Gaia, our dear Mother Earth, cleansed and restored back to her original pristine pure condition planet-wide.

I see the end of slaughter of animals as sources of human food consumption. E.T. technology can create far more than needed poison-free, toxin-free nutritious and tasty food far beyond what we have known and experienced on Earth before the arrival of our Galactic sisters and brothers.

I see free teleportation travel stations at key locations on Earth (technology our U.S. military has uses for more than 40 years). We can step into a sending station in one place, enter a destination and be in a receiving station room in another place anywhere on Earth a moment later, feeling no travel fatigue.

I see small handheld devices that can communicate to any individual anywhere on Earth clearly, in any language on Earth. I see each and all of us who choose to ASCEND with Gaia without experiencing human body death being personally tutored on how to develop innate psychic, artistic or creative abilities.

I see ET high tech devices that can be attached to or beamed into our foreheads that can download knowledge into us in minutes that would otherwise take a hundred years to assess and learn.

I see creative, cooperative interactions between people and nations on Earth worldwide, thus initiating the final Golden Age on Earth we each and all long to share with our loved ones and other Star Nation visitors.

I see Earth becoming an official Star Nation member of our Universal Galactic Federation of Light.

I see light, love, joy, peace, harmony and the aura of Heaven on Earth in the face of every sentient living form within and upon Gaia. I see the final Golden Age on Earth become a living reality for each and every life form within and upon Gaia.

I see you, me and a majority of other souls on Earth BASKING in the bliss and wordless, jubilant, joy as our individual and collective Human Family’s ‘Mighty I Am Presence’ ASCENDS to the 5th-Dimension with Gaia. So be it.

ADD WHAT YOU SEE

Please add what you see, for that further activates and empowers the IMAGE we individually and collectively hold together in our hearts and souls.

You find you can empower yourself even more so if you visit my Russ Michael Golden Key Library website and download a FREE copy of my book, The IMAGE—
The Secret Source of All Personal and Cosmic Power. So be it.

Here is a clip well worth a second read from Ronna Herman’s June 2000 Archangel Michael’s insightful preview of our forthcoming Golden Age life on Earth before and after our mass human physical body ASCENSION.

ARCHANGEL MICHAEL SPEAKS
June 2000
Telepath, Ronna Herman:

Even though you may believe that there must be more failures than successes, the beauty of the plan is this: You were sent out to the far reaches of the universe to experiment, co-create and learn, then were called together again to bring your special God-given talents to planet Earth.

You can all see what the diversity and separation of consciousness have wrought on Earth, but as we repeatedly tell you, the experiment is not a failure. The reunification process is moving forward at an ever-increasing pace as you, the Starseed and the Holy Innocent Ones, awaken and take up the banner of Light.

We have told you the Earth, your solar system and galaxy are gradually being drawn upward into a higher refinement.
Or to put it another way, in order to give you a better understanding, the next step in the Grand Plan for this universe is to glean the positive experiences or energy patterns from the negative; to balance, transmute and transform the negative energy patterns back into neutral cosmic Light substance (It will be as if they never existed), as all moves forward on the next turn of the cosmic spiral.

Not only is the Earth to reclaim her perfected state and gradually lift and clear the density patterns through the gift of divine alchemy or the Violet Transmuting Flame, but the creative thought forms which contain the rich history of humanity’s sojourn on Earth, the wondrous experiences and wisdom garnered the successes minus the failures are being accumulated and stored in the higher realms.

Your astronomers have reported strange bursts of Light and unexplainable happenings in the heavens. If they only knew what is really taking place.

A new galaxy is being formed, my precious warriors. A new galaxy which will eventually seed the next universe. It will be called the Golden Galaxy for it will radiate the golden Light of the Prime Creator.

Allow us to give you a vision, a sneak preview, you might say. What is now being formed is the future Great Central Sun for this new galaxy and the great Beings of Light who will be infused with God’s blueprint and the overall theme for this new creation are presently being called forth.

A SNEAK PREVIEW
Many of the great Beings from far-distant universes who have come to observe the transformative miracles have expressed a desire to be part of this next great undertaking.

Your quadrant of manifested creation is very popular, my friends, it is where the action is. This new galaxy will radiate a golden aura and all manifested worlds in this galaxy will also be infused with varying hues of gold, silver and copper.

No, the streets will not be paved with gold, as described in some of your popular myths of what heaven looks like. Again this is a misinterpretation of the wisdom teachings of the great masters by those who had to make heaven earth like so they could comprehend it. Since gold is one of your most precious commodities, what could be more desirable than streets of gold?

The radiant colours of the higher realms are beyond the imagining of most people. Some of you, in your times of meditation, have tapped into the frequencies of the higher dimensions, and while there have seen the glorious colours and experienced the bliss of communion with the Holy Spirit of God.

Once you experience this blessing, you are forever changed and you will always strive to recapture the feeling. This is bliss you will experience when you incarnate in this new world of Light. While we are on this subject, let me explain that this also holds true for the statement that you are made in God’s image.

The God Force is a great radiant Being of Light and that is what you were when you were projected from the heart of the Creator, not a male (usually portrayed as a wise old man with a long beard), nor a female, or any type of physical body at all. God is pure Spirit without form and yet God is all form and incorporated in all things.

The wise, all seeing, all-knowing Essence known as God cannot be confined to any one form or any one concept, because there is nothing outside of God. You are here because of God, you cannot get away and you cannot hide for your soul and DNA are encoded with God-consciousness which is divine love, divine intelligence and the desire to create in your own unique way. I will give you a glimpse of what this new world will be like:

You will be much taller than you are now (as you were in the beginning on planet Earth), the average Being will be from ten to twelve feet tall. You will have form, but you will not be as solid as you are now. To a certain degree, you will be able to manipulate your form at will, assuming mascu-line or feminine characteristics, so that you may enjoy the duality and broad spectrum of sexual expression.

Therefore, there will be no misunderstandings of the masculine and feminine attributes and no gender restrictions or barriers. Your skin will glow with a golden radiance and your eyes will be of varying shades from light gold to a deep copper colour and they will truly reflect your soul.

You will speak a language, but it will sound more lyrical and will be more a creative expression than to communicate, for you will have full use of all your sensory perceptions: telecommunication or telepathy, clairvoyance or clear seeing and yes, you will be able to communicate with us, for we will all be there together as we were in the beginning. You will not have hair on your heads or bodies, but there will be what appears to be beautiful streams of light flowing from your head.

The predominant colour will be the colour of your major Ray, and other rays will be displayed in a mandala of colours depending on your characteristics and Divine blueprint. In order to satisfy your creative desires for uniqueness, you will be able to arrange these beams of Light in various artistic ways, and you will clothe yourselves in glowing garments of gossamer material which will reflect your thoughts or moods of the moment.

You will bring all positive attributes you have acquired during your journey throughout time and space, and will have incorporated, in varying degrees, the broad spectrum of the twelve Rays of God-consciousness. You will not remember the negativity or painful experiences of your physical incarnations, but you will remember how it felt to work in harmony with the elements and creative forces of nature.

You will be given assignments and training so that you will be well-schooled when it comes to the time to be an active participant in exciting, new creative endeavours. You will serve side by side with us, the angelic forces, as we go forth to fulfill the Creator’s plan for the expansion of the cosmos.
When you agreed to participate in the experiment on planet Earth a promise was made to you that when your mission was completed, if it was your desire, you would have the opportunity to become a co creator and active player in the next level of cosmic evolution, the formation of a golden galaxy.

The Earth has been your training ground, beloveds, and you have learned much. By trial and error, pain and suffering, you are gradually becoming masters of co-creation. You see, you must learn your lessons well, if you are to help create the next paradise world.

Any and all are eligible candidates for this new and exciting adventure, beloveds, all you must do is move into neutrality and become harmless, and then contribute your unique Christ Light, or add your positive vibrational patterns to the Whole as, together, we assist your Earth to be birthed into a star of Light.

This then is an appropriate time to remind you again that you or your loved ones and friends can now obtain a FREE copy of the entire book edition in PDF downloadable Ebook form at my Golden Key Library of my revealing book, The Birth of Earth as a Star.

AWESOME SPECIAL “MATTHEW” UPDATE
June 11, 2011
Suzy Ward, Telepath

Although we hope that none of you is apprehensive about the recent predictions of cataclysms, we shall tell you that there will be no 1000-foot tsunami; no celestial bodies will collide with Earth; radiation from Japan’s Fukushima nuclear plant will not cause population extinction; no plague will annihilate most of the world’s peoples; living underground will not be necessary; the fight for freedom in Arab countries will not ignite World War Three.

Your desires that none of those will occur are added to Earth’s intention that they will not, and the energy produced in the collective consciousness assures that none of those devastating events can be manifested.” Matthew speaks With loving greetings from all souls at this station (Nirvana...’Heaven’ Haven’) this is Matthew.

DARKNESS WILL BE GONE FROM EARTH

Even the most dedicated lightworkers have occasional moments of doubt that everything long promised can be successfully accomplished during the months remaining before Earth reaches the threshold of her Golden Age. This is understandable.

You have only your history as a frame of reference for a realistic time span between the onset of major changes and stabilization afterwards. But this is an era of revelations and transformation with speed and scope unlike any before in universal history, and once again we assure you that all darkness in your world will be gone by the end of your calendar year 2012.
Furthermore, with everything in acceleration mode, linear time will pass more swiftly by the day, and the next eighteen months or so on your calendar will come and go faster than the past eighteen.

What you perceive as time actually is (ONENESS) energy in motion, and as Earth continues her journey toward fourth density, she will enter ever higher, lighter energy planes as she approaches the continuum, where everything that you deem past, present and future is a series of events happening simultaneously.

In this moment you cannot imagine that reality, but you will know it as you gain spiritual clarity and understanding of the universal laws. Ah, what wondrous know-ledge and experiences await you! Now then, back down to Earth, where many of you are asking “When?” specific situations will start-or end.

We know that you are requesting which day or week or month, so we also know that “Soon” is not a satisfying answer. In this moment, however, “Soon!” is all we can tell you, but please notice the exclamation point! That punctuation mark would have been appropriate all along because of the unprecedented speed with which your world has been rising out of deep third density, so why now are we adding that emphasis to indicate that stunning developments are imminent?

The Illuminati have held onto control politically, economically and technologically several years longer than reasonably anticipated when the Golden Age master plan was designed. They know that despite the erosion of their global network, they still can control the population unless spiritually advanced civilizations come to Earth. That would completely doom all of the Illuminati’s dark activities, so they are determined to do everything within their power to prevent the arrival of our benevolent universal family members.

Due to that determination and tenacity, timing adjustments relative to landings have had to be made over and over again, and contingency plans also have had to be altered. A recent example is the globally televised program that was to include space family members was scrapped because essential aspects had not been finalized.

The dark ones among you strategically initiated turmoil in the respective countries of your participating leaders so that they had to divert their time and attention from planning sessions to dealing with the upheavals in their nations. And that comprehensive program’s replacement, a straightforward announcement acknowledging the existence of other civilizations, no longer is considered sufficient.

According to Hatonn, serious consideration is being given to a dramatic display of spacecraft and a simultaneous special bulletin on radio and television stating that the crews have come in peace and will land to assist us in ways that will be enumerated. Discussions are ongoing about the risks of “surprise” vs. the risks of waiting until safety can be absolutely assured for all involved. On one hand, the peak of the Illuminati has not been yet dislodged, and except for starting a nuclear war, those individuals’ freewill choice to take other steps to prevent extraterrestrials from landing must be honored.
On the other hand, Earth is in great need of technology that can rid her of toxic pollution, particularly at Japan’s damaged nuclear facility; that technology, which is aboard the ships surrounding Earth and has been of some assistance ever since the earth-quake damaged the reactors, will be much more effective on site.

There is another issue of urgency too. The nonstop man made geophysical events and weather manipulation is having a double negative effect. The death toll, property damage, financial loss and other hardships to residents in the affected areas is obvious, but the other effect is global and not realized except by the perpetrators.

At the same time that you are continuously adjusting to the higher vibrations Earth keeps traveling into and the influence of the changing juxtaposition of celestial bodies, you are being bombarded with low vibrations emitted by the quake and storm-causing technology, and the combination is producing new or stronger physical, emotional and mental anomalies.

This is affecting persons who otherwise would be in sound health and it is exacerbating the disease of persons with organic malfunctions and weakened immune systems. At the least, low energy and exhaustion are prevalent, and at worst, many individuals are experiencing severe pain, illness, depression and mental confusion.

Only the elimination of those low frequency emissions can eliminate their effects, and because the various technologies being misused are integrated with power and communication systems, dismantling them without interrupting the services you need must be done at the sites.

Security measures preclude unauthorized persons from entering those areas; however, members of our universal family have the ability to bypass those measures and successfully separate the various systems. Those two vitally important situations are the reasons for their imminent arrival, but please do continue being patient. Prudent preparations to manage all potential situations on the ground are imperative, and the locations and timing of landings are crucial factors of overall readiness.

Another consideration is the realistic anticipation that a media blitz of “alien invaders!” will attempt to evoke fear among the masses. Although you will greet landings with jubilation, for most people it is one thing to see crafts in your skies and quite another to see them on the ground. By Illuminati intention, there is an abundance of “entertainment” that reinforces the invasion idea and a dearth of information about the civilizations that have been helping Earth ever since the populating programs started in antiquity.

Consequently, skepticism about strangers’ motives is natural, and persons who believe that they are to be feared will need understanding and truthful information. It may be helpful to have relevant books or printouts of pertinent parts of messages from light sources for family, friends, coworkers and neighbors who are afraid of the “aliens’” presence.
However, feeling fearful is a choice, so please share your knowledge with those who are receptive and do not impose it upon those who are not.

Let us return to the effects of the low vibrations previously mentioned—that is, how you can obtain some relief until the source is eliminated. It is important to not become fatigued and to avoid abrasive personal encounters and crowds. While the planet’s movement into a more favorable celestial alignment will be helpful, the collective energy level at the moment still is unusually low.

Get as much sleep and rest as possible, even if this means foregoing usual activities except exercising in moderation, which also is helpful in keeping yourselves in balance. Walking, not sauntering, at as fast a rhythmic pace as you can manage without overexertion is the best exercise during this time. Spend as much time as possible in natural settings—the energy of trees is immensely beneficial—and listening to soothing music promotes smoother energy flow throughout your bodies.

Eat less than usual, and a diet of primarily fresh fruit and vegetables will be more beneficial because those foods contain more light than cooked foods. Especially now those foods are more easily digested than meat, seafood and starchy foods, and it is advisable to reduce your intake of salt, sugar, sodas, tobacco and alcohol.

DRINK A LOT OF PURE WATER

Drinking a lot of pure water helps your bodies’ electrical systems to function properly, and monatomic gold will be helpful in ridding confusion and permitting clear thought, also in restoring temporarily faulty memory. If you are taking prescription drugs, especially antidepressants, ask your health care specialist if the dosage can be reduced. The chemicals in all drugs always have adverse side effects, and these are exacerbating the effects of the conflicting vibrations.

Actually, all of those suggestions are applicable from now on. As your cells continue changing from carbon to crystalline, you will need less food and you will find light-filled foods more satisfying. Some changes from your former preferences and habits will come naturally in accordance with what your bodies and minds will tell you and other changes from your routine will require discipline.

Now we move on to another timely issue. We have been telling you about the dark minds and hearts that cause death, destruction, suffering and turmoil. The purpose is not to “point fingers,” but to explain what has been going on in your world for millennia, what is happening now and why, and what is yet to come.

The truths about those individuals and their activities will be emerging, and it is vitally important that you regard them from a spiritual perspective. For long ages darkness dominated Earth’s civilizations, and when the planet’s very survival depended upon ending the cycle of third density karma that the darkness perpetuated, certain individuals agreed to create situations and conditions that would give billions of souls the opportunity to experience what they needed to complete their third density karma and evolve into fourth density.
It was a massive collective agreement designed to immeasurably benefit many, many souls. After those individuals fulfilled their commitments to be the “heavies”—and they did that extremely well—the agreement was that they would join the light forces and this part of the galaxy would be rid of all darkly inclined beings.

Instead, they became so attached to the characteristics and behavior their roles required—greed, lust for power, brutality, ruthlessness, deception—that they refused the intense light being beamed to them and they reneged on their agreement.

Regardless of the darkness that became pervasive in those individuals, they are inseparable parts of the Oneness of All, eternal parts of God and unconditionally loved by Him. God will not judge them (God judges NO soul!), but your world will when they are identified and held accountable for what they have done.

Most will deny all accusations; others will admit the truth if it serves their own interests, such as immunity or reduced sentences for helping to convict others; and some will escape your legal and justice decisions by dying prior to the conclusion of their trials and appeals. However, none will escape the consequences of their thoughts, intentions and actions in the “higher court” of lifeprint review in Nirvana, where they will experience every moment of the Earth lifetime.

That process includes their feeling the identical feelings of every person whose life they touched in any way whatsoever, and in many cases, that number is in the millions. Your ideas of hell cannot begin to encompass the reality of what those individuals will experience during the lifeprint reviews or the primitive conditions of their next physical lifetimes.

Rather than the harsh punishment that third density mentality will demand for those individuals who became bereft of light except the spark that is the life force of every soul, compassion and forgiveness will best serve you and all others in the eternal Oneness of All.

This does not mean condoning or excusing any of the actions that continued after those individuals reneged on their soul-level agreements. It means that because all souls in this universe are inextricably related as independently experiencing parts of God, collectively you are family.

Rather than punishing the weak ones in the family, send them light. When all members are supportive of one another, the family is stronger and grows in the love, wisdom and spirituality that are the goal of every soul.
Now we shall return to addressing some issues being questioned.

To parents who are concerned about how to explain to their children why people will die during Earth’s ascension, we say: The same way you explain death to them now. People will continue to die daily from all the causes they do now. It will not be a simultaneous exodus of billions as some theories purport.

As for the care of children whose parents die, that will be no different from now, when other family members or closest friends step in. Children will accept forthcoming changes more easily than adults, whose beliefs and customs that have been molded by authorities and superficial societal standards will require a great deal of adjustment.

Although we hope that none of you is apprehensive about the recent predictions of cataclysms, we shall tell you that there will be no 1000-foot tsunami; no celestial bodies will collide with Earth; radiation from Japan’s Fukushima nuclear plant will not cause population extinction; no plague will annihilate most of the world’s peoples; living underground will not be necessary; the fight for freedom in Arab countries will not ignite WWIII.

Your desires that none of those will occur are added to Earth’s intention that they will not, and the energy produced in the collective consciousness assures that none of those devastating events can be manifested. The godliness of generously sharing with those in need does not extend to forcing your beliefs upon those whose own beliefs are different.

Third density peoples embrace spiritual and universal enlightenment at the right time for each of them, and your ultimate responsibility is your own evolution in those respects.

Many are asking how they can best counter damage being done by a number of disparate sources or can help those who are enduring severe hardships. Rather than inserting all the questions, we shall mention only the specific areas mentioned: financial institutions, military actions, radiation, local and national governing bodies, homelessness, pollution, unjust laws, unfair taxation, poor health care, gasoline prices, deforestation, renewable energy sources, food production and education.

We rejoice at the outpouring of caring about others and the eagerness to participate in transforming your world! Follow your heart, do what you feel inspired to do.

On a practical basis that could be sharing with needy individuals and local charitable groups whatever resources you have—time, talents and skills, knowledge, money, tools and equipment, transportation, shelter—or supporting national and international organizations engaged in environmental preservation or legal, political and economic reforms.

On a higher plane, visualize the world you want for yourselves, your children and their children: a world of love, peace, mutual respect and life in harmony with all of Nature.

Never underestimate your power to turn visions and thoughts into actuality! Our overall guidance in every area where betterment is needed is, Know your godself and live your light! Knowing that love-light, the most powerful energy in the cosmos, is the “ingredient” of souls and the basis on which soul contracts are made is part of spiritual clarity, and expanding that clarity is the purpose of all physical lifetimes of every soul.

The speed at which awareness is available and the scope of enlightenment being offered to your civilization at this time is unique in this universe. All light beings are beaming love to you, and some are walking beside you, unseen but ever present.

LOVE and PEACE

Suzanne Ward.

The End Times: Mass Ascension of HUMANITY on Earth Without Human Body Death

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY “ASCENSION?”

Oct. 15. 2012 STEVE BECKOW WRITES

Ascension in the modern context refers to an event that will occur on or before Dec. 21, 2012 that will see those who are willing and have assimilated sufficient light to endure higher-vibrational settings leave the Third and Fourth Dimensions and enter the Fifth.

The Third Dimension is the Physical Plane that the so-called “living” inhabit.

The Fourth Dimension is connected to the Third and is the Astral Planes that the so-called “deceased” (``dead) inhabit. Of course there is no death. Life itself is continuous, the soul inhabiting and dropping various bodies and passing through many lifetimes.

In this Ascension to the Fifth Dimension, people or souls will see their physical bodies change from carbon-base to crystalline base. This change in composition will enable our bodies to survive in the finer-vibrational setting of the Fifth Dimension. Everything needed for changes like these is already encoded into our DNA.

Gaia, the sentient being that is the planet Earth, will also ascend and leave no living presence in the Third Dimension.

Those who choose not to ascend will be removed to other Third- or Fourth-Dimensional settings, all care being given to them, to carry on a life in the Third Dimension while embodied and in the Fourth Dimension when free of the body.

In past Ascensions, the body was left behind, with the exception of two known to us – that of Jesus and Ezekiel, who went “up to heaven” bodily.

“Heaven” itself is a term that the ancients used to indicate the Fifth Dimension or Mental Planes. When we say “the seventh heaven,” we’re indicating the seventh subplane of the Mental Planes or Fifth Dimension.

Ascension is happening now because we’ve reached the end of one solar cycle and the beginning of another. Hindus say we’ve reached the end of the Kali Yuga or Dark Age and are entering the Sat Yuga or Golden Age. Westerners speak of the end of the Age of Pisces and dawning of the Age of Aquarius. And other cultures have their own ways of referring to this transition in cycles.
It isn’t onerous to ascend. No heavenly Father with a white beard sits in judgment on us and chooses who will ascend. The qualifications are scientific: (1) a person must choose to ascend, and (2) a person must have assimilated sufficient light to make existence in a more rarified environment bearable.

Another way of discussing what must occur is to say that 51% of our own negativity must have been cleared.

The manner in which a person assimilates light is determined by the extent to which they can love. All other distinctions around the cultivation of the divine qualities like joy, compassion, wisdom, integrity, etc., are all derived from, dependent on, or based on the ability to love.

Once ascended, we’ll experience unitive consciousness (the sense that we are all one), new spiritual abilities (to create and travel by thought, to modify our form, etc.), increased bliss and well-being, a huge expansion in our knowledge, and many other qualities that accompany the setting free of the capacities of the soul that occurs in higher dimensions.

Sickness, disabilities, and old age all will be gone. There will be no negative conditions such as poverty, homelessness, want, etc. We will literally be in “heaven” in the sense that, as indicated above, the term “heaven” refers to the Fifth Dimension.

Ascension does involve enlightenment but it involves more as well. Not only do we attain a much fuller consciousness than we have at this moment, but we shift dimensions as well, leave all negative conditions behind, and come into new spiritual powers. These extra developments are not always necessarily associated with enlightenment as we understand it in Third Dimensionality.

This will not be our final Ascension. Every time we pass from one dimension to the next, we are said to ascend. When we pass from one subplane to the next within a dimension, we are not said to ascend. Ascension is the means of completing the journey that each soul takes from God to God (Note from Russ Michael—moves to a greater “Being” of ONENESS of All That is—end of note), from unconscious awareness of our true and divine nature to conscious awareness.

The emphasis in this Ascension is to have the greatest number of people ascend as possible. Everyone will be instructed as to what Ascension is. All possible help will be given to open up those who are closed to love, to end war on the planet, to bring the nations together, to spread global abundance, to allow people time to rest and recuperate from conditions that hold them back, etc.

We may experience strange symptoms such as fatigue, aches and pains, and the rise of upsets and ancient feelings during this time as all that is old and all that may hold us back is flushed up. It makes most sense to attribute everything untoward that happens to us at this time as related to Ascension and nothing to worry about.

The answer to finding ourselves immersed in these unwanted conditions is to accept them, observe them without resisting, and allow ourselves to experience them through to completion, after which they’ll undoubtedly lift.

For the most part, in terms of attitude, a desire to relax into and accept Ascension would probably be the most appropriate attitude to adopt.

Everything possible to assist people who need assistance to ascend will be given. It doesn’t matter where you are; Ascension will find you. It doesn’t matter what you’re doing or not doing for Ascension to occur.

Moreover, waves of light and love are sweeping the planet preparing us for the day (on or before Dec. 21, 2012) when Ascension occurs. Some lightworkers will probably ascend early to model Ascension for the rest.

This end of cycle has been anticipated and prepared for for eons. Everyone needed to help this planet with it is already here and at work.

Lightworkers all over the planet are anchoring the light and love into the Earth.

The rest is up to us.”

SaluSa–a key Heavenly Host spokesperson for the Galactic Federation of Light reminds us...

It requires focus and intent to go forward, but you must understand that whether you ascend is dependent on your level of consciousness. You must apply yourself to whatever your understanding is of being at One with all life, without exception. –SaLuSa– Oct. 8, 2012
ONENESS, whether consciously known and expressed or not, is impossible to break since only ONENESS truly IS.

Though moving into and enjoying the peace, harmony, love, light, and joy of our soon upcoming Golden Age on Earth may be marvelous beyond description. my real goal (and your real goal if you choose) is our rapturous human body ACENSION without experiencing human body death.

ASCENSION is the crowning glory of your and my long ago spiritual descent, down, down, down, to our low vibratory, seeming real 3-D physical reality on planet Earth. The final imminent Golden Age on Earth will be a stepping stone toward and to your and my blissful human body ASCENSION to the pure ultra-white light of the 5-D of the seven dimensions, planes or levels of Divine Human Body Existence.

Never before in the eons upon eons of endless linear time of all CREATION, which is a non-ending creational process, has there ever been a time or place where the Great Experiment of developing a 3-D humanly incarnated spiritual soul in a school of duality, where an illusion that “darkness”–something less than Love or Light–could exist.

The original pristine, pure Garden of Eden we know as Earth is a planetary space where humanly embodied spiritual souls would actually find and form such a rigid belief in a dual spectrum reality.
In this daily earthly living human reality the fantasy of imagined pairs of opposites like light and dark, birth and death, female and male, good and evil, beginning and end, up and down, in and out, abstract and solid, visible and invisible, ad infinitum—has genuine substance or reality.

Never before has there been a conscious decision to have a spiritual soul human physical body incarnation, a human body ASCENSION without a physical body death.

This is why this long prophesied event has drawn countless spectators, not only from the breadths and depths of our own Milky Way Galaxy, but also visitors from many other nearby Universes who heard of this prediction.

Though as stated by Archangel Michael in this volume, the ever-guarding Galactic Federation of Light group, assigned to watching over and protecting humanity, have set a boundary of how close their ships can come as they watch and record these last few moments, from their perspective, of our end times Golden Age and mass human body ASCENSION on Earth.

The Great Beings, known and duly recorded in our human history as mentioned earlier in this volume several times, such as the Ram, Mohammad, Jesus, Krishna, Buddha, etc., all left a dead physical body somewhere on Earth. Each had made an astral exit from their human physical body in order to spiritually ASCEND back up through the 4th-dimensional higher vibratory after-body-death Nirvana haven. Then further up, up into their (and our) genuine spiritual reality of the ONENESS state we all know in our ETERNAL NOW in our 5-D plane of CREATION.

All of The Great Beings of our past and present who have consciously ASCENDED, via their Astral Body to Nirvana and beyond, had to first break or detach the silver thread still attached to the physical body they would leave behind in the 3-D. Of course, without their spirit and soul conscious “Mighty I am Presence” within the body, it caused their instant body death.

This detachment from their body had to be made before they could move on beyond the astral Higher Heaven of Nirvana in our 4-D to become the now existing known or unknown, fully ASCENDED Masters dwelling in the sparkling, white, white light of our 5th-D.

A final vital very relevant disclosure needs to be stated here. Not only are there Masters of Light and Power (a First Ray quality) who have incarnated and ASCENDED from male human bodies throughout all Creation, there are many known and unknown mighty Masters of Light and Wisdom who incarnated and ASCENDED from female human bodies of planets throughout all of Creation.

As revealed earlier in this volume, Mother Mary is a prime example of one who detached consciously from her human female body to ASCEND as NOW a Master of Light and Wisdom (a Second Ray quality).

Bless them all.

Bless us all.

SALUSA SPEAKS

As we survey your world we find that your personal awakening is growing stronger, and people are more ready to speak amongst themselves about Ascension. There are obviously difficulties in conveying what it is going to mean to each individual, but at least a seed of knowledge is sown and it will grow.

Naturally there are plans to give out information on a wide scale, to ensure that people understand what a wonderful opportunity is being given to every single soul. There will still be some disbelief or fear amongst those learning about Ascension for the first time, but when they see others greeting the news with open arms, they will feel more assured about their future. In reality people tend to herd together and your instinct tells you that there is safety in numbers.

It is within families that the most difficult problems are likely to occur, because where they are close knit they like to stay together. The chances are that they will have already planned to go into the future together.

However, there will be instances where perhaps one member will be adamant about following their own feelings, that may be the opposite of what the others have accepted. In those circumstances you must allow that person to exercise their own freewill choice.
Subconsciously every soul instinctively knows what is right for them, and clearly they must feel at ease with their decision. In general families with young children will find that they do progress together as one unit.

As we often remind you, the love bond where families or friends are concerned will ensure that there is always a link between them.

So do not worry that you face permanent separation when one of you takes a different path. In the higher vibrations you can locate each other by thought, and at some point you will be able to travel anywhere instantaneously. In fact as you rise up there is a tendency to become involved in group activities, and as a group consciousness.

Because there are no dark energies at those levels you will understand that every soul you meet has such a great love for every other soul. There is an immediate acceptance, trust and harmony between you all that comes from being at One with All That Is.

On Earth you often feel that you have to “fight” to establish yourself, and you cannot very easily determine who are your true friends. With rampant greed and corruption all around you it is hard to know who you can trust.

That will soon be a thing of the past, and already those of the Light are drawing away from those who are not. It is the Law of Attraction at work and it is a quite natural response, and is why even now you gravitate to people with a very similar outlook. Indeed, when you have incarnated and agreed to work for the Light, you will very conveniently find your compatriots who have also done the same.

You will “feel” more at home with some people rather than others, and that is because you have more in common. Clearly where your life plan is concerned, you are destined to meet certain souls who are also a part of it. That also extends to those who join in marriage, and it has not happened by chance.

In the higher realms you will have the ability to more easily identify with those who are your true brothers and sisters. Often it is because you have come from the same Star Civilization, and are serving in one of the Galactic Federations or Brotherhoods of Light.

There are of course those souls who would rather serve with those who are still developing their scientific knowledge, and they are normally to be found on the different Councils that are involved with that aspect of evolution. So if that is your area of interest, it can continue.

All knowledge is shared and is available to every soul, unlike on Earth where it is misused to establish power over others. That is the main difference you will find when you ascend, and everything is available to all others without exception.

Dear Ones as we see you we find you worry unnecessarily, yet you have many helpers around you who will make sure your life is completed as you intended. You may nevertheless seek something more, but your life plan is really all that counts where your evolution is concerned.
Your present one is the most important one, because you have determined what it is you need to finish up your time in duality. It may not be what you wished for but take it as it comes, as nothing happens of importance without some benefit to you. Also the end times are when you start to release anything connected with the lower vibrations.

When you finally ascend you should only have a minimal amount of karma outstanding, and that will be written off. (NOTE - from Russ Michael - “written off” by the divine loving ONENESS of All That Is “Law of Grace.”

In these final days we suggest you concentrate more on your personal journey, and know that everything else is being taken care of. Be assured when it counts you will see various events manifest the final changes that are in hand, even if you are unaware of the facts.

Of course there are expectations of major changes and Disclosure is edging its way forward. The financial sector changes are high on our list, but it is a mammoth challenge to get it coordinated to avoid too much chaos in the money markets.

In banking their malaise still worsens and as much as they try to overcome it, they have to face an inevitable collapse. That will be the signal for the new systems to be introduced that are ready and waiting.

It is your Ascension that is most important, and you should make sure you are ready and doing your best to help create the New Age around you. Live as you envision things will be after you have ascended, and look upon all other souls as One with you.

You are not expected to be their keepers, but your kindness and love for your fellow souls will bring more Light to Earth. As we see you all the sight is most wonderful, as in such a short time you have created a great blaze of Light that is for all to see in the Universe.

You have truly risen to the occasion and in some ways far more than was anticipated, and you are a credit to the Human Race. There were times when it looked as if you would not make it yet here you are on the verge of Ascension.

I am SaLuSa from Sirius, and congratulate you all for your part in achieving success. We love you all and proudly stand by your side, We are One.”

Thank you SaLuSa. Mike Quinsey.

ASCENDED MASTER HILARION SPEAKS

Beloved Ones,

*Many of you are in the process of the further simplifying of your lives in all of its facets. As more Light enters your personal energy field, you are finding yourselves leaving behind all that would hinder or bind you to the past and the letting go of all that no longer serves your higher purpose becomes much easier.
This process of evaluation and letting go is most prevalent at this juncture of the Ascension process, for all of your habitual thought patterns which you have carried within your minds from early childhood to your present moment come up for review.

It has been a difficult process for you to get to know yourselves and what is truly important to you in the healing and reclaiming of your state of wholeness and personal power.

This is the current step for most of you – the realization that you are indeed the creator of the reality that you are experiencing at the present moment. It has or is, requiring of each of you to look deeply within to observe the patterns of thought that you have, for the most part, subconsciously carried and which have manifested in your reality, perhaps in ways that have created events, situations or circumstances that continue to bring into your lives that which you do not want or envision for yourselves.

Many of you have been amazed and disconcerted by the sudden onset of behaviours and speech that are not your normal mode of conduct. Be aware that these come from the deepest levels of your Being where they most probably have taken root in early childhood and have been suppressed and repressed as inappropriate and unacceptable by the constructs of the society you grew up in.

This is why we counsel that you be good to yourselves as you work your way through this process.
As children, you were innocent and spontaneous in your thoughts and actions. If you were sad, you cried. If you were happy, good spirits were evident. If you were angry, you stamped your feet and freely expressed your feelings with full engagement of all your senses. In your innocence you acted – and were told these actions were not appropriate.

Children simply live in the present moment and do not harbour thoughts of past or future or the complexities of adulthood. They simply experience what is before them at the present moment. This is what living life fully in its truest sense means.

You are all regaining this ability to be in the moment to appreciate all the joys and wonders of creation in its most simplest and basic of ways.

All of the complexities of life as currently experienced are beginning to fall away and what you retain is that which is of the greatest value in the new beginning now opening up before you.

As you journey upon this path, you will recognize those who are beginning to experience the processes that you have already left behind you. Give them compassion, kindness and direction when appropriate.

Always remember that maintaining your highest Light during these times is of prime importance. Stay true to yourselves.

Until next week…

As You Await the Dawn
GOD SAID

As you await the dawn, I await you. I look for you. I seek you. I go out into the world in My seeking for you. I seek you for you, and I also seek you for Myself. I love to be replete with you. I love your awareness of Me. I love you to be aware of Me in your heart, for you are the Heart of God. All are in My heart, and yet I seek you where you already are. I seek your awareness.

It is such a little thing to be aware of Me, to know Me, to hold Me. I am as light as air. You can know Me. You can know Me very personally. This is where joy begins. I must break it to you – you have barely touched love. You do not yet know of the majesty you are. You keep getting closer.
Just a tiny step more, and you will know first hand Our Oneness. You will know your Oneness with All That Is. You will know Me far better than you know your own hand.

Your hand has always been your hand, and, yet, despite the expression of knowing something like the back of your hand, you do not already know your own hand.

Your hand has always been your hand, yet you are a stranger to your own hand. I am your own God. Be not a stranger to Me. I am worth knowing. Reacquaint yourself with Me. Come into My mansion. Rather, bring your awareness of Me into your heart. Bring Me closer to you in your awareness.

I cannot be any closer to you than I am. It is you who will draw Me closer to you. Just a little closer, and you will know Our Oneness.

You will know it like the back of your hand. No, you will know Our Oneness as you have never known anything before. Oneness will surge through you. You will know love as you have never known love before. You will know what you already know.

You will be conscious of it. And when you are conscious of Our Oneness, there is nothing else to be conscious of.

Heretofore, nothing has been enough for you. I am enough for you. You are saturated with Me.

The more you are saturated with Me, the more I rise in your heart, the more you lose yourself.
Losing yourself is great gain. Knowing Me is the only thing to know, for, when you come to know Me, you know yourself. You lose sight of your individuality and gain in Oneness which is the Truth of you. It is the sense of you.

It is not really I that you have to believe in. It is yourself. To know thyself is to know Me, and there is nothing greater to know.

Always you have longed for Me. You may not have known the name of your longing, and yet it has been I right along that you have longed for. You have been buffeted by your desire for Me. You have also been buffeted by My desire for you.

Whatever I desire, you cannot withstand. You cannot withstand Me for very long.

If you want Greatness, know Me. All the things you imagine are great are nothing next to Me. What are fame and fortune next to Me? They do not exist. Next to Me, fame and fortune are baubles. They are toys you outgrow. You can like your toys. They serve a purpose, and, yet, they are not enough.

Never mind, I am bringing you closer to Me. Do you feel it? Do you feel yourself pulled to Me? By all the power in the Universe, and all the power in Heaven, I draw you to Me. I beckon you, and you will come. You are on your way. That is how it is. You are on the A-train to God. I call you to Me. Come along. Come now.”

GALACTIC FEDERATION MESSAGE
19-Oct-2012 Telepath, Michael Quinsey

SALUSA SPEAKS

Here we are on the verge of a great episode in your journey through duality, that will end with those who are ready to ascend leaving your present dimension. It does not mean that everything will change at once, but it will result in you being elevated to a higher dimension where you are with other souls of a similar vibration. It will ensure a life in which you experience a close harmony and joyful relationship with all souls.

The harshness and confrontation you experience now will disappear for good, as those beings who cause such problems are not ready to ascend. Ascension is for those of you who have awakened to their true selves, and aspire to lift themselves up.

When you can accept all others as One with you, and live your life in the manner of giving out Unconditional Love you are a perfect example of one who is ready. If you do not consider yourself to be ready but nevertheless wish to ascend, focus on raising yourself up by doing your best to succeed. You will almost certainly do so as at this time, there are massive inputs of energy to your world and you will attract them to yourself.

You will know it is happening as few souls can receive the energy without feeling the affects. It can be felt as a slight dizziness and a general feeling of lightness within your body. There are other conditions that may lead you to believe that you are about to fall ill, but will soon pass without any affect.

You will certainly find yourself able to remain controlled when faced with disruptive forces, and it is the taming of the emotions that will enable you to reach such a level. At the same time you will be a model example to others who will benefit from your presence.

The Light as ever continues to grow exponentially, and is carrying you forward faster than ever. It will meet its optimum level on the 21st. December 2012 and will trigger the Ascension of Mother Earth and all those souls that are ready to go with her.

By then you will have been re-assured about the safety and future of those who take a different path, and all happens as it should according to Universal Law.

Put simply it states that no soul can move upwards until they have reached a similar vibration. All are cared for and by the time Ascension comes round, each one will be aware of what is to take place. As a cycle ends there are natural changes, that open up the next phase of your journey that endeavors to take you higher.

The opportunities are always there for every soul.

To some extent life continues as before, but already you see the signs of change that are inevitable. How much suffering occurs depends on your Governments, and how quickly they adopt the new ways that are being offered to them. Military might will not delay the changes, although the Illuminati proposed to use it against us if we attempted disclosure and appeared on your Earth.

We can easily deal with such threats but do not wish to create conditions that may rebound upon you. We are all for disclosure as soon as possible but it must be against a peaceful background.

However, it may come when you least expect it, as there is more than one country that will back such an announcement.

You have been patient for such a long time and that is appreciated, but know that events must get underway very, very soon. We are ready and rely on our allies to prepare the ground so that we can follow on.

Until then proceed as normal and take things as they come a day at the time. In time all of your needs will be taken care of, even though some of you will bear more of the inconvenience than others. We are well aware of what is likely to happen, and will not let matters get out of hand.

We have looked after you and guided your path for a very long time, and we have a greater presence now than ever before. We are still unable to de-cloak more of our craft until we have removed the threat against us. Once it is however, we shall put on a glorious display to greet you all.

In the early days of UFO sightings we regularly contacted what you would call “ordinary individuals” yet even so their experiences were deliberately held back from you. We even took them on trips around your Solar System, proving that other planets had intelligent life on them, and still attempts were made to suppress the details.

With disclosure the evidence will be totally undeniable as you are introduced to humanoids from not just your system, but from other star systems. We have been separated from you for far too long, and share your excitement at the thought of meeting you.

The Galactic Federation of Light is not in any way a military set up, but within the Universe there are forces that we need to protect ourselves against.
They are mostly the dark Ones of the Reptilian group, but we hasten to add that there are others of peaceful intent. In your Galactic history there are many stories of mighty wars between civilizations.

However, that era has passed and peace has been declared between the warring factions, and part of our duty is to ensure it is kept. On your Earth there is still evidence of their visits, but they are not always recognized for what they are and ignored because it does not fit in with your accepted version of history.

In fact much of your history is fiction and bears little resemblance to the truth. These are areas that we shall address, as it is important that the facts are known.

Keep looking ahead as events are about to take off, and you will not be disappointed. The dark Ones are as good as finished when it comes to exercising their will upon you.

They are like the toothless tiger, but still to be avoided and kept down until they can be removed. Many of you know who their leaders are as well as we do and we will not allow them to rise up again.

Money still buys them time, but will never buy them their freedom to escape justice for their crimes against you. It is never too late for them to change and would do their record a lot of good, if they relinquished their quest to carry on as before.

I am SaLuSa from Sirius, and see that the midnight hour is starting to chime, so the countdown has begun. So please keep your cool for a little while longer, as all comes to him who waits. God Bless You All.”
Thank you SaLuSa. Mike Quinsey.

OUR TURN NOW

It IS our turn NOW, yours and mine. The turn of each and all in ONENESS who have chosen to ASCEND with Gaia in these wondrous end times has come.

Give thanks! I do! Passionately so, every day with all my heart, soul, mind and bodily being.

Thus you and I are NOW poised on the brink of being the first sentient life form beings dwelling in a human body form to make this first ever fully con-scious, enthralled, joyous, blissful human body ASCENSION without EXPERIENCING physical body DEATH.

So be it.

AND SO IT IS....

Bless us all.
Chapter 34

The RAINBOW Body

SURPRISE!!

JESUS, MARY, ELIJAH, possibly MOSES and ST. GERMAIN, were NOT the only ones known to have ascended their human bodies.

Hundreds of thousands of individuals have already ASCENDED on Earth as disclosed by David Wilcock in this best-seller book, The Source Field Investigations.

Please read and share widely this astounding Rainbow Body disclosure information withheld from mainstream worldwide media all this time.

THE RAINBOW BODY

Could humanity be prepared to move into a “light body” of some kind, as the mystical prophecies of Zoroaster, the founding fathers of America and others seem to have suggested? William Henry and Dr. Mark Gray reveal the widespread prevalence of light-body references in numerous ancient traditions where the human body is transfigured into a new form.

In Sufism it is called “the most sacred body” and the “supracelestial body.” Taoists call it “the diamond body,” and those who have attained it are called “the immortals” and “the cloudwalkers.” Yogic schools and Tantrics call it “the divine body.” In Kriya yoga it is called “the body of bliss.” In Vedanta it is called “the superconductive body.” The ancient Egyptians called it “the luminous body or being” (akh) or the karast. This conception evolved into Gnosticism, where it is called “the radiant body.” In the Mithraic liturgy it was called “the perfect body.” In the Hermetic Corpus, it is called “the immortal body.” In the alchemical tradition, “the Emerald Tablet calls it “the golden body.”²²

Tibetan Buddhism has ongoing reports of the “Rainbow Body” to this very day in which people transform their physical bodies into a new, rainbow-colored energetic form after many years of practice. In many cases, they would complete this process of transformation by meditating in a cave. When they come out, and are ready to graduate to this next level of their own evolution, they will often push their hand or foot directly into the stone. They can now easily flip the stone molecules into time-space, and leave an impression behind and some of these handprints and footprints have been photographed and published online.²³ There are fully 160,000 documented cases of the Rainbow Body in Tibet and India alone.

Kathok monastery in eastern Kham in Sichuan Province, China, has records indicating that over 100,000 within the Kathok lineage achieved this state since its founding in the twelfth century, while nearby Dzogchen monastery was established in the seventeenth century. Both monasteries are of the Nyingma Sect.
Chapter 35

Meditation: Open Door to Conscious ONENESS and Personal ASCENSION

Scribed in 1969, my first book, Why & How of Meditation, was a blockbuster classic!

This deeply inspired (in-spirit-ed) book was read and re-read by hundreds of thousands readers of both hardcover and paperback reprint upon reprint when published by Millennium Publishing House in the 1970s and 1980s! After many years of deep, dedicated daily study learning meditation and the science within and behind what is today termed “The Secret,” I was nudged (urged!) by Djwahl Kuhl (D.K.), my Tibetan Ascended “Master Mentor” to write this book and to begin lecture tours speaking to meditation across the USA.

I could see my first book, The Why & How of Meditation, would be a perfect vehicle to introduce and begin teaching the masses on Earth the secret arcane doctrine of the ancient MYSTERIES, as well.

My second book, Finding Your Soulmate, published in 1970, was a classic bestseller and has been published in 12 languages.

It was soon followed by what are now the more than 30 other self-help books I have scribed to date.

ALL OF MY BOOKS ARE FREE
All 37 of my books are available in English in Ebook PDF editions to read online or download FREE and print to read leisurely. All the books are at our Golden Key Library website: www.goldenkeylibrary.info

You are sure to find, perhaps with astonishment, as you progress in the art of meditation that the most profound mysteries of life are simply expressed.

PLAIN TALK IS BEST

Knowing this, in 1969 I wrote my first book, Why and How of Meditation, using simplest, most ‘plain talk’ I could personally conceive and express.

WHAT MEDITATION CAN DO FOR YOU

NOTE: To collapse time and rush this book focused on knowing of and understanding ONENESS into print hastily, as so little “end times” remains—for THOSE urgently seeking ASCENSION knowledge and more insight into ONENESS, and for the Law of Attraction to deliver it into their hands, in these remaining chapters I am taking various CLIPS of information relating to the theme of any of these chapters from other books of mine already published.

This clip in from my book on meditation:

“Which is it? Bread or honey? Love or money? High or low? Which way should I go?

“How would you like to be an outstanding genius in your favorite field of work or an individual famed and talented in many fields? How would you like to learn truly to love everyone regardless of their faults or to be a peacemaker in the troubled affairs of humanity? Impossible, you say? Not so! Think again!

“Ordinary people here on earth have attained, documented and demonstrated every worldly state of success in a myriad of fields many times over. Yes, ordinary human beings like you and me throughout history as well as in our world today have achieved and are achieving great mastery through their practice of daily meditation.

“Meditation has done much to inspire many others. Trust that it can easily do all of these things and more for you. It makes no difference who you are, where you are or how you are! No matter what your height, your weight, your age, your sex, your color of skin, your creed or your politics, you cannot be excluded from joining the spiritual elite of earth who practice meditation and who achieve great worldly success where it really counts.

“No one can stop you from excelling or shining in anything or any field except yourself. The only thing in the world over which we all possess a potential of absolute control is over our own generation of thought. I say potential because most do not actually use this power yet. However, meditation can summon a tremendous power in you.

“For now, even at superficial levels, what you think and how you think is the lone area in the entire complex field of our earthly human existence where we all have some sure degree of self-determination. Others may control our body. They can even tell us all how and what to think, but at deeper levels of our consciousness, we alone are the final elector and selector of our thoughts.
“You or I alone may clothe or color our thoughts with own unique feelings. All our own multilevel reactions are uniquely our own birthright. It is now time to realize that all our perspective feelings and internal points of view are self-generated! Whether you draw pain or pleasure to you at any given time or place in life, it is the overt result of your own right or wrong choice.

“In the next chapter, I tell of some of the stranger-than-fiction abilities of Jack Schwarz and relate some personally observed very concrete examples of Jack’s mind-over-matter control. Meditation opens a direct conscious expansion to our true source of thought.

“You too can meditate just as easily as others who have done it ages before or as those countless tens of millions who are meditating successfully now. If you have the ability to read these simple words then you have the capacity to practice this sage ancient grand art of meditation.

“This volume was NOT written only for the benefit of a very select few who may already understand a host of the scientific or true metaphysical laws of our universe. Yet some thoughts or even whole chapters may seem to be too abstruse to you. Never mind that! Read on and understand what you can on your first introduction to any new thought or odd idea.

“Some of the Laws of life will certainly be new and possibly even very strange to you, but all new progress requires traveling on new roads. It is common sense; old roads lead to the same old places, and thus returning us to where we have already been, perhaps for far, far, too
I have no desire to present all the reasons why meditation works.

MEDITATION WORKS IF YOU WORK IT

Meditation works if you work it, just as a gun shoots when you pull the trigger.

I now humbly present the surefire cannon-size gun of meditation. I leave you to trigger off your own thoughts and to fire your own well-aimed shots or fireballs toward a sure and fulfilling personal success.

I hope to make you consciously aware of the magnificent benefits you can derive from a daily meditation schedule. Meditation is a tool you can use as others have done to raise, beautify and fulfill your life. I hope to sequentially present a simple explanation, a practical procedure, a why and how that you can easily follow. The whole technique and the complete meditation routine outlined in this book ought to take no more than ten or twenty minutes out of your busy daily schedule.

The grand self-rewarding benefits to you are immeasurable in terms of time, money and love. Once you have mastered the subtle technique of meditation to whatever degree the results must follow and will soon show in your daily life to that same manifest and radiant degree.

I encourage you to try to realize, make real and correctly evaluate any new thoughts that you may draw in through meditation. With focus, you can transform these fragile new ideas into your own actual inspired joy-filled living reality. This is how all co-creators in our universe work. I do not intend to change your religion, your philosophy or your politics.

All of the ideas expressed in this book have been around for a long time. I am only responsible for bringing them to your particular attention now. Yet, these are only a mere fragment of the secret illumined Wisdom-Religion teachings that have been presented very openly in the many Bibles and ancient scrolls of the world through endless time on Earth immemorial. You are ready for them, so here they are.

THE LAW of “Like attracts like” is continually at work and there really are “no accidents.”

Let me further call your attention to the fact that there are scores of penetrating thinkers, writers, inventors, mystics, occultists, etc., who are now far in advance of current academic science. And as far as this work is concerned, it is up to you to abstract or withdraw all of the sense or essence of it that helps to bring you more personal knowledge or deeper insights.

I wish to add to the intelligent direction to your life. Yet, following the advice of ancient sages, I caution you to accept nothing on my say-so alone unless you feel or know intuitively it is so or your logic permits. In all other instances, I merely suggest that you have an open mind, a willingness to experiment, and to acknowledge, accept and affirm any and all of your self-proven results.

Meditation will fill aid to fill your mind with unique new ideas. You now actually shape the tangible world around you through a vague form of meditation. A formal meditation procedure aims to teach you not only the due scientific and eternal inter-relationship that exists between us human beings, but of those between all kingdoms and things in nature from a solar system to an atomic particle.

Through meditation, you can soon gain insight into a new world of truth far beyond the most careful explanation of any subject taught in any textbook in the world.

Through meditation and often the genuine self-inspired action after it, you will soon find yourself within a center of undisturbed serenity and poise no matter where you find your outer physical self in relation to time and space. Is it not worth striving for these altered states?

Yes, my friend, the eternal newly gained benefits and glorious experiences you acquire through meditation are far too numerous to mention or try to list here; but turn the pages with me now to study a few specific and certainly well-documented individuals in history who have achieved great self-mastery through daily meditation.

You will find that these giants of wisdom have all given so generously of their genius to the rest of our world. Remember-this is a merely small group or list of luminaries who have used a meditation technique to forward their own lives and consequently the world around them in stupendous ways.

I know you will find a brief sketch of these few people, most of whom I know personally, very uplifting, exciting and surely inspiring.”

YOUR Mighty “I AM” Presence

Once again, in brief, long ago the violet flame 7th Ray Ascended Master St. Germain explained that we all possess an “oversoul,” a unique “Mighty I AM Presence” like no other in all CREATION in his classic series of “I AM” books that I hungrily read and re-read.

Your, my, our Mighty I AM Presence ONENESS of A That Is exists simultaneously in our 3-D humanly embodied being as well as above it.

Do an internet search for the I AM Foundation contact website commemorating St. Germain to obtain the violet colored “flyer” that contains a graphic image of your or my within and above Mighty I Am presence.

Chapter 37

There is Nothing You Cannot BE, DO or HAVE

“The best things in life are free” is no idle phrase. You do not need a single penny to BE, DO or HAVE what you desire. I have done it, and many others I know personally and still more that I know of have done it, and so can you. I and countless other individuals have built from modest to huge fortunes from a very tiny “shoestring” investment.

Yet I assure you that you do not need a shoestring—not one little red cent—to go from where you are now to where you wish to be within what you would consider a reasonable amount of time. You may rapidly or slowly but surely go from ill to well, from flat broke to rich, from alone to basking in the company of a breathlessly attractive “special lover,” soulmate, Twin Ray or whatever you wish to be, do or have.

You only need what you have right now. Yes, you and whatever you currently own are all that you need! You need only what you literally own right now, whether it is simply a willing heart, an imaginative mind, only the shirt on your back or your naked self. The real gold, the real currency in life is not manmade or mineral in composition. This is and always has been the fool’s gold of society and when found is in itself worthless or does not last.

The real gold is found in and through your own creative thought or socially cooperative co-creative ideas coupled with the fire or the fuel of a desire for something in you so strong you can taste it. This alone will allow you to be, do or have what you wish to be, do or have in this now so vital mortal human lifetime on Earth.

You and I are on the very brink of the very most exiting and self-fulfilling times on Earth. More and more of us are awakening to the understanding that we are not our body—or our ego mind—or what we hold as our own thoughts and feelings.

All of these mortal perceptions must and do pass on. Nothing physical remains forever. The body we have formulated through our own unique thoughts and feelings has served us well, but we now know we are not this garment we wear. The real “I Am” self identity are expressed through our spirit and conscious individual soul awareness is eternal. You and I have learned that we are genuine extensions or fragments of the One Creator Source of ONENESS of All That Is.

The precious gift of self-aware life and self-aware freewill choice and co-creativity of whatever dream we wish to dream or manifest has no end. Your life and my life are forever!

What God Creator Source of our being has given to us no mere mortal can take away.

Yes, indeed. With orders from “God Source on High” we each and all are here to co-create Heaven on Earth.

This is a priceless gift and truly an aware state of consciousness worth celebrating greatly!

Let’s have fun while we manifest a dream and a joy of life that is exquisitely all—or more than all—of what we dream could be possible.

THere IS MorE Than ENOUGH FOR EVERYONE

Unfortunately due to a total imbalance of the possession and tyrannical control and use of the massive daily abundance Mother Earth provides to humanity worldwide, it appears that there is not enough for everyone. As a society, we have bought into the “struggle and work” ethic. We have intentionally been taught that we have to fight our neighbors or our brothers and sisters on Earth for the bare survival essentials of shelter, food, water and a surmised eager share of a much limited abundance available to each and all of us.

Fortunately, by Law, there is more than enough, whatever it is, that can be manifested or co-creatively materialized on Earth available to each and all of us without exception.

Your job is to ASK for what you want or feel you need, without falsely thinking or feeling you can possibly deprive another by manifesting what you choose to co-create in your world for yourself and your family of loved ones. Know beyond a doubt that each and all of us can at will tap or harness the power of the Universe for whatever co-creative use we choose. It is impossible to deprive others because you choose to materialize thousands, millions, or trillions of dollars or euros, etc., while others do not. The Law is that you choose what you choose and they choose what they choose. The choice of one cannot limit the choice of another. Is that understood?

The Law is clear and unfailing, there are no limits—except your own imagination—to what you can desire to BE, DO or HAVE. Without exception, whether or not you have a wise understanding of the Law, the Law never fails.

Life is not static. What is now must and will change. No one is stuck forever in one spot or at one level of existence. Wherever we live, we get what we give and we lose what we hold without exception.

There is no limit to what you can ASK for and no limit to what you can give. Hold that thought and plan to live by and fruitfully through that understanding.

There is nothing you cannot be, do or have.

In view now of what you know about the awesome power of attention, it makes a great deal of good sense to ponder, contemplate and hold this nine-word sentence and concept in your mind daily. However, as you know from your own sweet god- or goddess-self perspective, the Law of Attraction works best when phrased, “There is nothing I cannot be, do or have.”

In summary, it must be crystal-clear to you by now that you no longer want your own personal world created mostly by default by others who appear to hold control over and around you. In fact, it ought to be clear enough now that whatever you put your attention upon is what you get. Here is another fitting story about a sage Indian elder teaching his young grandson and his grandson’s companion about the Law at the early age of six.

To instill understanding in his two young aspirants of the simple but profound mysteries of life, he told them “Each of us holds two wolves inside of our being.” The two youngsters listened wide-eyed, as the grandfather explained, “There are two wolves in a life and death battle within every one of us. One of these wolves lives off all of the good things in life that you do. The other wolf lives off all the bad things in life you do!”
The grandchild stepped forward. He asked, eyes soulfully uplifted to his much beloved and well-aged mentor, “Grandfather, which of the two wolves finally wins the battle?” Grandfather paused a moment, smiled and said gently, “The one you feed the most.” Thank God for free will choice! Obviously, you and I get to decide which “hungry wolf” inside of our sacred beings we feed. If you have a prompting and the opportunity to read my autobiography, you will see that ever since my death experience at age 18, I have had and have fed a lifelong hunger for the ravenous “wolf” of spiritual knowledge inside of me.

The knowledge I have sought slowly but finally flowed in and through me like a river, for the Law of Attraction, coupled with the Law of Attention or “asking for it,” never fails as with all Universal Laws. You now stand before the Golden Door of the Rest of Your Life. May a physical body IMMORTALITY that you innately wish to know to be your conscious experience come soon to you as we all joyfully ascend with our beloved Mother Earth. You also now hold the sparkling Golden Key to whatever you desire, to whatever you want so much you can taste it.

You have come to be here now in this final Golden Age upon Earth, soon to be a Golden Star in a virgin Universe of its own making. Your genuine conscious moment-to-moment gratitude will also help to pour a constant stream of daily miracles into your life. It has been fun. We are forever and ever One in the God Creator Source of our eternal being. Hold this absolutely fact as a thought in your heart and mind. Find great joy in knowing it to be everlastingly true. There is nothing you cannot be, do or have. All is well. So be it.

THERE IS NOTHING YOU CANNOT BE, DO OR HAVE

You only need to ASK and through the sacred heritage of who and what you are, your every request is granted the moment it is made. To all appearances few, if any, of your desires seem granted within minutes or hours. Yet at the creative nonphysical level, the source from which all that ever becomes physical must arise. God Creator Source never fails to give you what you ask for instantly.

Thankfully, there is the “magical” buffer we call time that allows us to rethink or change so many of the things we would later regret asking for. Otherwise, your thoughts literally could kill, and that would be fatal to loved one, friends or strangers who walk with you through your days on Earth.

Your wish that someone would “drop dead” just because they may have slighted you or offended your ego would have instant tragic or deadly 3-D consequences.

Instant manifestations are possible for those who understand and work with the Law; Masters such as the Jesus, Buddha, Mohammad, Krishna and other known and unknown Masters of Wisdom. In time, you will have earned that same holy or sacred privilege.

For now, until you and I and our beloved sentient Earthly human sisters and brothers have learned to understand and foresee the effects of any instant manifestations, time acts as a protective shield around us and those who would directly be affected by what we have asked for and receive instantly.

Give thanks that many of the positive and negative thoughts and feelings you have expressed against yourself or others are held in abeyance until you are ready to receive them or to hold them in neutrality by a wise “Mother Time” or “Father Time.”

With this brief exploration into the Hall of Time, which will be amplified as we move forward step-by-step together, let’s start off on our first well proven magical step to manifest your own sweet personal dreams of success.

You must understand that literally nothing is impossible for you to be, do or have as long as you keep moving and correcting your course toward the goal you desire.

You can be told by your doctors or health specialists that you cannot live beyond a certain number of years, months or even days because of a deadly cancer or some other deadly condition. You can be flat broke and, to all outer appearances, you feel you can never find or know a joyful state of great abundance.

You may have been lonely and without the comfort of someone to love for years without end. Nevertheless only your own powerful inner goddess or god self being holds the keys to your destiny. You are not at the mercy of any outer world appearances or specialists with strings of degrees sounding a gloom and doom alarm.

Moment by moment, hour by hour, day by day, as long as you are alive and consciously aware of being embodied upon Earth you can change any seeming impossible situation to a personal triumph that no one can deny. I have done it, others have done it and you can do it.

There is nothing you cannot be, do or have. You can reverse the seeming most deadly illness. You can move out of abject poverty into a state of immense wealth. You can attract a terrific special lover, a soulmate or even your Twin Ray if you choose.

You Are Divinity Walking around on Earth

GOD SAID:

“Not one of you knows the extent to which you work for Me. None of you begins to know the service you give to Me and to the Universe. For all you know, you are lollygagging around in the world, lying on a raft in your swimming pool and drinking soda through a straw. It is amazing how little you know. Where you are is not who you are.

What you think and what is are often far apart. You are good at ignorance, beloveds. In fact, as wise as you may be in the eyes of the world, the more ignorant you may be. Do not feel that I am insulting you. I am simply saying that there is a lot you don’t know, especially about yourself.
You may see yourself as some object crawling on the earth when you are the subject of My heart. When I consider all that there is to see, you are almost blind. You may have the best eyesight in the world, and yet you are blind. You pull the wool over your own eyes. You slouch rather than stand tall.

In a sense, you are like the beggar on the street who wears dark glasses, stoops over like a beggar in a story who holds his hand out like a beggar, feigns blindness, and so blindness becomes his livelihood and a kind of protection from the world. His vision becomes selective. He chooses what he will not see. He chooses his role in life.

You can give up on ignorance, beloveds. You have believed your own pretense. You are astronomical at blocking your view of your value to Me and to yourself. You are the star of life, and you act the part of a mousy housemaid or valet. You who can move mountains see yourself as frail and unable to lift a finger. You have worked hard at being a beggar in life. You have put yourself in a false position.

If you see yourself as a derelict, you are mistaken.

If you see yourself as a criminal, you are mistaken. No matter how many crimes you may have committed, you are not a criminal. I did not create criminals. If you see yourself as a criminal, you are mistaken. Look at yourself from another angle.

If you are ill, you are mistaken. You are not illness. You may have a dread disease, but you are not any disease.
If you see yourself as an employer, you are mistaken. I don’t care if you have a hundred people working for you who will do your bidding, you are not an employer.

If you see yourself as an employee, you are mistaken. I don’t care how many paychecks you may have received, you are not an employee. Of course, you are in My employ, but that’s different.

Merchant, chief, candlestick maker, you are not. You are not what you say. You are not what anyone says, unless they say you are a magnificent Being God has made.

Do not accept anyone’s appraisal of you unless it equals Mine. Of course, I do not appraise. I know your value from the outset. I, above all, know Who You Are and What You Are Made Of. I made you! I made you from the same cloth I am. I am made from Love, and you are made from the same Love.

You are Divinity walking around on Earth. Your disguises are many, yet a disguise is not you. You may dress up as anything at all for a Masquerade Ball. You can be the wicked witch or you can be a man gone wild. You can be anything you want to pretend you are. And yet you are not what you pretend to be. So stop pretending.

Be the child I made. Think of something to do today to remind yourself Who you are.”

Chapter 38

The Galactic Federation of Light

The Universal Galactic Federation of Light group assigned to guarding Mother Earth and humanity upon our planet is wholly comprised of ASCENDED Light Beings.

Similar in divine stature to our much revered Ascended Master of Light, Jesus of Nazareth, and widely known today in our modern age by his spiritual name and identity as “Sananda.” Cosmic Christ in stature, or other known and unknown Ascended Masters as Mother Mary, St. Germaine, Mohammad, Krishna, the Ram, Matthew, Buddha and a huge throng of other so truthful, loving, understanding and compassionate, as well as fearless and each and all powerful Divine Sacred Beings, beyond words.

As often disclosed via many of their telepaths on Gaia–as they know our Mother Earth, by her universally known spiritual name–our lovely Earth planet on our existing modern day time-line civilization world would have been totally destroyed!

This would have resulted in the death of all life forms upon her by careless scientific experiments performed, stopped from being carried out by the sudden divine intervention of our ever-present, immensely powerful Galactic Earth guardians. I for one, love, respect and appreciate each and all of them.

I hope upon reading this volume and the many telepathic communications shared in this volume will open your own hearts, soul and mind to know they are here now by Divine Decree, from GOD CREATOR of our sacred Universe.

No power on Earth can stop them from making sure we experienced God’s promise of our forthcoming Golden Age and Mass Human body ASCENSION.

SALUSA SPEAKS

Dear Ones, today is an occasion when heightened energies are reaching you on Earth, one day of many that are occurring with more regularity. It is the gradual lifting up of your vibrations and is bringing changes into being.

It is also a day when you can respond to the call to make it a Peace Day, by thinking it and living it to your highest ability.
Keep peace and harmony in your mind, and let it shine out from your eyes and heart. If sufficient of you did so you could change the world in the twinkling of an eye, because the Light of love is the most powerful of all energies.

Do your bit and know that many others are with you, including many powerful Beings from our side of the veil.

The inspiration for the Peace Day has come from them, and taken up by Russ Michael.

He is an inspired soul who is a Lightworker dedicated to spreading love and Light, and we commend him for his service to Mankind.

We often talk about your individual life plans that are carefully planned to ensure success, but as you must realise they in turn are part of the greater plan for your Universe. It cannot fail, and at our level we see it as already completed.

Your part in it may therefore seem of little importance, but it is nevertheless a contribution that will put the final part in place, which is your Ascension.

The Earth is a point of great interest for these very reasons, and it is known throughout the Universe. If you could grasp the immensity of what is taking place, you will understand how important your service is not just to the whole of your civilization, but also to many others.

We have total faith in your ability to see your way past futile attempts of the dark Ones, to prevent the changes from occurring. The ener-gized movement is already taking place, and it cannot be halted by any power on Earth. If you can live your lives with this in mind, you will not be deterred in any way from the tasks in hand.

Your efforts may seem to take place in isolation, but in fact they are all little cogs in the great Wheel of Change that is gathering speed. Rather than feeling down because they have been a long time coming, we register your appreciation of the need for patience, knowing that you will be well rewarded in the final days of this cycle.

When you sail along in the Light, life seems to be lifted up to where regardless of what is going on around you, you feel safe and at One with all else. It is largely a state of mind, achieved by your understanding of the reality in which you live. When you accept that you created it, then you also realise that you can change it by re-creating it. That is what you are doing now, and the signs of success are there to be seen.

The best is yet to come, and 2010 cannot be anything but a year of great revelations, and the fulfillment of many predictions. As we have told you many times, it is you the people who decide your future and the dark and the Light are head to head for your soul.

Although we see victory as already yours, you still need to give your undivided attention to creating your own pathway to Ascension. Give no leeway to those who would distract you by creating chaos on Earth. Ignore their fear making actions and words, and you will deny them your energy.
Once your confidence is strong in the power of the Light to lift you up, there will be no stopping your progress. You have everything you need at this very time to be successful. Seek help if you feel you need it but in the ultimate make your own way, through the guidance of your intuition.

We feel both your excitement and also frustration as you wait for the announcement from President Obama, that will for the first time be the official recognition of our presence. You ask will it really take place this time and we can say yes it is 99% certain, but that other 1% will always be there to allow for any exceptional circumstances that may necessitate a change to the plan.

Human situations are such that we can be fairly accurate in our predictions, but off world considerations by those who oversee the announcement take priority. After all Dear Ones, it is the Creator who has decreed what is to happen to finish up your present cycle.

Take heart from the number of higher souls who are involved in your upliftment, who be-tween them wield power far beyond anything you can reach upon Earth. It is your combined powers that are quickly bringing the Light energies to you, and in this area the dark Ones have little or no influence.

You have experienced so many traumas in your many lives, and for some of you the mental strain is causing fatigue. You know your time has been completed, and cannot wait to move into those peaceful vibrations that will re-energies you. Oh! to be able to completely relax and leave your worries behind, and meet others in harmonious loving relationships. To no longer have needs that are not being met, but instead have all your heart desires to live in absolute comfort.

That Dear Ones is the future that awaits you and the dark Ones will be consigned to the dimensions that resonate with their vibrations.

They will be unable to intrude by force or allowance into the new dimension of Earth. Carry on making your plans as normal, and understand that conditions will take time to noticeably change, even so we are charged with bringing in massive changes all round.

The world is in a sorry state after so much neglect and damage to her surface. We have taken your needs into consideration and have a plan that will tackle many projects, but first we need to have your acknowledgement and acceptance of presence.

That is why we know it will take an official announcement, from the most powerful President on your planet to achieve it. So like you we eagerly await that day, when we can say that the solution to your problems has arrived. Other countries will soon see the value of joining the Light forces but the leadership will need to change in some, where they are in the control of the dark Ones.

I am SaLuSa from Sirius, and can tell you that the Galactic Federation are behind you, and eagerly anticipating the positive response from you. We find a large percentage of you are pleased at the prospect of our coming, and many others will join you once they are satisfied we come in peace.
Great days beckon, and an end to all wars and conflicts are high priorities on our list. Peace is what you urgently seek, and peace shall come very quickly.

Thank you SaLuSa. Mike Quinsey

Sheldan Nidle’s Update from the Galactic Federation of Light and the Spiritual Hierarchy

12 Eb, 10 Kayab,
7 Ik Selamat Balik!

WE COME AGAIN

“Your world is reaching the magic point where it begins to transition into a new reality. The dark cabal, at its recent meeting in Europe, was at a loss on how to prevent it from happening.

Our Earth allies have set up the final timetable for transforming your world, and the forces of Light are preparing to make the definitive push. Discussions with our liaison personnel are addressing how best to remove the dark’s main agents and where to sequester them.

Then, the subsequent trials are to be swift and equitable, as a long, drawn-out process serves no one. This courtroom ‘drama’ will expose the true events and deliver proper verdicts on each individual. There is no need for this historic event to dwell on the excesses of “man’s inhumanity to man.”

The goal is to explain this sorry history thoroughly, then make the emphatic point that a new epoch has begun. This is the purpose of laying bare what the dark cabal has been up to and the nature of the egregious deeds they had planned. As one of your proverbs says, “Knowledge is power.”

This knowledge is to accentuate the end of your exploration into the dark reaches of limited consciousness. The new caretaker governments will first announce and fully explain their many pro-grams. It is felt that a time needs to be set-aside for the world’s population to absorb completely what has just occurred.

Your reality is to be literally flipped on its head, and this needs informed and forthright commentary by both governmental and private individuals. After a period of assessment and activation, the next item on the agenda is disclosure. Disclosure is a unique, historic event.

Your global society is predicated on certain commonly held perceptions. Disclosure, as it unfolds, will shatter these basic perceptions. Our task is to assist you through the accompanying shock. We have culled from our information on you the best possible way to explain to you the implications of disclosure. It opens up what your ascension process is all about and alters your societal approach to Gaia.

Although your society’s attitudes on this matter have been uninformed at best, you have made some laudable progress on this front which we can build upon, and we fully intend to do so.

After disclosure, our subsequent series of broadcasts will introduce you to the Galactic Federation and its technology. Then we will show you Inner Earth, and the Agarthans will begin an illuminating discussion with you.

Our immediate task in this post-disclosure world is to monitor your governments, launch the new technology, advise you on your ascension process, and prepare the way for our mass first contact. These activities will ensure that the final stages of your immersion into full consciousness are done in a smooth and timely manner.

Heaven has drawn up a series of dates to guide the setting-up of your star-nation and your joining us as full-fledged members. By then you will have participated in several intergalactic councils on moving a number of selected galaxies to the Light.

These events mark your emergence from the long quarantine imposed some 12,500 years ago at the behest of Heaven. Your unique brand of wisdom and your useful insights have been missed! Disclosure is dependent on the transferal of government power to be carried out by our Earth allies.

These promised changes did not happen on the assigned date given to us; glitches occurred that delayed the process. Hence, disclosure is to happen sometime after the solstice. We are in talks with our Earth allies to work out a scenario that is to be completed on the date we jointly agree to.

Our mission here requires that the changes needed, before a formal disclosure announcement can be made, be achieved on schedule. To this end, we are asking a special group of Agarthan liaisons to guide these various affairs to a rapid conclusion.

It is critical that either a number of major regimes be ousted legally from power, or that they carry out a full disclosure, a most unlikely contingency! The present attitudes of these major govern-ments in truth leave us only the first option.
The Agarthans assure us that these maneuvers can be done quickly.

Thus, disclosure remains a done deal. Blessings! We are your Ascended Masters! We come to you today with information on your Soul Force exercise. The initial response has been much welcomed by Heaven. The stage is being set for the flowering of your new reality.

Each of you, in your own unique way, has amiably accepted those responsibilities given you. We, too, are most pleased. You have demonstrated yet again the amount of sacred power you collectively ‘bring to the table’.

As you continue to raise your spiritual, emotional, mental, and physical bodies with the assistance of Heaven, your growing consciousness has accepted the fact that you are veritably at the point of transformation. This immediate period in your history has so far been marked by a rising tide of chaos which is now about to peak.

During this peak, an unprecedented transformation is to happen: Your world is to be inundated with new governance, prosperity, and, of course, disclosure! Now, we are watching as our associates complete the final negotiations for getting the deliveries out.

These talks also involve the leaders of the outgoing governments who are trying at the eleventh hour to strike a deal and haggle over the outcome of the trials.

We are fully aware that these prevarications are yet more delaying tactics on their part. Each minion of the dark cabal has done great damage to Gaia and to humanity, and these crimes require a full exposition followed by a just sentencing.

Anything less is to palter with universal justice.

This exercise in justice is to be a means to gain a degree of equity for what the dark ones did to your world and your society. Once done, bless them, and seek mercy and forgiveness for all!

You are closing a long chapter in your dealings with the dark. Let us move with the Light into the next era, in joy and full acceptance of the great wonders that await us.

THE TIME AHEAD IS ONE OF MIRACLES AND MARVELS

Long ago, our world was plunged into darkness as once-mighty Atlantis sank beneath the waves. Since then, we have all experienced the misery, pain, and frustration of life on Earth’s surface.

This life is now to change. Heaven has put in place a process for Ascension and a means for transforming this reality.

Our many lifetimes have shown us what a great opportunity this is for you to make this nascent reality a most beautiful place, and our sacred task is to use the knowledge gleaned from our many lifetimes to lead you down the divine path of Light and Love to full consciousness.

We are not alone in this; we have many allies who are ready to reveal themselves when their presence is needed. Be prepared for great surprises.
Be prepared for the exhilarating joy that is full disclosure!

Today, we continued our discussion about full disclosure and the changes that are destined to transform your world.

The dark’s position continues to deteriorate by the day. The program set up by our Earth allies, under the supervision of Earth’s Ascended Masters, is ready to manifest!

Know, dear Ones, that the countless Supply and never-ending Prosperity of Heaven are indeed Yours!

So Be It!

Selamat Gajun! Selamat Ja! (Sirian for Be One! and Be In Joy!)

B: Hello my friends. It’s quite funny how some of your ‘fans’ write in and comment on the fact that you keep on talking about LOVE and wondering when you are ‘going to change the record’ so to speak. Would you care to comment on that.

GF: Greetings and jubilations to you … One and All. We do not have much to say regarding that matter other than ‘WE LOVE YOU’! With all respect for all … those that find our conversation to be repetitive are the ones who haven’t quite ‘Got it yet’ … and therefore there is the need of repetition!

One is so very quick to assume that they have become ‘enlightened’ and state over and over to many that they are a ‘Highly spiritual person’ … and yet it is those very same souls that then will speak of someone negatively when their back is turned. Hence the need to continue on drumming it in that LOVE IS WHO YOU ARE … SO THAT YOU MAY KNOW IT AND BECOME IT IN FULLNESS.

WHEN you return to BEING THAT LOVE … THEN you will be a ‘Highly spiritual person’. For you see dear ones, a ‘Highly spiritual person’ has no desire to tell another that they are! For a ‘Highly spiritual person’ … just is!
B: I personally FEEL quite comfortable these days with whatever it is you wish to speak of. I rarely have something pressing to ask … and I am more than happy to leave it up to you. However … not long now until the end of the year … the temperature is rising and hearts are fluttering. How are YOU and YOURS FEELING right now?

GF: We are speculating ‘disturbances’ to be forthcoming ‘any day now’.

B: ‘Disturbances’ sound a bit disturbing.

GF: Yet on doors of rooms you may have ‘Please do not disturb’. This simply means ‘Do not interrupt’. So therefore, we would say that … all being well … any day NOW there maybe interruptions from the norm and once introduced … one will never know the norm as it normally is/was.

B: That sounds exciting. I am aware of SO many that simply look up at the sky and shout from their hearts silence ‘Bring it on!’ So whatever you mean by this, rest assured there are many of us that are dribbling in anticipation!

GF: We can continue TRUE to form and repeatedly state that WE COME IN LOVE.

We can ask of your forgiveness towards/upon those that have caused so much wide spread dis-ease in its many controversial forms.

We can expect from you that which we have so proudly discovered to be the ‘WARRIORS OF LIGHT’ that YOU ARE.
You have for so long been ‘undercover’. In these coming days … YOU … as the forbearers of the future … shall march forth as ONE. There shall be an understanding with your soul … that YOU ARE NOT ALONE.

Many of you have felt so ‘forgotten’ … so ‘misunderstood’. Yet we say to you now in Knowledge of what is to come … that your hearts core shall be pulsating with strength and recognition of why you are here. You shall have released all FEELINGS that suppressed the TRUTH of WHO YOU ARE.

From with inside of you … each and every one … shall rise THE YOU THAT IS HERE TO DO WHAT YOU CAME TO DO.

No longer shall there be questioning. No longer CAN there be doubt. It cannot enter into your equation of that which you shall KNOW.

For we say ‘ONCE THIS ALL BEGINS … THERE SHALL BE NO STOPPING YOU’.

You will FEEL a difference in your waking breath. For those who could not find purpose to existence … there shall be a spring in your step and a leaping in your hearts beat.

THE NEW WORLD is so close now. It would be appropriate for us to describe it in this way. You are as an architect … the plans have been drawn … The final ‘ok’ has been stamped upon them. You have the go ahead and now all there is to do is to ‘build it’. It all works on paper. The design is flawless. All that is needed are the ‘materials’ in order to create it into reality.
B: My mind didn’t FEEL quite right about the word ‘materials’ … can you clarify please?

GF: Exactly as we had hoped you would ask. For we shall provide them.

B: You are not meaning materials as in bricks and mortar though are you?

GF: Indeed no. We are meaning in providing that ‘extra oomph’ as you would say ... in order for one to FEEL a difference within themselves … in order to build this New World.

When baking bread … an ingredient is needed to make it rise. Therefore call us ‘The Yeast’ in this project. We shall be offering that extra assistance to allow the plans to ‘uplift’ as they should.

B: Are you speaking here of a ‘Higher Energy’ that you shall provide? And if so … in what form shall it take?

GF: We accept that what we are offering may at this time be interpreted in a few different ways. So we would like to clarify. There shall be a DEFINATE NOTICEABLE CHANGE …

We speak of a gradual process and we do not deny this. Yet we also state that there is ‘SOMETHING COMING’ that one will mark as ‘The starting point’ … The ‘Moment when it all began’ if you like.

B: Yes … I do like. I know you cannot spill the beans and you must not spoil the surprise … yet my heart is racing right now and I FEEL quite … emotional!
Let us explain a little more. In order to complete this project ... much more is to be revealed at the concise moments in time that align with the greater overall picture. We can only ‘feed’ snippets as they are to unfold ... at times when we are absolutely certain that they shall be received in the correct manner ... in order for the next phase of the plan to proceed/succeed.

Let us reassure you that the offerings that are to present themselves ... once things have settled down from the initial excitement of it all ... are there to take you to Greater Heights. You shall find yourselves saying ‘Can this really be happening?’

B: On what level do you mean? No offence ... but that could mean anything from teleporting to instant manifestation ... to ...

Exactly. It can mean ANYTHING ... and it DOES! Yet ... back to the beginning ... you shall not know of these wonders unless your heart is in its rightful place.

LOVE ... For this is where it belongs. This is where it lives.

As you FEEL more and more the frequency of the Higher Truth of yourself ... as you settle into it ... very much as when one moves home to a new vicinity and begins to discover the whereabouts of everything ... until eventually it all becomes as familiar as the last place of frequency ... you shall find yourselvesFEELING more and more comfortable with that which you are choosing to create.

Many of you ‘dream’ of this New World ... this ‘Golden Age’ ... yet it shall be far beyond that of your dream awareness. For as you evolve again ‘back’ into who you once were … you shall be capable of creating a world that surpasses your highest thoughts at this ‘stage of yourselves’.

What you are to create dearest ones shall make you FEEL as a child feasting their eyes upon the table of cakes and jelly and ice-cream!

B: Sorry? A bit of a strange analogy.

Have you forgotten the expression of a child as they do so?

B: No. They do not know what to put on their plate first.

And so it is!

We may add … that there shall be groups formed. Certain skilled souls shall gather together to ‘create the thoughts thought’. There shall be much enthusiasm. So very much joy.

Recall how when embarking upon a new project … one has the keenness and determination of a baby learning to walk.

THIS SHALL BE YOURS ... magnified a thousand fold. Your hearts shall enter into a new phase of themselves whereupon ALL that is undertaken shall be done so with such fervancy ... and we say to you this ... The most precious gift of all … within ALL of this new phase … is that .... none of this is FELT as if it is BEING DONE TO SERVE THE SELF. Every thought and action is done IN LOVE for EACH OTHER.
For what is coming to you will allow you to FEEL and UNDERSTAND on a different level … just exactly what you mean to each other.

Imagine you are ONE ball of unwound wool ... Once ‘The Happening’ happens … it shall be as if the stitches are cast and row by row … you ALL become part of the same creation. You have always been the wool … yet NOW … you shall be CREATING yourselves into the ONE … NESS.

B: I thought you were going to say the ONE VEST! Phew! NEVER been a fan of those stringy numbers!!!

GF: All that we say to you now … WE PROMISE YOU … shall make sense as the day’s ahead progress. Were you to read back on these words from your future position you would have ‘dropped jaws’ due to the accuracy of that which we bring forth. And yet for you … in ‘this/your time’ … you can only imagine/speculate regarding matters of which we speak.

You may not KNOW exactly what is to be happening on the physical reality regarding that which lies in front of you … yet all you need do is close your eyes … FEEL OUR WORDS AS TRUTH … and the nonphysical part of you is already there . Because you can FEEL it. Therefore you KNOW it … yet ‘your time’ needs time to catch up with yourself.

B: Speaking of time … it appears it’s up for today.

GF: In EVERYTHING that is … there is LOVE. When you KNOW this in TRUTH … you vibrate with that LOVE that is in EVERYTHING ... Allowing yourself to BE NOTHING … but LOVE.
B: LOVE YOU. THANK YOU … Truly I mean it ….. THANK YOU!

Chapter 39

The Birth of EARTH as a STAR

MOTHER EARTH WILL SOON BECOME A GALACTIC STAR NATION

Let me explain that the term “Star Nation” means any Galactic Federation of Light planetary member within our Universe.

It also means the conglomerate of entire races and groups of nations within or upon any single planet admitted into membership of the Universal or Galactic Federation of Light—not a singular nation upon or within any given sentiently alive water planet.

Water planets are the only planets that are alive or can bear life in any given sun system. The other planets within the solar ring of any given sun that are not water planets are likened to what we consider a stillborn or lifeless child.

The number of planets within any solar system varies. Some sun systems in our universe may contain up to twelve planets within their solar Being. As a rule, there are from 1 to 4 water planets formed within any given sun or solar system. Both Venus and Mars are water planets in addition to Earth.
According to legend, Maldek, a giant greatly populated former water planet within our solar system, was destroyed by a fierce, long time intergalactic war that raged in our universe millions of years ago. Maldek was completely blown to smithereens.

Remnants still orbit within our solar system. In addition, the surface world of Mars was destroyed in that fierce galactic outer space. This now seems like the appropriate time to explain that most, at least the majority of sentient highly evolved planetary life species, live inside their planets rather than being a predominantly surface dweller world like here on Earth.

Nevertheless, we do have a large, highly spiritually developed remnant of our old Lemurian civilization named Agartha living together in several small cities in Inner Earth. The Agarthans have been enjoying a deeply spiritual, flourishing home life within our hollow Earth for at least 12,500 years, since the Great Flood that sank Atlantis. Agartha’s major city is Telos and is located under Mt. Shasta, California, USA.

They understand extremely highly advanced free energy technology, so they have no pollution. They have space ships that can and do travel to other planetary systems in our galaxy at will. They eagerly await our mass full awakening on the surface world of our shared home planet, so that both our inner and outer planetary worlds live side-by-side in love and light. On our surface world, we have been dumbed-down intentionally by dark cabal infiltration into all our arts, sciences and all our public educational systems worldwide.
Few stop to think out the simple physics that all planets have to be hollow inside and accessible via natural tunnel formations or manmade tunnel systems. Expeditions have been made into inner Earth and reported by several intrepid explorers in our 19th and 20th centuries, but were swiftly discounted and hidden by controlled mass media and our ever-present mass thought and action dark cabal controllers.

Check out our contact information in the Appendix of this volume if you want to know how you can join others in FREE conference calls to a genuine Inner Earth human being known as ‘Billie’ at www.HollowEarthNetwork.com

Inner Earth is also widely known within lightworker circles as “hollow Earth.”

Search the internet for more inner Earth information using either of these terms. To more easily understand the mechanics or physics involved of how ALL planets have hollow worlds inside, simply imagine or think of what happens when your washing machine or clothes dryer whirls at top speed.

Think it through. Almost every wife or housekeeper knows the answer my following question. Where do you find your clothes when the washing machine stops? They unwrap from their previous stuck position to the INSIDE surface of the spinning clothes washer and all the still wet clothes drop from the top and sides to the bottom of the washer, via gravity of course.

At top whirling speed all the clothes in either the washer or dryer have moved as far away as is physiccally possible from the zero point center of gravity in them, depending on the speed of rotation and gravity force generated, Thus as long as the washing machine or planet keeps rotating at top speed, there is a definite hollow space created and maintained indefinitely between the clothes in a washing machine or the spinning physical planetary matter.

Flung from the surface of a whirling sun we know as a newborn planet that forms into a natural sphere orbiting in space around its mother sun. Get the picture? If not, reread and ponder what is related above and in due time a clear understanding of why all planets are hollow will light up your mind.

Furthermore, there is always a spark of light, a miniature sun, at the core of a newborn planetary or human physical being, from out of which the spirit and soul-of a planet, or you and I-arises to take living, moving form as a physically embodied Planet or Human Being.

Thus, a newly birthed planetary Being of Light is birthed from its own unique Source Sun. All sentiently alive water planets have a miniature inner or central sun within to nurture and sustain them-with an eventual rise of fauna, trees, rolling hills, mountains and oceans that naturally arise and form their unique inner planetary world.

You too have a tiny point or spark of light located in a major human organ. Can you guess or intuit which organ? Here is a clue. Why has the saying arisen in human conscious of “getting to the heart of things?”
Times up...and bingo! You got it: Every sentient life form in existence of All That Is has a central heart organ where a tiny pinpoint of the GOD essence lives within. Without it in residence, we are instantly lifeless.

Now when the collective different races within or upon a given planet reach their destined point of Ascension, the planet naturally becomes a Sacred Planet—or in the jargon of the Galactics, to us in and at our 3-D level it is “Star Nation.”

It can then petition to be a member of the Galactic Federation of Light, already comprised of thousands of Star Nations. All Ascended Star Nation civilizations, dedicated to help other civilizations in a 3-D reality anywhere in CREATION who are ready to be assisted into experiencing a Golden Age or ASCENDING to the 5-D as Ascended Masters of Light and Love.

The collective consciousness of all of us on this time-line on Earth have petitioned for our Golden Age and mass one Human Family physical body ASCENSION—without experiencing physical body death, so we definitely will soon be ASCENDED Star Nation members of the Universal galactic Federation of Light.

So be it.

I urge anyone interested in more info on this subject to read my FREE Golden Key Library book, The Birth of Earth as a Star. Bless us all.

THE GENESIS OF OLD EARTH

End times is not an idle phrase.
The old is about to vanish and the new is about to begin. What is the END at one level of being is the BEGINNING at another. So be it! And so it is!

At one time, this crusty old earth was just an ideal held in the mind of All That Is Creation eons and eons ago! When the new breed of gods were birthed, their first task was to create the elements, the first building blocks in the universe.

Over eons, they coagulated these primary gases and elemental life forms into stars with attendant planets and moons.

Various kingdoms and life forms gradually formed out of the clay of living bacteria and molecules that emerged from the myriads of large and small globs of coagulating life here and there.

It took us co-creating gods and goddesses many, many more eons to learn to design. Yet one by one—here and there—we fashioned the first ideal whole image of an insect, of a plant, of the crab, the chicken, the bird, etc. (That answers your question, just in case you have ever been playfully asked which came first.)

YES! The chicken, conceived and designed in its complete totality, was first! The egg or seed would then contain the blueprint for the next generation of chickens—without end—for when the first generation of chickens passed out of existence.

In due time myriads of different life forms were conceived, designed and then finally materialized or coagulated into existence upon billions of different life-bearing planets throughout our seeming endless Universe.

At one point, many billions of years ago, it was decided to gather select seeds of these various life forms and to transport them safely to a small galaxy with a young yellow sun on the edge of the Milky Way Galaxy. These myriad of life forms were transported to a very tiny water planet, known today by us current human inhabitants as our planet Earth.

Both the new yellow sun and the now cool kindred earth belched out of a much larger Central Sun. Thus, a wonderful life-giving flow or affinity between that golden sun and the rock called Earth began.

This soon provided the ideal ground or planetary laboratory to develop mobile animal life and improve the design to the point where it was possible to create a human body, a body worthy to house or envelope the pinpoint “life spark” of a human god or goddess.

It took many more billions of years before a workable and stable balance of the life ecology formed. Meanwhile, the gods had already been working on various designs for the body of a human. It was decided that the ape was the most mobile and intelligent creature on earth. It could stand upright—which was one trait the gods wanted designed into the human model.

The ape brain also had a large brain capacity that by design could be enlarged. It would be and eventually was an adequate vehicle for the excited and adventurous gods who would take their first ride in these 3-D earthly vehicles.
Sorry, men–the design of the first model had a womb within, so it was more female than male by far. The first human model did not possess a penis or any external sexual organs. Reproduction or birth was activated hormonally by the mind of the inhabiting gods when rejuvenation was needed or warranted.

You must also realize these were designed to be everlasting embracement vehicles of gods. The human body was designed from the very start to live forever.

However when the gods finally finished their first grotesque (by our present standards) model and took their first few rides inside of them, they discovered to their immediate horror that many ferocious animals, small and large, could overtake, overpower and eat them alive.

Many others of these gods in these first test models managed to flee and hide in caves or somewhere out of reach of their ravenous predators. Nevertheless, despite being pursued by huge dinosaurs and other fierce carnivorous animals and eaten alive, the gods all came back to their natural heavenly abode with glowing reports. They reported how thrilling and exciting it had been to touch the earth and feel a tree, to smell the flowers, to see the sunrises and sunsets, to taste fruits and to hear the delightful chorus or veritable orchestra of wildlife sounds on earth!

The word got around fast and soon huge lines of gods were forming to politely take turns going for tempestuous rides in these first rough draft human physical body models they had created. That was just a little over ten and a half million years ago. Since then, the vehicles were redesigned many times over with new and better features incorporated into them over the ages. Different gods also wanted different models—somewhat like our marketplace today where some people want a modest Toyota while others prefer a Ford or a fancy Cadillac.

The big problem that developed with the incarnation of gods into human form was that they picked up the low vibration of fear from being chased and eaten alive.

Fear introduced the “death hormone” into the human physical body. If the balance of the death hormone is more powerful than the life hormone, our magnificent human body will age and die. Nevertheless, your human body and mine is programmed to live forever; but only when you and I learn to make our life hormone more powerful than our death hormone! The process is known as loving your god-self into divine human existence!

This old planet—like this young universe with a young yellow sun—was designed for one purpose. It was here on our Garden of Eden Earth where an entirely “new breed of gods” would be born and were born!

When you and I graduate from this old Earth, we will be more capable, more loving, more knowing and more powerful than any gods ever created before! This is our mass human heritage!
A: Salusa of Sirius on President Obama in Two Parts

2012 October 16

Part 1 of 2

STEVE BECKOW WRITES:

Many galactic and celestial sources deal with our spiritual unfoldment or interpersonal relationships and adaptations. They don’t focus on contemporary affairs. Among the very few commentators who do, SaLuSa of Sirius, channeled through Michael Quinsey, is, in my view the fullest and best.

SaLuSa was at one point the leader of a group of commentators that included Diane of Sirius, Ker-On of Venus, Ag-Agria and Atmos of Sirius and others. But lately he alone has been reporting to us on the battle to subdue the cabal and spread the Light that will see us ascend at the end of this year.

What has he had to say about president Obama? His support has been unwavering. He’s described the President’s difficult position surrounded by the dark who have continually been maligning him and causing many lightworkers’ support to waver and fall. SaLuSa has detailed the President work for global peace and maintained that the President’s best work will come after the cabal is out of the way.

DESCRIPTIONS OF OBAMA
SaLuSa and his Galactic Federation colleagues describe President Obama as “a soul of immense Light under great stress from the dark Ones, … giving [his] services without thought for self.” (1) Later, SaLuSa again described President Obama as “a highly spiritual soul, [who] will with our help and protection work with us to speedily transform your experiences, into ones of happiness and release from the Draconian laws that rule your lives.” (2)

SaLuSa has long informed us that the President was surrounded by dark souls: “President Obama is surrounded by the dark Ones but nevertheless able to make some progress, and will continue to lay down the foundation for his final years of office.” (3)

However he believes that Barack Obama is the leader who will, with galactic assistance, lead the world to peace. On Feb. 9, 2010, he said:

“For many years the Illuminati have used their power to manipulate other countries’ affairs. It has been done through covert actions, so that their influence can bring about changes beneficial to them. The populace, who react against such illegal actions and interference in their sovereignty, knows the truth. We ask you, Dear Ones, who causes insurrection in the first place?

“Many of you understand such situations, and you look for a leader who will take note of your desire for peace with all nations. We will say again that you have a wonderful soul named Barack Obama, and he is clear in his mind as to what he wants to do given the opportunity. With your continued support he will galvanize people into action, and set the path towards a peaceful world.” (4)

Unequivocally he calls the President “their man.”

“Great responsibility lies with President Obama to trigger a number of changes that will lead to major ones that provide real answers to your mounting problems. He has our full backing and is as you might say ‘our man’ and he has as intended emerged at the right time to carry you beyond the plans of the Illuminati.” (5)

OBAMA’S APPROACH TO WORLD AFFAIRS

While many detractors say that Obama has continued President Bush’s policy, or indeed is worse than Bush, SaLuSa’s colleague, Ker-On of Venus, disputes this. “The bullish approach of your last administration is to be replaced,” he tells us, “with one of friendship and desire to broker peace throughout the world. It will come as the people exercise their power, and demand their rights to live in total peace and harmony.” (6)

The galactics were aware of Obama’s overtures to other countries to bring peace to the world as early as 2009:

“Already he is making overtures to foreign powers that would otherwise be considered enemies of the Western World.

“Obama seeks peace instead of hostilities, and knows that he must build trust where previously there was nothing but confrontation. Humanity is being offered the opportunity to consign the past to your history books, and broker a new understanding between each other that leads to friendship and cooperation.” (7)

In early Spring 2012, SaLuSa reported that the cabal were still trying to bring their plan to fruition to cause world war and global chaos. But the galactics will not allow it and look to President Obama to first declare himself as peacemaker and peaekeeper.

“Presently we are occupied with the confrontations in the Middle East, and although it is threatening to lead to war, we state again that it will not be allowed to happen. The New World Order will not be allowed to take advantage of any situation that might lead to one, as we can in any event disable weapons if we so wish. You could say that by our very actions, peace has been declared and an end to war in this cycle.

“It would delight us if your leaders would acknowledge this development, and announce it to the world. President Obama is probably the first one to make a major announcement that clearly indicates his place as a peacekeeper. He is much maligned and blamed for activities beyond his control, but that will all change very soon.” (8)

OBAMA’S FIGHT AGAINST THE ILLUMINATI

The cabal has mounted an incessant campaign against the President, making “continual attempts … to show him in a bad light.” (9) The President “is for the time being outnumbered by those who oppose what he tries to do.” (10) However, he informs us:

“We of the Galactic Federation … are helping those who aspire to lead you out of the present period of chaos.
It is not easy for such souls as the dark cabal still has its minions all over the world, and they are obstacles to getting things done. One who has experienced it is President Obama, the Lighted One.” (11)

SaLuSa reminds us that President Obama has been forced to play a patient game, playing along with the cabal.

“You will see that he has played a patient game to take his opportunity to unseat the dark Ones, and he will use all of his authority to do so. Timing is the essence of success, and that is something we have often stressed.” (12)

“Be aware that he is a great Being of Light, who is having to play a role that requires him to ‘play’ along with the dictates of those who advise him. He has achieved a degree of success even although he has faced opposition all along. He needs your continued support and love, and you will see him blossom and take charge once he can fully implement his own policies without interference.” (13)

SaLuSa tells us that the Galactic Federation gives its main attention to the U.S. and he explains why. He informs us that President Obama is protected.

“Our main focus is on the U.S.A. as it is from here that the lead must be given to the rest of the world. We see a President who has great potential and is spiritually sincere, but has not yet been able to wield the power that is his prerogative. He will bide his time until circumstances allow him to strike out, and we shall protect him against attacks on his person. Leading the Light is setting up a challenge that the dark forces fear, as it will bring people together as never before and they shall demand release from their hold.” (14)

He praises the slow, patient work Obama is doing to bring down the Illuminati:

“He is already taking actions that will aid our allies in bringing the Cabal to answer for their crimes.” (15)

“It will be a gradual reversal of what has gone before, and President Obama is already busy arranging the legal presentation that is necessary. It cannot be undone overnight, but will gather momentum very soon.” (16)

OBAMA’S FUTURE ROLE

SaLuSa tells us that President Obama’s best work is still to come.

“You have been informed from a number sources already that President Obama is the one chosen to lead you through the coming period.

“His work cannot fully commence until the restraints upon him are removed so bear in mind that he is under much pressure to follow the advice he is being given.

“You will see the real man and exalted soul that he is come to the fore when he is able to fully express himself as a Being of Light.” (1)

“His best work is still to come and he is well aware of his destiny to lead the people out of the darkness.” (2)

He predicts that the President will galvanize the people into action towards world peace.

“For many years the Illuminati have used their power to manipulate other countries’ affairs. It has been done through covert actions, so that their influence can bring about changes beneficial to them. The populace, who react against such illegal actions and interference in their sovereignty, knows the truth.

“We ask you Dear Ones who causes insurrection in the first place? Many of you understand such situations, and you look for a leader who will take note of your desire for peace with all nations. We will say again that you have a wonderful soul named Barack Obama, and he is clear in his mind as to what he wants to do given the opportunity. With your continued support he will galvanize people into action, and set the path towards a peaceful world.” (3)

In a future in which the cabal does not figure, President Obama’s actions will be firm and decisive.

“There are days to come when at a single stroke the U.S. President shall astound his critics by the changes he will authorize. No President of late has been one specifically chosen by the people, and therefore his decisions will reflect that aspect of his appointment.

“He is in any event, a highly motivated soul bringing much wisdom and authority with him. He has a great responsibility thrust upon his shoulders, but is equal to the task.” (4)

He reveals that President Obama will be retained when the new governments are set up.

“You will have so much to enjoy in the near future, as you realize that you are being freed from the clutches of the dark Ones. With the governmental changes there will again be some surprises in store for you, as you will see those who are of the Light take positions of power and authority.

“The US Government will still have Barack Obama amongst those retained.” (5)

But Our Support is Crucial

The galactics congratulate us for continuing to hold the President in high regard.

“Dear Ones, you are wonderfully loyal to those you respect and we are pleased that many still hold President Obama in high regard.” (6)

But our support remains crucial, SaLuSa says:

“Support for the new look way of governing is vital; as the dark forces will do all they can to disrupt its progress. Read carefully into reports that twist Obama’s words, as much disinformation will be circulated. Be intuitive, and measure the soul that is Obama by his intentions as expressed with wisdom and love for all people.

“He is charged with a task that holds the future of Mankind in its grasp, and it must not, and cannot fail. His emergence is one that the people of the world can take credit for, as your prayers and longing for a trusted and worthy leader to make peace a reality has been answered.” (7)

And it will be amply repaid, according to him:

“There is a chorus of unsettled people who have already lost patience with President Obama, but look for the positive signs and allow for slow progress until he can draw about him the right team. The future of your world lies with him, and it is support and not criticism that is needed.”

“Your faith in him will not be found wanting, but make allowances for the task that lies ahead. He will not fail, and we are his assurance of successfully coming through this period.” (8)

Conclusion

I myself regard sources like SaLuSa as among the most credible of those available to us. His estimation of President Obama is glowing and their support of him has been unfailing. And his assessment weighs with me.

Most of the world does not know what we know. Many would not believe it if we told them. But our support of him is enough, I think, to give him the strength he needs to complete the defeat of the Illuminati and provide the leadership we need into the new freedom that has been promised us.

Knowing the wider view that only the Company of Heaven can supply us with, I support President Obama wholeheartedly. Their support for the President being unequivocal, so is mine.

The attempts of the cabal to bury the President in a flood of criticism have lost him much support even among lightworkers but in the end they won’t deter or defeat the President.

B: Greg Braden Video Shows Cancer Cure

Hi Russ,

I feel your readers will appreciate this video. I cannot believe I did not see it earlier. I guess I was not ready for it. But I knew, the moment I saw it, it was very real.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fmMNlmn1DP

Once again thank you for all you do.

Namaste Paul

In the above video, Gregg Braden shows cancer being cured in less than 3 minutes using the language of emotion. Using the technology of emotion that's inside all of us and mirror that expectation to the field that's all around us. You must feel the feeling as if it has already happened.

These clips are from a presentation called "Language of the Divine Matrix" recorded in Italy, May 30th 2007.

During the video you will see the screen hidden at times but you are not missing anything since that entire part is shown right before as you will see for yourselves.

Cancer can only manifest if we forget the true nature of who we really are. That is if we don't live our lives the way that is best for us, that is true to us and if we keep doing that for too long. It's not our fault it's come to this. We have been deceived and deluded from the truth about who we really are.

We just have to remember! We are doing that right now all over the planet.

BOOKS:

The Source Field Investigations by David Wilcock. This is the most current source of genuine breakthrough new miracle healing devices and methods, and spiritual truths. Published Dutton, and is available at Amazon.com and most bookstores worldwide.

All 37 of my own Russ Michael spiritual and self-help books are FREE. Anyone anywhere worldwide can download the books at our Golden Key Library at: http://www.goldenkeylibrary.info.
1. Your Soulmate is Calling (published in 9 languages*) Somewhere deep inside every one of us is the knowledge that somewhere—at this very moment—someone special is calling out to us for recognition. Your Soulmate is calling you, wherever on earth he or she resides. Your Soulmate is sending out a distress signal. The essence of his or her signal is: “Where are you? I am waiting here for you. I want you!”

3. The Secret Great White Brotherhood Is life as we know it here upon earth more than a mere accident of nature? Is there a deeper, higher, broader and truer meaning to your life and mine than what we feel or perceive at this moment in space and time? All these important questions - and many more - may fully be answered for you in this volume.

4. There is No Death (booklet)

5a. GOD and MIRACLE HEALTH Part 1

   Part 1 is jam packed with life-saving information on the benefits of Miracle Products, Miracle Services and Miracle Mind.

5b. GOD and MIRACLE HEALTH Part 2

   Part 2 contains all of the “How-To” self-help resources and information to attain Miracle Health, including the story of Jim Humble and his fight against the world’s diseases using his 100 percent effective MMS Product formula. Learn how he battled malaria to discover the formula that has cured 75,000 cases so far.

6. Finding Your Soulmate
This best-selling classic was first published in 1971, when Russ Michael brought the concept of and the actual word “Soulmate” into mass consciousness on Earth. While most books are out of print in a few years, this book is still a top-selling item over 37 years later and read in 12 languages worldwide.

7. Autobiography of an INITIATE on the PATH to IMMORTALITY
The exciting true story about the life and adventures of Russ Michael. If you want to understand more about the powers of the universe, learn from a key world spiritual mentor, himself. Russ Michael shares his personal experiences from a very low point in 1965 when he found himself homeless, barely eking out a daily existence and living in abject poverty, to his experiences founding global companies and traveling the world. This incredible story puts you into the mind of the man who has worked for decades to bring readers The Light.

8. The Secret of Sex and Sexual Attraction
You can draw anyone or any thing to you by the deliberate use of the Law of Attraction and a large personal stock of pheromones. “Your conscious co-creator job on Earth is to learn how to live your life fully in a safe world. In that safe world, you will most aptly find that sex is good. Violence against another is bad, guilt is bad, to judge is bad, regret is bad, and even living in the past is bad - but sex is good!”

9. Soulmates, Twin Rays and Special Lovers
Given a choice (and who does not have free choice?) most of us on Earth today would choose sharing what remains of this day and the remaining days of our physical human life on Earth with a warm, fun-loving Soul-mate or a genuinely blissful Twin Ray or special lover.

10. The Secret Doctrine of the Ancient Mysteries
Through your awareness of these once secret MYSTERIES—and their study and use of the laws outlined within them—you are enabled to escape the old prison house of matter. You realize your true identity as the soul. You find a true recognition of your source as a spirit.

11. FINDING MR. RIGHT OR MRS. RIGHT
Mr. Right or Mrs. Right wants you as much as you want him or her. You only need to know what you really want. Combine that decision with the knowledge you gain here about how to increase your attractiveness or personal magnetism, and you are already moving forward on your way to a really, really bright and RIGHT love relationship! Why not recognize and swiftly cut those painful cords that bind you to the past?
12. The Secret Proven Success Formula to Wealth, Health & True Love
(Published in 3 languages.) All that magic means is the wise use of applied knowledge. The word stems from Magi, wise men from the East. As you read on, you will soon notice that I make many references to law.

13. The Birth of Earth as a Star
End times is not an idle phrase. The old is about to vanish and the new is already starting to begin. What is the END at one level of being is the BEGINNING at another.

14. CHOCOLATE for HEALTH — The Amazing Health Benefits of Chocolate
Russ Michael asks the Queens and Kings of Chocolate to indulge their minds with this new Blockbuster eBook. Now is the perfect time to learn about the amazing health benefits of Chocolate.

15. There is NOTHING You Cannot BE, DO or HAVE (Published in 4 languages, including India/Asia market.) The real gold is found in and through your own creative thought or socially cooperative co-creative ideas coupled with the fire—or the fuel—of a desire for something in you so strong you can taste it.
16. The Mental Room of Mirrors
(Published in 3 languages.) The Room of Mirrors self-therapy technique presented here is indeed a valid precious gift to humanity. I know it well and I am pleased to pass on this powerful healing technique along to humanity in this volume.

17. 100 True RAMTHA Miracle Stories
I wish to personally thank each and all of these grand masters who have shared their experiences with me and whose beautiful, inspiring miracle stories are now here presented to be shared with you.

18. When GOD Speaks, I Listen
Have you noticed in a loud crowd that when someone suddenly speaks up in a soft and quiet voice how everyone now stops talking to listen? That is how God usually speaks, in soft whispers!

19. Why & How of Meditation
As you progress in the art of meditation, you discover—perhaps with astonishment—that the most profound things in life are more simply expressed. A Blockbuster classic!
Read by thousands in print!

20. Eleven Magic Steps to Success
There is nothing you cannot be, do or have. You only need to ASK - and through the sacred heritage of who and what you are, your every request is granted at the moment it is made.

21. Life in the Dead Zone
Death is merely the cessation of three-dimensional motion. It is a personal state of rest that will return to a state of motion again. Rest and motion, or death and life, are now, and have been forever, interwoven.

FINAL NOTE FROM THE AUTHOR SCRIBE...

In addition to my best-seller, Finding Your Soulmate, which is still selling in 12 languages, I have written many self-help books, and currently there are 30 available as eBooks. I invite you to obtain and read them all.

After my death experience at age 18 and in the unfolding due course of my spiritual work, I have received thousands of letters of gratitude from readers of my books and from many grateful attendants of my workshops who have found their soulmates or their Twin Ray life companions, or made their wildest, most impossible dreams come true. A few days ago, I received an email from someone who recently obtained and read my 360-page autobiography.

Dear kindly eBook reader, this is what Carolyn Tester had to say to me about Autobiography of an IMMORTAL. Bless her heart.

I don't think I have ever enjoyed reading anything as I am now doing with your autobiography. I'm now beginning to read slower and slower … as the end of it gets nearer … a habit I've acquired when in a GOOD read.

Love to you and yours,

Carolyn Tester

If you enjoyed this or any other books of mine, please encourage your loved ones, friends and associates to obtain and read them all.
I suggest that you obtain my own Autobiography of an IMMORTAL or any of my current 30 available (soon to be more) BLOCKBUSTER eBooks.
